

A PLATFORM BUT NO CANDIDATE

New Party Organized and Platform Adopted—James Wilks Springs a Surprise on the Delegates.

The delegates to the Labor party convention were conspicuous on the streets yesterday forenoon. They came from all sections of southern Kootenay and Yale, and were as fairly representative of the men who labor for day's wage as were those who attended the Revelstoke convention of the men who look after the business and political interests of the Liberal and the Conservative parties.

The convention was held in Fraternity hall, and called to order by James Wilks of Nelson, who is president of the district association of the Western Federation of Miners, and A. C. Thompson of the Industrial World of Rossland, was chosen secretary pro tem. A committee on credentials was appointed, namely: A. C. Thompson of Rossland, Charles Wilson of Greenwood, Charles McKay of Nelson, H. H. Dimock of Moyie, Percy Johnson of Sandon, W. J. Hughes of Ymir, and Joseph Brandon of Silvertown, and an adjournment was taken until 1 o'clock to allow the committee time to report. When the convention reassembled the committee reported 43 properly accredited delegates in attendance and a number of proxies. The delegates present are:

Rossland—A. C. Thompson, J. J. Hand, John Horrobin, James Devine, Thomas Brownlee, D. McDougall, Rupert Bulmer, John McLaren, A. Ferris, L. E. Curry, E. P. McDonald, Robert Inches. Mr. Inches held two proxies.
Greenwood—James Ellis, Charles Wilson, W. J. Kirkwood. These delegates held four proxies.
Sandon—Percy Johnson, Thos. Duffie. They held two proxies.
Moyie—H. H. Dimock, who held two proxies.
Kimberley—Harry White.
Slocan City—J. V. Provance.
New Denver—D. J. Weir.
Silvertown—Joseph Brandon.
Whitewater—J. J. McDonald.
Ymir—W. J. Hughes.
Kaslo—Duncan McPhail.
Rossland-Nelson—Frank McCann.

Nelson—George Payne, C. Mathews, J. H. Matheson, John Ecker, Thomas Couch, Thomas McKenzie (Mr. McKenzie held a proxy), Edward Blewett, Charles McKay, Jas. Wilks, C. J. Clayton, William McPhee, Robert Robinson, Alexander Murray, C. Anderson, Walter Kay. The temporary officers were made permanent. The question as to whether a candidate should be nominated was declared open for discussion. It is understood that the delegates from Rossland strongly favored making a nomination and the Nelson delegates equally as strongly opposed any such action. James Wilks made a speech in opposition that is reported as an able one. The question, however, was undecided when a motion to adjourn until 8 o'clock was carried.

The convention resumed at 8 o'clock and sat through till 12:45 without reaching the nominating stage. Earlier in the day it was resolved by resolution to form a third party to contest the forthcoming election, and that the new division should be styled the Independent party. On the vote a portion of the Nelson delegation opposed the passage of the resolution strongly. The opposition was headed by James Wilks, secretary of the Miners' union, who made the speech of the convention in support of his position. He was backed up by the delegates of the Bricklayers' and Barbers' unions and by Walter Hughes of Ymir. Despite their efforts the resolution carried by a large majority, most of the delegates voting according to their instructions from the organizations vouching for them. After the division, the resolution to form a party was made unanimous.

About 9:30 a resolution was introduced to the effect that a candidate should be placed in the field. This evoked another earnest discussion. A stout opposition was offered by the section which fought the previous resolution but without avail for the motion went through with practically the same vote. Under this head the question of finances came up and the Rossland delegation was strenuous in support of the contention that a fund ample to meet all legitimate expenses of the campaign could be raised without difficulty. They pledged the Rossland labor unions to give a day's pay per man toward the campaign fund and suggested the adoption of a similar scheme by unions throughout the riding.

The active supporters of the candidate resolution submitted figures showing the strength of organized labor in the riding, and confidence was expressed that the rank and file of labor organizations could be swung into line. This feature was discussed at considerable length.

The balance of the session was spent in drafting a platform, and the delegates put three solid hours on the task.

The platform was finally adopted in the following shape:

- No. 1—Free compulsory education.
- No. 2—A legal working day of eight hours.
- No. 3—Government inspection of all industries.
- No. 4—The abolition of the contract system on all public works.
- No. 5—The public ownership of all franchises, such as railways, telegraphs, waterworks, lighting, etc.
- No. 6—The abolition of Asiatic immigration, the application of the educational test and the abolition of inducements to foreign immigration to settle in the Dominion.
- No. 7—The abolition of child labor by children under 14 years of age.
- No. 8—The adoption of the $250 deposit required of candidates for the Dominion house.
- No. 9—Compulsory arbitration of labor disputes.
- No. 10—Prohibition of prison labor in competition with free labor.
- No. 11—Compulsory exercise of the franchise.

At 12:45 the platform was finally adopted, and the delegates determined to leave the matter of selecting a candidate over till morning. Accordingly an adjournment was made to 9 o'clock, a. m. The balance of the convention's business is to choose a man to carry the Independent Labor Party's banner in the coming struggle. The task is one of no small magnitude, and if the whole truth must be known the delegates were in somewhat of a quandary on the point. Before the convention opened James Wilks was regarded as the best available man, although Chris Foley of Rossland was approached on the subject and would have been strongly supported by the Rossland contingent had he not positively refused to permit his name to be mentioned. Mr. Wilks' stand against a labor party and candidate has set the delegates guessing and none of them could say last night who would be offered the nomination. Had it not been for this feature the candidate would have been selected at last night's sitting. By many of the delegates it was still believed that the nomination should and would be offered to Mr. Wilks, but the respite has given the convention time to look about for another man to fill the vacancy should Mr. Wilks decline. It is said, further, that another desirable man will be placed before the convention if an acceptance is procured for him by wire before this morning's sitting.

The matter will doubtless be settled this morning, as the visiting delegates, particularly the Rossland contingent, desire to return home on this afternoon's trains.

Don't Tempt the Soldiers.

LONDON, October 3.—Lord Wolseley, the commander-in-chief, in an open letter asks the public wishing to honor the returning soldiers to refrain while extending them a hearty welcome from offering them intoxicating liquors, as, like all of us, they are open to temptation. The commander-in-chief also says he trusts the greeting to the brave soldiers will be something more than excitement to excessive drink.

The Villalobos Safe.

WASHINGTON, October 3.—The dispatch from general MacArthur last week announcing the disaster sustained by captain Shields' party on the island of Marindigue left in doubt the fate of the gunboat Villalobos, which had conveyed the troops to Torrijas. In consequence the navy department has been receiving a number of telegrams and letters from friends and relatives of the crew of the gunboat, asking for information as to the affair. A cablegram was sent to rear admiral Kempff at Cavite asking for news, and the following response has been received:

"CAVITE, October 3.—No truth in any unfavorable reports concerning Villalobos or her crew. Manila paper of September 28th published a false report. KEMPF."

THEIR FATE IS UNKNOWN

Boxers Attack a Mission.

TIEN-TSIN, September 5.—Thirty-five miles from Tai Yuan is the British mission Hsion Chon on the great road. There are at Hsion Chon six persons, and their fate is unknown. They were Mr. and Mrs. Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. McCurran and an unmarried man and woman. At the outbreak of the trouble it is thought that the entire party fled to the mountains and escaped safely from the village. Since then no word has been heard of them and their fate is only conjectured.

Owing to the friendliness of the local official at Tai Kua, which is about 20 miles from Tai Yuan, the American board of missions there escaped the first attacks upon foreigners. About July 31st, a band of 800 Boxers swept down upon the place and attacked the mission premises. One of the native missionary assistants was killed and the Boxers, smashing the gates of the compound, effected an entrance. There were six people in the mission with F. Davis, C. D. Williams, D. H. Clapp and wife, Miss Rowen Ford and Miss Susan Partridge. The three men took positions on the roof of the mission building and made a gallant defence until their ammunition was exhausted. The Boxers rushed them and they were cut down, fighting to the last with clubs and guns. The three women then fled to the rear court, where they were found and slain. There was a native woman teacher. The bodies were thrown into the flames of the burning mission building after being beheaded. The heads were taken to Tai Yuan and placed in the baskets on the gates, and it is said the hearts of the men were cut out and carried to Pekin. One hundred native Christians were killed at the same time. These people had no means of resistance and were simply slaughtered.

Among the missionaries whose fate is unknown up to the present are Mr. and Mrs. Ogden of the Swedish mission at Yung Ning Chou. They escaped with their child in a boat, but have not since been heard of. At Chien-Tai two women, Miss Palmer and Miss French, were stationed. They are known to have escaped as far as Hung Tung. Chinese soldiers say that some of the foreigners were killed in that vicinity.

A Rescue at Sea.

BOSTON, Massachusetts, October 3.—The British steamer, Amen, captain Carr, from Samarang, Java, via St. Michaels, arrived this afternoon, having on board the captain and 13 of the crew of the Liverpool ship Ellerslie, which was abandoned at sea and dismantled and waterlogged. The steamer rescued the men on the afternoon of September 29th, after they had been buffeted about by fearful seas for ten days. One member of the crew, John Graham, a native of Glasgow, aged 21, was lost overboard on the morning of September 18th, by falling from aloft, where he had been sent to furl the upper main topsail.

Endorse the Emperor.

LONDON, October 3.—The newspapers here unanimously applaud emperor William's championship of the combined interests of civilization and Christianity, as contained in his reply to the message of the emperor of China. At the same time the commentators find in his majesty's telegram a new bridge upon which the Chinese authorities may approach the demands of the allied powers.

BERLIN, October 3.—The reply is generally regarded as conciliatory. The National Zeitung thinks it affords "an indisputable basis for sober and effective common action on the part of the allies."

THE END NOT YET IN SIGHT

Strike Situation Unchanged.

HAZELTON, Pennsylvania, October 3.—Another day has come and gone without developing anything new in the strike of the anthracite coal miners of Pennsylvania. Today president Mitchell was informed of the wide circulation of a story to the effect that he had reached an agreement with the presidents of the coal mining and coal carrying railroads, and, after verbally denying the report, he issued the following: "To the miners and mine workers of the anthracite region.—We have just been informed that the report has been circulated at Ashland to the effect that in a conference at New York this morning between coal presidents and myself an agreement was reached which will end the strike. I desire to notify all mine workers that the report is incorrect and that I have not been in conference with the presidents of the coal companies, and have no agreement with them."

The strike situation in the Lehigh valley, as far as the number of men on strike is concerned, remains the same. The question of relief is now receiving serious consideration by the United Mine Workers officials.

SHENANDOAH, October 3.—There are no indications of trouble in the Panther Creek valley. General Godin has been informed that a big meeting of mine workers will be held at Lansford tomorrow night. A large number of Hazelton strikers are expected to attend. General Godin says he will be ready if troops are needed.

A BOUNDARY ROW.

VANCOUVER, October 3.—The boundary dispute at Mount Baker has come almost to an international crisis. Yesterday a pack train of goods brought into Chilliwack was seized by American customs officers, who alleged that it crossed into American territory. The goods were for American owned mines, and the American merchants made the trouble on account of losing trade. J. Deane, provincial surveyor, who is endeavoring to locate the boundary line, says it will be definitely fixed next Saturday. It will give Canada two miles more extent of territory than was thought on this side of the line. A post, always thought to mark the boundary, was found half a mile out, and the line run from its direction was consequently erroneous. There is much excitement and bitterness expressed over the seizure of the goods.

THE RETURN OF A PIONEER

Business House Changes Owners.

William Hunter of Silvertown, one of the pioneers of Nelson, has decided to again make a business venture here. He has purchased the stock of the Western Mercantile Company, Limited, doing business in the Aberdeen block as wholesale and retail dealers in groceries and provisions. The deal was completed yesterday, and today the patrons of that well-known and popular store will be doing business with William Hunter & Co.

Mr. Hunter's first business venture in Nelson was as a partner in the International hotel, which stood at the corner of Vernon and Stanley streets, and which was destroyed by fire in the spring of 1894. In the fall of 1891, having sold his interest in the hotel, he started the first general merchandise store opened at New Denver, then the only town in the Slocan. The venture proved a success. He also managed the pioneer steamboat on Slocan lake, a boat that was sold to the Canadian Pacific when that company took over all the steamboats on the Columbia river and Kootenay lake. Mr. Hunter is now interested in the William Hunter Company, Limited, carrying on business as general merchants at Silvertown, Three Forks and Alamo. The business that Mr. Hunter has taken over in Nelson was established by G. A. Bigelow in 1890. In 1897 Mr. Bigelow sold to M. DesBrisay, and he in turn transferred the business to the Western Mercantile Company, Limited, in which company he is the principal shareholder. Mr. DesBrisay is in Nelson making the transfer. While here he made many friends, who wish him good luck in the new field that he has chosen. What is Nelson's loss is Vancouver's gain.

It is understood that Mr. McCammon will remain with William Hunter & Co., and that the business will be in charge of Harry Wilson.

NEWS OF THE ELECTIONS

Little Change in Parliament.

LONDON, October 4, 2 a. m.—The results of yesterday's polling in the parliamentary general elections were less striking than those of Tuesday. The Conservative majorities still show increases in number of contests, but in a less marked degree. On the other hand, the Liberals have gained additional seats. On the whole, the indication this morning is that there will not be much change in the complexion of the new parliament. As matters now stand, out of 287 candidates returned the relative strength of the parties is as follows: Ministerialists, 212; Liberals, including Labor members, 47; Nationalists, 28.

Altogether the Liberals have gained ten seats and the Conservatives seven. Only one Conservative seat was gained yesterday, but it was a very important victory.

In the Brightside division of the field, an industrial constituency held for ten years by the late Anthony J. Mundella, who was succeeded by Fred Maddison in 1897, the Maddison majority of 183 was converted by J. F. Hope, Ministerialist into a Conservative majority of 964.

At Derby the Liberals had a striking success, receiving there the two seats vacated in the general elections of 1895 from Sir William Harcourt and Sir Thomas Roe, by Sir Henry Howe Bamrose and George F. Frey Drage.

The result of the election in Methy Tydvil district of Wales was as follows: David A. Thomas, Liberal, 8598; James Keir Hardie, Labor, 5745; William Pritchard Morgan, Liberal, 4004. The Labor party thus gains a seat from the Liberals by the defeat of Mr. Morgan. The latter is well known in America in connection with mining affairs in China and elsewhere.

The report of the poll at Westminster was Mr. Burdett Coutts, Conservative, 2715; Mr. Smith, Conservative, 439. At the last election Mr. Burdett Coutts was unopposed.

The Liberals retain their seats in Dundee with majorities showing that Scotland has not been affected by the Khaki boom. Gilbert Parker, the Canadian novelist, has been elected to Gravesend, securing a Unionist majority of 738 over the Liberal candidate, Hildebrand Harmsworth. A curious accident prevents the result at Newcastle, where captain Lambton of the British cruiser Powerful is standing, from becoming known tonight. It seems that a cab horse bolted and overturned and smashed one of the ballot boxes.

T. S. Brasse, Liberal, who was defeated by 84 votes at the last general election, has reduced that majority to three in his contest with major Balfour, the present Unionist candidate, and the Liberals have demanded a scrutiny of the votes.

The notable triumph of Mr. Burdett-Coutts at Westminster is regarded by the Liberals as almost equivalent to a victory for themselves.

Mr. Bell has been very prominent in railway disputes, and Derby is a great railway centre.

Sir Ellis Ashmead Bartlette, Conservative, has been re-elected for the ecclesiastical division of Sheffield with an increased majority.

The following is the result of the polling in London: Sir Thomas Roe, Liberal, 7917; Richard Bell, Laborite, 7640; Sir Henry Howe Belluse, Conservative, 7389; Geoffrey Drake, Conservative, 6776. Mr. Belluse is the general secretary of the Amalgamated Society of Railway Solvents. The outcome, therefore, is one Liberal and one Laborite elected.

Venezuela Congress.

CARACAS, Venezuela, October 3.—Prest Castro has issued a proclamation convening the congress of Venezuela for February 2nd next.

A SMELTER FOR CRAWFORD CREEK

May Be Built in the Near Future—News From Milling and Mining Centers.

A smelter at Crawford creek is among the enterprises which events of the next twelve months may bring forth. The proposition exists now in the calculations of the London Consolidated and Richelieu mining companies, now operating extensively on Crawford creek, and they are prepared to go into the matter on a proper basis if their properties turn out to be as good as existing circumstances indicate.

The Silver Hill mine promises to become one of the most extensive shippers in the district. This winter 5000 tons will be shipped from the Silver Hill, and more too, if a larger quantity can be handled while the snow lasts. The crew at the mine will be employed largely in driving a main tunnel 1000 feet long, which is figured to tap several large leads and to develop the main ore body. When this is completed the company will know what its production can be brought to, and the smelter proposition will be disposed of.

There are various points along Crawford creek which will afford ideal smelter sites. Splendid water power, fine timber, an abundance of lime rock in the immediate vicinity and easy grades are available, and the institution would draw largely from silver-lead properties along the lake which are now shipping to Nelson and Trail. The plant at the Pilot Bay smelter might be utilized, and the management figure that an outlay of $250,000 would give them a smelter in first-class shape. Henry Roy of Rossland, manager of the London Consolidated and Richelieu, was in Nelson yesterday, leaving during the afternoon for Crawford creek.

T. G. Procter returned yesterday from Silvertown where he completed arrangements for the prosecution of development on the Silvertown Boy group. Work has been under way for some time and the property is showing up well. A crew of seven men is at present engaged, and the number is to be increased as the work progresses.

The Silvertown Boy adjoins the Emily Edith, and in referring to this property Mr. Procter says: "Mr. Rammelmeyer was kind enough to show me over the camp, and from my observations I should say that in the event of the lower levels now under way exposing as good an ore body as that tapped by the upper workings, the Emily Edith will become one of the most extensive silver-lead propositions in the Slocan. The crew at the mine numbers forty. Two tunnels are already completed and two other tunnels are being run to tap the lead at 100 foot levels respectively. Upraises are also being driven to supply the mine with air and to drop ore into the lower levels. The Emily Edith camp is very properly regarded as one of the most comfortable in the Kootenays. The bunk house is large and includes card, writing and reading rooms, bath rooms equipped with hot and cold water, and individual sleeping apartments. The camp is now being wired for electric lighting."

Some ore has been shipped from the Emily Edith. Such ore as has been taken out was mined in the course of development only, no stopping having been done. It is generally understood that the management contemplates erecting a concentrator in the spring. The property has a particularly favorable location from the standpoint of transportation facilities; the estimate for teaming ore to Slocan lake being about 75 cents per ton.

A deal is pending by which a good company will probably take over the Royston group, one of the properties on Morning mountain located by J. L. Stanford and others. The group includes the Skene Day, Nellie Royston, Royston fractional and Barrie claims. It adjoins the Venus group, the Royston claim running to the line of the Cosmopolitan claim. The property is intersected by Smelter creek from which a fair supply of water can be procured. A three-foot lead of free-milling ore runs southeast across the claims and has been traced for 600 feet. In appearance the ore resembles other Morning mountain rock, and will pan gold everywhere. A small crew is at work tunneling on the ledge, which is a well defined contact.

A private dispatch from Toronto states that at a meeting of the directors of the Venus company it was unanimously decided to equip the property with a ten-stamp mill at once. The inference is that an order for the plant will be placed at once, as the directors are said to be anxious to have the mill operating as early as possible.

The first heavy snowfall of the season at the Silver King fell yesterday. Captain J. R. Gifford came down the hill and stated that the road was covered over half the way. Development is progressing smoothly at the King, and it is expected that rapid progress will be made after the new machinery is installed. The first shipment of the new plant is expected about the 10th instant.

William H. Sandford of the Bosun mine has taken up eight or ten claims on Four-mile creek for a syndicate which includes a number of parties interested in the Bosun company. The claims are being thoroughly prospected, the syndicate, having a number of men at work.

Yesterday 2000 pounds of provisions were sent to Procter to be packed up Procter creek to the Elgin group, which is under bond to the Manchester, England, syndicate, represented by T. G. Procter. A small crew of men will be kept at work on the property all winter. A tunnel is being run on the ledge and a good showing of carbonates carrying ore has been found. The clean ore runs 100 ounces of silver and a heavy percentage of lead. If a good ore body is encountered the group will be a splendid property.

J. M. Martin of Rossland was in Nelson last evening en route home from the Slocan. He owns the Dolly Varden claim on the north fork of Carpenter creek and has brought down a ton of ore from the property to be tested at the Trail smelter. Mr. Martin states that he has an excellent showing of ore, and if the smelter test proves satisfactory considerable additional work will be done on the property.

Withdrawal of Troops.

TIEN-TSIN, via Taku, October 3.—The American forces will not participate in the Shan Hai Kuan expedition. The order sending a detachment of United States marines with the allied forces has been revoked. The allies do not expect any opposition. They have been advised that the authorities of Shan Hai Kuan have been instructed to capitulate.

General Chaffee and the commander of the Russian troops have formally notified field marshal count von Waldersee of the withdrawal of the American and Russian troops respectively. The United States marines will proceed to Cavite.

The movement of Indian troops will begin in ten days. The British and Germans continue sending troops to Pekin. There are renewed preparations for an expedition in force against Pao Ting Fu. The troops will probably leave in a fortnight, and columns from Pekin will co-operate with the expedition. Resistance is expected, as the Boxers are there in large numbers.

Patchen Wins.

ST. LOUIS, Missouri, October 3.—The $3500 pacing match between Joe Patchen and Cony at the fair grounds today resulted in a victory for Patchen in two straight heats. Time 2:05 and 2:04.

The Tribune.

THE Economist says the newspapers of this great constituency are singularly silent regarding the merits of the two candidates now before the electorate for their suffrages. It is strange, but it is true.
Newspapers, like lawyers, require a retaining fee before beginning work. Both candidates are lawyers, but they evidently do not do unto others as they would have others do unto them.

With its desirable building sites, its splendid stretches of water, its grand cascades, its great mountains and its glorious climate, Nelson should be the chief city in the province of British Columbia. And it will be, if her people have only the courage to take chances. Nelson can be the manufacturing as well as the commercial center of all of the province that is situate east of the Cascade range of mountains.

THE TRIBUNE is a strictly independent newspaper and is not giving any advice in the present campaign; but notwithstanding this, it will give the Grits a "tip" without charge. It is as follows: Begin work on the new government buildings throughout the constituency at once, and more particularly the one that is to be built at the southeast corner of Vernon and Ward streets, Nelson.

Make Them Pay a License.
Nelson Economist.

There is considerable discussion as to the propriety of imposing a license fee on representatives of big eastern wholesale houses doing business in Nelson. These gentlemen pay the city periodical visits, book liberal orders and clear out the money they spend is represented on their hotel bills—a few dollars. We have numerous wholesale houses here paying city taxes and distributing thousands of dollars annually in Nelson and giving employment to many hands. We do not mean to say that they should enjoy an exclusive monopoly, but it certainly looks unfair that rivals in trade, who do not contribute a cent to the revenue of the city, should be at liberty to come and go as they like, and pay nothing for the privilege of doing a handsome business here. By all means make these gentry pay a license.

NEWS OF ORGANIZED LABOR.

A country without strikes is not an imaginary land where someone's pet theories are supposed to be put into practice with imaginary results. New Zealand, which for years has been among the more advanced of those political laboratories where experiment and theories regarding the betterment of the conditions of the human race are being put to the practical test is the country without strikes, of which Mr. Lloyd, a well known United States writer on labor topics, writes. In order that his readers might have the benefit of the widest possible knowledge of the plans which apparently are so successful in New Zealand, Mr. Lloyd spent last year in that country. Moreover, his former studies along similar lines in America and England make him an unquestioned authority. The book is peculiarly timely, and contains suggestions which might well be taken up by those whose duty it is to legislate for the greatest good of the greatest number.

About ten years ago New Zealand had a strike which almost plunged the country into civil war. To prevent the recurrence of labor difficulties, not less terrible in their results than war itself, those whose duty it was to legislate for the people determined to adopt any measures, however bold or novel, which would put an end to the conflict between capital and labor. Accordingly, the minister of labor, the Hon. William Pember Reeves, made a careful study of the legislation in the different countries of the world designed to harmonize the laborer and capitalist. The working of their industrial conciliation and arbitration tribunals was carefully examined by him, with the conclusion that in England, throughout Europe, America and Australia voluntary arbitration had failed for generations. There was but one conclusion, and the new thing suggested was compulsory arbitration. Mr. Lloyd gives its main points as follows:

1. It applies only to industries in which there are trade unions.
2. It does not prevent private conciliation or arbitration.
3. Conciliation is exhausted by the state before it resorts to arbitration.
4. If conciliation is unsuccessful, the disputants must arbitrate.
5. Disobedience of the award may be punished or not at the discretion of the court.

The compulsion of the law is three-fold—compulsory publicity, compulsory reference to a disinterested arbitrator—provided the disputants will not arbitrate voluntarily, compulsory obedience to the award. It does not forbid or prevent disputes, but makes the antagonists fight their battles in court according to a legal code instead of the ordinary "rules of war."

There are two kinds of tribunals—boards of conciliation and a court of arbitration, and in both the workingmen and the employers are equally represented by men of their own choice. There is a board of conciliation to every "industrial district," and the country is divided into as many industrial districts by the governor general as seems advisable. There is but one court of arbitration for the whole country. The court of arbitration consists of three persons, who hold for three years, appointed by the governor general, and of three appointees. One must be chosen by him from men nominated by the workingmen and one from men nominated by the capitalists. The third is a judge of the supreme court.

Among other provisions no attorney general is allowed to appear before the boards or court except by consent of both parties, which is "practically never given." Precaution is taken to prevent injurious publicity to the secrets of the business. Pending the decision by the court of arbitration there can be no strike or lockout, nor must one be entered upon; to forestall such intervention except it can be made clear to the court that the business has been stopped because it was unprofitable.

The conclusion arrived at by Mr. Lloyd is compulsory arbitration has been a success in New Zealand because the people wanted to arbitrate. In exhausting private effort to establish arbitration they became educated up to compulsory arbitration. It does not follow from this, according to Mr. Lloyd, that compulsory arbitration would succeed in other countries, "for a people not yet developed enough for the majority to seek to arbitrate voluntarily" would be folly. He does not claim that all capitalists are satisfied, nor that all laborers are satisfied, but the New Zealand claims that all are at work though not satisfied, and that compulsory arbitration law works "steadily as a force to honesty in trade."

While admonishing the reader to remember that New Zealand is the only country in the world which has inaugurated a compulsory arbitration law, he is of opinion that similar laws might operate differently in different countries.

The Bookbinders' International Union, according to the reports of its officers submitted at the recent Cleveland convention, has made rapid gains in membership in the past two years. Seventeen new local unions have been established and nearly forty per cent gain is noted in the general membership. An effort is to be made to organize the women workers in the trade.

The United States census of 1890 shows that 22,700,000 persons over ten years of age are engaged in gainful occupations. Of these 18,000,000 are males and 3,900,000 females.

Charles Wilson, of the Tailors' Union, Rossland, now located at Greenwood, British Columbia, has been appointed organizer for the American Federation of Labor for the Boundary country.

An investigation by the statistical society of Great Britain proves that whereas in 1800 the unemployed numbered 2.70 per cent, in 1899 they totalled 3.25 per cent. From the report we learn when money wages rose employment and marriages rose and indoor pauperism fell. When wages fell all fell but indoor pauperism. "That shows," continues the report, "how perilously near to the line of dependence the majority of workmen live."

The various national organizations, as well as the American Federation of Labor, continue to report a steady and sure growth both in membership and financial strength despite unfavorable trade conditions and many big strikes in different sections of the country.

British delegates to the American Federation of Labor convention this year will be Peter Curran of the glassworkers, and John Weir,
