PUTS PATRIOTISM BEFORE POLITICS

Joseph Chamberlain Makes Such Announcement—Wyndham on Army Reform.

LONDON, October 2nd, 3 a.m.—Late last evening Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, secretary of state for the colonies, sent to the editor of the Birmingham Daily Mail the following message to the nation which was conspicuously displayed on the screen where the paper was announcing the results of the polling: "Patriotism before politics. May the union between the colonies and the Motherland now cemented by blood be forever maintained."

Considerable interest attached to the speech at Derby of Mr. George Wyndham last evening because it had been semi-officially announced that the parliamentary under secretary of state for war would outline the government's proposals as to army reform. The chief points in the speech were that the home secretary should have a higher training instead of being regarded as a mere training ground for the supply of the foreign army and that greater opportunities should be given for home maneuvers on an adequate war scale.

Rumors are current this morning that the marquis of Lansdowne, secretary of state for war, will succeed earl Cadogan as lord lieutenant of Ireland.

A rowdy meeting at Westminster last evening was addressed by the secretary of state for India, lord George Hamilton, and by lord mayor Newton. The latter's son, after ejecting a disturber, was savagely attacked. His head was forced through a glass panel and he received a severe scalp wound and other injuries.

The earl of Portsmouth, who, as viscount Lymington, formerly represented Barnstable in the house of commons, has formally withdrawn from the Liberal Unionist Association on the ground that Liberal Unionism no longer means anything but Conservatism.

The editorials on both sides this morning express satisfaction over yesterday's returns, which the Daily Mail asserts prove that there is no khaki boom.

THE STREET IMPROVEMENTS

Council Decides to Continue Work.

The macadamizing work on Baker street will not be stopped at Stanley street. The city council resolved last night that the work would be continued to Kootenay street at least, and that a further extension to the London & B. C. Goldfields' offices would be authorized later if circumstances are propitious. It was agreed by the aldermen that the work ought to be done and that it could be accomplished at the present time, when a portion of the material had already been taken out of the quarry and a carefully selected staff of men was available, to much greater advantage than at any future date. Accordingly when aldermen Morrison and Irvine moved that the work be continued, the resolution was unanimously carried.

Cane & Macdonald, architects, wrote on behalf of a client, requesting that the sidewalk on Water street be raised to grade and the roadway repaired. This was referred to the board of works.

A request that the sidewalk on Hoover street should be continued to the corner of Hall and Observatory streets to accommodate citizens resident in the vicinity was also referred to the board of works.

The bylaw regulating the weight of bread offered for sale in Nelson was finally reconsidered and passed. In future bakeries will be required under this bylaw to make loaves of one pound weight, and all loaves found by the police under this weight, save where the bread is over 24 hours old, when an allowance of one ounce is made, will be confiscated, and the penalty provided enforced.

Attention was called to the fact that sidewalks were seriously damaged at many points by teamsters driving across and breaking through the planks. Where alleys open on the street the planks are laid lengthways to prevent this, but the complaint is made that teamsters drive over the sidewalks at their own sweet pleasure, regardless of alleys or crossings. The practice will be stopped.

On motion of aldermen Irvine and Arthur it was resolved to lay a crossing across Stanley street on the North side of Hoover street in compliance with the request of a number of ratepayers.

Aldermen Hall and Morrison moved that a sidewalk be laid to best advantage on the east side of Cedar street where a number of fine residences have been erected during the summer. Carried.

Alderman Morrison brought up the matter of opening the lane in block 15, between Ward and Josephine street. The construction of the new sidewalk on the north side of Silicia street prevents wagons from reaching the rear of houses in the block, and the residents desire the lane to be opened out. No definite action was taken, as the proposition probably involves the construction of a bridge over Ward creek which intersects the block. The city engineer was authorized to figure on blasting out the rock necessary to open the east end of the lane if the material can be utilized on Baker street.

Chief Thompson presented his quarterly report of the fire department, recording the number of alarms during the quarter at 12, with an aggregate loss of $4800. He recommended that the strength of the department be increased to 18 men. The report was adopted.

The members present at the session were: Mayor Houston, aldermen Arthur, Morrison, Hall, Irvine and McKillop.

RAILROAD SERVICE CHANGES

President Hill to Visit Nelson.

James N. Hill, president of the Spokane Falls & Northern railroad, and of the Kootenay Railway & Navigation Company, will be in Nelson for a short time today. Mr. Hill is coming in over the Nelson & Bedlington to Kootenay Landing, from whence his private car will be brought to Nelson by the tug Ymir and switched to the Nelson & Fort Sheppard track over the Crow's Nest siding. It is presumed that the president's visit is in connection with the establishment of a daily service over the Nelson & Bedlington, connecting with the north by the steamer Kaslo, and with Nelson by the International line.

The C. P. R. will withdraw the Imperial Limited on the 13th instant, and on midnight of that day a new schedule takes effect on the Pacific division. On the Nelson section the time card will probably be almost identical with that of last winter. The steamer Nelson will be withdrawn from the run to Kootenay Landing and tied up here. The Moyie will leave for the Landing about midnight and return on the following day about 7:30 p.m. The night train from Rossland will be brought in here about 2 o'clock instead of 8:30 as at present. In the Boundary country a passenger service is to be arranged between Eholt and Phœnix, and main line trains will probably be run through to Midway instead of stopping over night at Greenwood as heretofore.

John Hepburn starts work today on the new C. P. R. passenger depot. A crew of men was engaged yesterday in breaking ground for the building, the gravel taken off the flat being utilized for surfacing the grade on Baker street from the Sherbrooke house to the new station yard with a view to improving the teaming facilities.

A freight train is to be put on temporarily between Nelson and Rosebery. The pressure of business on the branch is heavy enough to warrant this move.

CONCESSIONS TO MINERS

Offered by Operators.

PHILADELPHIA, October 1.—The mine operators of the Wyoming, Lackawanna and Lehigh regions today at a meeting at Wilkesbarre followed yesterday's action of the Reading company in offering an increase of 10 per cent in wages to the mine workers. They furthermore decided to reduce the charge for powder from $2.75 to $1.50 per keg. The latter price has prevailed at the Reading company's mines for a long time.

The action of the Wilkesbarre meeting means an increase of 10 per cent to all mine workers except miners. The latter will earn an increase of about 10 per cent by reason of the reduced cost of powder.

The meeting was attended by representatives of all the leading railroad companies which own mines in the regions named. Some of the independent operators opposed the proposed increase unless the coal carrying companies reduce the tolls on their product to tidewater. The strikers, however, show no indication of accepting the offer.

No Settlement as Yet.

HAZELTON, Pennsylvania, October 1.—It was expected in some quarters that today would bring a turning point in the strike but nothing came to the surface that would lead to an indication of the strike nearing an end. Since the operators began to hold conferences president Mitchell is receiving more information than formerly and giving out less. That he knows more about the situation than he cares to tell is hardly doubted by anyone. He has practically admitted that he received advices from New York as to the doings of the operators. There is still a lack of anything tangible on which to base the report of an immediate settlement. President Mitchell continues to deny that he knows anything about it.

Operators Make a Concession.

HAZELTON, Pennsylvania, October 1.—Notices of increase in wages and the reduction in the price of powder, decided upon by the operators at Wilkesbarre today, were posted at all of the colleries in the Lehigh region. President Mitchell, when shown a copy of the notice, declined to say anything at this time, but intimated that he might outline his position at the Wilkesbarre mass meeting tomorrow. He added, however, that there would be no resumption of work until a conference with the anthracite miners had been called and the proposition considered.

Ex-President Harrison Non-Committal.

UTICA, New York, October 1.—Ex-president Harrison, his wife, little daughter Elizabeth, and other members of his party spent half an hour in Utica this afternoon en route from his camp in the Adirondacks to New York. He was greeted by several hundred people and appeared to be in the best of health. General Harrison said he expected to remain in New York about ten days and that he would go from that city to his home in Indianapolis. "I do not know as yet," he said, "as to whether I shall take part in the present campaign. I have been in camp Beverley in the woods all summer and I can say nothing about the political situation. I have heard but one side of it and about all I know concerning the matter is what I have read in the papers."

Boston Militia Visit Montreal.

MONTREAL, October 1.—The Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company of Boston arrived here this morning on a two days' visit. They were received at the station by a guard of honor and the mayor and council. After the mayor had welcomed the company, it marched to the Windsor hotel, where an informal reception was held.

Germany Denies It.

BERLIN, October 1.—The statement published in Paris that France, Russia and Germany have arrived at a complete understanding in regard to the retention of troops at Pekin, and that Germany abandons her demand for the punishment of the instigators of the outrages before the peace negotiations begin is officially denied here.

AMERICAN DEFEAT AT BOAC

Filipinos Still Active.

MANILA, September 28.—(Via Hong Kong).—Persistent native reports, which are generally believed, have been current in Manila for several days to the effect that captain Devereaux Shields and company "F" of the Twenty-ninth regiment of infantry, consisting of 54 men, stationed at Boag, Marindigue island, embarked September 13th on the gunboat Villaloboas and landed on the Marindigue coast on September 14th, where 300 of the enemy, armed with rifles, supposedly from Luzon, surprised the Americans. The latter fought for several hours until their ammunition was exhausted, after which they were overpowered and surrendered, relief being impossible. At least four of the soldiers were killed, among whom, according to reports, was captain Shields. The Americans also had several wounded. Lieutenants Reeves and Bates of the staff on board the gunboat Yorktown left Manila Monday. After gathering troops at Batangas they proceeded to Marindigue to verify the reports regarding the fate of captain Shields and his men, and in case the native rumors were well founded to punish the rebels and release the captives. News from this expedition is awaited with some anxiety.

WHITEWATER MINERS WIN.

WHITEWATER, October 1.—[Special to The Tribune]—The strike at the Whitewater mine was adjusted today, after the men had been out twenty-four hours. The difficulty was occasioned by the attempt of the management to cut timbermen's wages from $3.50 to 3.25 per day. The manner in which this was attempted was by the management insisting upon its right to employ a helper for every timberman working in the mine, such men being paid $3.25. This proved unsatisfactory and a deputation of the miners waited upon the management and explained that better results could be secured by the employment of experienced timbermen at an all round scale of $3.50 rather than by employing green hands as helpers at 3.25. The management refused to recognize the union in the matter, with the result that the men were called out. The most surprising thing in connection with this was that even the non-union men, who were brought into the camp from Minnesota, came down the hill with the members of the union. It was a complete tie-up, over 25 cents per day for four timber men. The scale of $3.50 for timbermen was that which was agreed upon between the miners and the mine managers of the Slocan during the recent trouble, and after the Whitewater miners were out twenty-four hours the management conceded their demands and work was resumed.

Death From Gas Explosion.

OLEAN, New York, October 1.—A Smithport, Pennsylvania, special to the Times says that Mr. Haynes, a married man 26 years old, was killed yesterday by a natural gas explosion which wrecked his house. Haynes smelled escaping gas and began making a search of his house to find it. Opening a door, the gas which had evidently been escaping from an open jet, rushed out and ignited on a gas stove that was burning near where Haynes stood. A violent explosion which wrecked a portion of the house, knocked Haynes down and setting his clothes on fire. He died soon after. His wife, who was the only other other occupant in the house, escaped.

Russian Troops Victorious.

ST. PETERSBURG, October 1.—The war office announces that dispatches from Khabourask and Kharbin say general Tschitshagoff and colonel Kopeiken with a detachment of Cossacks, railroad troops and volunteers engaged a force of Chinese who had occupied the railroad at Sanchakan. The Russians won two obstinate fights. Forty-three dead Chinese were left in the trenches after the second engagement.

RETURN OF PASTOR FREW

Interesting Story of Travel.

Rev. Robert Frew, pastor of St. Paul's Presbyterian church, returned yesterday from his five months' trip to Europe. His health is greatly improved and he will resume the pastorate of the church at once. Mr. Frew had an interesting trip and the citizens of Nelson will have an opportunity of listening to some of his experiences in a lecture on the Passion Play of Oberammergau and the Catacombs of Rome.

On leaving Nelson in May last Mr. Frew went to Colorado Springs and after a brief stay proceeded to New York and sailed for Liverpool. His itinerary from there included the following points, London, Amsterdam, Antwerp, Brussels, Waterloo, Cologne, Weisbaden, Munich, Oberammergau, Rigi, Milan, Venice, Rome, Naples, Pompeii, Capri, Sorrento, Genoa, Lucerne, Paris and Aberdeen, Scotland.

"Quite the most interesting thing I saw in Europe," said Mr. Frew, referring to his trip, "was the Passion Play. You might imagine that it would be a crude production and I expected to be more or less disgusted. The very reverse proved to be the case. The play was presented in a most finished manner, and the peasants who appeared in the production were so deeply devotional that one could not fail to be deeply impressed.

"At Rigi in Switzerland I had the novel experience of ascending the Rigi mountain on the electric railroad now under construction. The ascent takes one through the clouds and you would think you had reached the point where the elements are manufactured.

"I stayed several days in Paris, devoting all my attention to the exposition which I believe is superior to any of the international exhibitions of recent years. The Canadian exhibit is quite one of the best at the exposition. The mineral department was first class and the British Columbia section prominently displayed. A feature of the Canadian building which attracted great interest was the extensive display of stoves made by Canadian manufacturers. These were so immensely superior to the stoves in use in Europe that I am sure Canadian stoves will be in large demand on the continent and in England particularly. The Canadian building is well supplied with attendants who can guide parties in French or English, a feature in which Canada outclasses all other countries represented.

"Next to the Canadian exhibit in point of interest I placed the Russian building.

"The great feature here is the Trans-Siberian railroad exhibit. A train of cars, alleged to be representative of the rolling stock on the road, is shown. They are on the American plan and in point of decoration surpass anything I have seen in America. From the windows of this train you see a panorama of Siberia which looks much the same as the Northwest Territories. The rates on the road are to be low, and a British Columbian could cross the Pacific, take the Trans-Siberian road at Vladivostock and proceed to St. Petersburg for about the same outlay required to cross America and the Atlantic.

"One feature of the exposition is most objectionable to Britons. In the Transvaal exhibit is a large statue of Krüger, on which fresh wreaths are being placed daily. The wreaths have inscriptions lauding Oom Paul as a patriot fighting oppressors, and so on. I was surprised that the exposition authorities would permit this, but finally discovered that the attitude of the French is anything but friendly toward the British."

After leaving Paris Mr. Frew went to Aberdeen, Scotland, and was the guest of lord and lady Aberdeen at Haddo house for a week.

Roosevelt in Nebraska.

McCOOK, Nebraska, October 1.—In governor Roosevelt's first day in Nebraska 13 speeches were made during the journey. Probably 30,000 or 40,000 were addressed. Governor Roosevelt's special train remained at McCook until late in the night, when it pulled out for North Platte. Tomorrow's journey will cover a distance of 600 miles and will include within that distance 11 speeches. Tomorrow night a journey will be made to Broken Bow, at which point the train will arrive at 8 o'clock in the morning.

SALE OF THE PRINCESS PROPERTY

Mining and Milling Matters in and About Nelson—Activity All Along the Line.

An important mining deal was closed yesterday when Hamilton G. Neelands and A. J. Gerrard of Nelson affixed their signatures to articles conveying the Princess mining claim to Minneapolis capitalists who recently visited Nelson. The consideration was $30,000. The Princess is located on the Hall Mines wagon road, 3½ miles from the city and is regarded as an unusually promising property. The former owners did about 400 feet of shaft and tunnel work exposing excellent showings. Two rich leads cross the Princess. One is the Exchequer ledge, four feet in copper, gold and silver, carrying values of $60 to $70. The second lead is 8 feet wide, largely in copper, with a trace of gold and averaging $35, while $70 ore is encountered in places. It is expected that work will be commenced on the Princess by the new owners in about thirty days.

Further particulars regarding the May and Jennie deal are to hand. The new owners are the United Goldfields of British Columbia, Limited, a new company, which is now making the first of a series of extensive investments in this province. The capital represented is held in England and France, the company's British Columbia representative and managing director being J. J. Fleutot. The option on the property, which includes the May and Jennie, Red Top, Gold Bell, Tip Top and Golden Giant claims, was filed at the recorder's office yesterday. The group has an unusually large lead of medium grade free milling ore. The figure at which the transfer was made is not announced by the principals but is reported on good authority to be in the neighborhood of $100,000.

The Hartney mine will shortly be added to the list of Slocan shippers. H. A. Higbie of Wellsville, New York, one of the directors of the company, was in the city yesterday and states that the property is showing up splendidly. For a year a crew of 15 to 20 men has been at work, and 1400 feet of development has been done. The Hartney adjoins the Marion group on the southeast, and the Bosun lies immediately below. The Marion vein has been traced across the Hartney, but development has been confined to the Hartney vein proper, which parallels and is a clean, straight lead, averaging five feet in width, with values of 125 ounces of silver and 73 per cent of lead. A trial shipment of twenty tons from this lead was made last spring to Trail and netted the company $1100. A considerable increase in depth has been obtained with a corresponding gain in values. A wagon road is to be commenced at once to tap the Bosun, Hartney and Marion. The management of the Hartney figure on shipping during the winter a considerable amount of clean ore which has collected on the dump during development. "We regard our property as more or less of a prospect as yet," says Mr. Higbie, "but believe it has shown up as well as anything in the vicinity for the number of men employed and the time it has been worked. We are satisfied with the outlook and believe the Hartney is about to be classed as a mine." Mr. Higbie leaves today for the east, having spent three months in the Slocan.

One of the districts in the vicinity of Nelson which has seen more activity in the mining line this year than ever before is that section on the divide at the head of Falls and Sproule creeks. The section was staked in 1896, but no work of any account was done until this summer when several groups of claims were worked for several months. W. J. McKernnan, one of the owners of the Royal Irish group, was registered at the Royal hotel yesterday. The property he is working includes the Royal Irish, Effie L., Kathleen and Cherry claims, most of the summer's work being done on the Royal Irish. He is now drifting on an eight-foot lead of medium grade ore and is in 100 feet in ore. Among the Nelson men interested in the vicinity are Robert Elliott, Oscar Johnson, George Thurman and T. Moran.

The Red Rock claim on the Hall Mines road is turning out very satisfactorily, the assessment just recorded having demonstrated that the lead which was six inches wide on the surface increases to fifteen inches a few feet below with a gradual extension which indicates further improvement with depth. The claim adjoins the Princess and is owned by J. H. Love who has several fine specimens at his Baker street office. Some of these from the surface run 30 per cent copper and 50 ounces silver, while others show colors of free gold.

A few specimen of ore from the Achilles group on Kokanee creek is exhibited at Vanstone's store. The property is owned by R. W. Willey and partner, the former being one of the original owners of the Molly Gibson. The Achilles adjoins the Molly Gibson claims and is said to have a fine showing of ore. The specimen exhibited runs 50 per cent in lead and 700 ounces of silver. It is understood that the property has been inspected recently by a possible purchaser.

John McLatchie, P. L. S., returned yesterday after surveying the site for the mill which the management of the Molly Gibson mine have in contemplation for next spring. The tramway construction gang is stretching the 8,500 foot wire cable along the hill so that no time will be lost when the standards are completed.

The Wilson brothers are having a new trail cut to the Bird's Eye property. The old trail via the Athabasca has proved to be too heavy for the heavy transport required by the staff at work now, and the new route will run in from the Venus camp, thus taking advantage of the Venus wagon road.

At the mining recorder's office yesterday notice was filed that Louis Will of Syracuse, New York, holds an option on the Standard, Yellow Jacket and Touch-Me-Not claims located six miles from Robson on the east side of the Columbia river and owned by Clarence B. Etnier and others of Rossland.

UNION MEN TO DO BUSINESS

Co-Operative Store for Rossland.

ROSSLAND, October 1.—Rossland will have a new store on or about the first of next month. It is to be started by the miners and other union men of the city. It will be a co-operative concern and will deal exclusively in groceries and provisions to begin with. As soon as that department is firmly established it is intended to add other lines until all branches of retail trade are fully covered. The company has been incorporated under the name of the Rossland Co-operative Society, limited, and the following officers have been elected: President, Robert Inches; secretary-treasurer, William Verran; trustees, James Devine, Thomas Crow, M. E. Doherty, W. R. Baker, W. W. B. Collins and John McLaren. About 30 members have already joined the society and some $4000 have been subscribed in $5 shares. The promoters are all wage earners. There is no limit fixed for the company's capital, but no individual can hold more than 100 shares in his own name. Eight per cent is the limit of dividends on sales and interest on stock. The society will do a purely cash business, but stockholders will be given 30 days' credit to the amount of 75 per cent of the value of their stock. The society will sell to the general public as well as to its own members and at the same prices.

The Tribune.

THE Labor party have at least shown wisdom in one thing—they have picked the finest town in Kootenay at which to hold their convention. If they are as wise in their deliberations on Wednesday the party will be a political factor in the future.

THE Miner seems to be well posted as to what will be done by the Labor men on Wednesday. It says that a majority of the delegates are pledged to vote for James Wilks, and that he will be the candidate. Is the Miner preparing to flop? Will it drop candidate MacNeill and support candidate Wilks? Stranger things have happened.

THE city council last night decided to continue work on Baker street for another block, or to the Bank of Montreal corner; and when that block is finished, if it is deemed advisable, the work will be continued as far as the London & British Columbia Goldfields building. This action was not taken without carefully considering the financial condition of the city.

Nottingham Races.

LONDON, October 1.—At the first day's racing of the Nottingham autumn meeting today, little Johnny Reiff, the American jockey, cleared the boards, riding the winners in all the following races: The Bestwood nursery plate (handicap) of 200 sovereigns, won by lord Beresford's Choctaw; the Lenten first plate, a high weight handicap of 100 sovereigns, won by R. Moore's White Nun; Nottingham handicap plate of 500 sovereigns, won by Mrs. McAuliff's Glenart. The Maiden plate of 108 sovereigns was won by lord Beresford's Walther.

How Barbour Died.

NEW YORK, October 1.—The coroner's inquest into the death of Henry Grosvenor Barbour, who was found dead with a bullet wound in his mouth at the Hotel St. Charles, Brooklyn, September 14th last, was held today. A verdict to the effect that "deceased died from a pistol wound self-inflicted and with suicidal intent" was returned by the jury.

IMPORTANT MINING SUIT

Slocan Kilo Company Involved.

The initial steps in an action at law of more than ordinary interest have been taken by Taylor & Hannington, acting for the plaintiff. The case is Elmer P. Felt of Slocan City vs. Percy Dickinson, senator Warner Miller, W. E. Spier, the Slocan Kilo Mining company, R. Wilson Smith, trustee for F. L. Bique; Hon. Andrew G. Blair, minister of railroads for the dominion, and William Stachan. The suit involves a part ownership in a number of valuable Slocan mining properties and is remarkable because of the diversity of relief asked for by plaintiff.

It is asserted that the plaintiff, Elmer P. Felt, was an equal partner with defendant, Percy Dickinson, in the mining broking business, and that by the terms of a written agreement the plaintiff's name did not appear on any of the firm's transactions, all business being done in Mr. Dickinson's name. During the existence of the partnership, which is now dissolved, a number of deals were put through. These included the sale of the Smuggler, Noonday-Curley, Skylark and Ranger groups and other less important properties. Under the terms of these transactions defendant Dickinson became entitled to substantial interests in the various properties, and now, on the dissolution of partnership, refuses to recognize plaintiff Felt's claim to a half share in all such interests, or to give any acknowledgment of claim, hence the suit.

Mr. Felt brings action against the other owners, claiming an account of the dealings and profits of each property. He also seeks to obtain an injunction restraining Mr. Dickinson from dealing with the interests obtained while the partnership existed, and claims a declaration that he, the plaintiff, is entitled to a half interest as already stated.

STORY OF AARON SAYMAN

A Queer Character of Hamilton.

Hamilton (Ontario) Herald.

During many years there stood two curious old caravans or covered wagons on a vacant lot opposite the central fire hall on Hughson street. They were enshrouded in a dark cloud of mystery and a foul atmosphere, that not even the most curious or courageous dare pierce. It was an uncanny place. Children would not pass it alone after nightfall. Two children always had to be sent. They would turn up their collars, stop their ears, close their eyes, clasp their little hands together, and run up with hearts bounding into their throats. "Hush! Hush!" mothers would say to their bad children, "or old Aaron will carry you off to his cave!" and the little rogues, terror-stricken, would subside into silence.

Ah, what terrors were locked up in thio cave! It was dug beneath the old caravans. A ladder led to its dingy caverns. Chests, it was said, filled with gold and silver plate were piled up there. It contained fabulous wealth, but for all that served as a cellar for vegetables as well.

Above it were drawn up the old caravans, which contained the kitchens, pantries, dining rooms, and drawing rooms of Aaron Sayman, a Jew who came from the borders of Germany and settled in this city in 1840. He lived in strict observance of the old rites of his forefathers, and regarded himself as a holy man. From sundown Friday to sundown Saturday he kept the Sabbath, spending the time kneeling in prayer or chanting the weird hymns of his faith. From this circumstance arose much of the mystery and fear that surrounded the place.

His habits of life were mystifying to his neighbors. He would heckle with the small boy on the street over the purchase of turtles, snakes, toads and like creatures. These he would nail to the fence until they reached the state termed as "high," when he would take them down and boil them, raising the most unpleasant odors. The smell of "garlic," as the gallant chief of the fire department styled it, was always so strong about the place that he was always prevented from enjoying the friendship of his eccentric neighbor.

Aaron could speak seven or eight languages fluently, and used them all to abuse his wife. Constantly he would charge her with inconstancy. Every time he went from home she was subjected to indignation on his return. If his suspicions were aroused he would tie her to the bedpost and leave her thus for a period of purification.

Once her noble lord went away to New York for several weeks. The firemen in the Central Hall got their heads together and planned a joke. The outcome was that a "phony" telegram was sent to Mrs Sayman, announcing her husband's death. She immediately called in her friends and started on a period of rejoicing that was abruptly brought to a close by the unlooked-for and unhoped-for appearance of Aaron himself.

He brought up a family of three boys and a beautiful Esther. Their training and education were rigid and cruelly severe. They were kept in confinement and taught all the languages of their parent. His method was to have the boys stand, book in hand, at the door while he went about his work in the yard. If they made a mistake he would call their attention to the fact by shying a turnip, or the first thing that came to hand, at their heads. The two elder boys grew up to be well-educated lads. Sometimes they used to act as interpreters at the police court. When they grew old enough, they left him. He demanded them to return, but they threatened to shoot him if he dared to force them to come back. His daughter also fled from him.

When he first came to Hamilton he followed the trade of sharpening razors. Sometimes he did not make the best jobs, but he never was troubled much with complaints. His customer would go blustering back to find fault. He would snatch the razor, brandish it aloft and shout: "What did you say!" winding up with a fiendish "Ha! ha!" Then he would laugh and say he was only fooling. The complainer would usually hand over the pay for the job, and hurry away before the strange old man had time to relapse into his fooling mood again. Umbrella mending and ivory carving were numbered among his accomplishments, but for the last four years he has been a dealer in curios.

He first settled on the Wanzer property, where the Cataract Power Company's office is now. He moved from there to Hughson street, and afterwards to James street north. Here he abandoned his old house on wheels, and took up his abode at the corner of Macnab and Vine streets. The reason he clung to his old abode was that he escaped taxation, as the statutes did not fix tribute on such dwellings.

His trade in curios has not been large. He held them at fabulous prices. It is said that he manufactured some of his Indian relics and buried them in the ground to give them the appearance of age. He has not prospered. His alleged wealth of former days has mysteriously vanished. At the age of 86, he lies at death's door, in squalor, filth and poverty. Only his much-abused wife and his poor son Lalla are there to wait on him. He raises a rasping, discordant cry. It is repeated again and again. Perhaps they will answer "Father," but at their leisure.

"The papers print shameful lies about us," complained poor Lalla to a Herald reporter. "They say our place is in a filthy condition. See! Look here; how clean we keep it!" as he led from one room to another. In the kitchen Indian tomahawks were mixed up with the oatmeal. Stuffed alligators were warming themselves under the stove, and everything was reeking with filth and dirt.

Today the poor old man's stock of curios is being offered by auction sale. There is a fine collection of Indian relics, minerals, petrified vegetables, corals, umbrella handles and other odds and ends. Altogether it is an interesting collection and well worth seeing.

The sons, who had to flee from their father in life, are going to take him away to their homes in the states, where he will be gathered to rest with his forefathers. His shrewd and cunning face and stooped and shriveled form will be seen no more on the streets that he has walked so long.

CITY LOCAL NEWS

The dairymen are now so closely watched that they are afraid to be seen watering their cows.

Teamsters that drive across or along sidewalks are to be prosecuted under the streets by-law.

Steve Lyons, a C. P. R. brakeman, had a couple of fingers painfully pinched yesterday morning.

The ladies' aid of the Congregational church will give a social at the home of Mrs. Bellamy, Baker street, on Wednesday afternoon and evening.

R. G. McLeod left this morning for Vancouver to attend the annual convention of the Ancient Order of Foresters to be held in that city on October 4th.

Charles McKay arrived from his mines on Whitefish creek, a branch of St. Mary's river, in East Kootenay, on Saturday. He reports everything looking well.

R. G. McLeod returned yesterday from Fort McLeod where he has been purchasing a carload of milk cows for his dairy here. He succeeded in securing some very fine stock which, he claims, will give milk good enough to satisfy the most exacting persons in Nelson.

Owing to the absence of judge Forin from the city the chamber sittings did not take place yesterday at the court house. Several interesting matters were postponed.

The officials of the Baptist church have been notified by Rev. J. B. Morgan of Aylsford, Nova Scotia, that he has accepted the call extended to him and will arrive in Nelson about the end of November. The new pastor visited Nelson recently and made a distinctly favorable impression on the members of the church. He is a comparatively young man with a reputation for energy and earnestness.

THE TRIBUNE is a great advertising medium, and those who use its columns have quick returns. On Sunday afternoon a lady lost a pair of spectacles in going from church to her home. A notice to that effect was handed THE TRIBUNE on Sunday night, and it appeared in Monday morning's paper, which is delivered at every residence in Nelson before breakfast. By 10 o'clock the spectacles were found and restored to the lady who lost them. After reading the advertisement she found them herself.

Mrs. D. B. Bogle of Victoria is in Nelson in the interest of the Christmas edition of the Mining Record, a publication that is fast taking rank among the first-class mining journals of America.

L. K. Larsen of the Old Curiosity Shop has purchased the whole of the $8000 stock of carpets and house furnishings of the Nelson Furniture Company, which was damaged in the recent fire in that company's premises. He will run a slaughter sale of the entire stock in the Old Curiosity Shop, on Josephine street, and at the Nelson Furniture Company's premises on Baker street, commencing on Thursday.

PERSONAL.

George W. Hughes of Alamo is registered at the Phair.

B. C. Riblet returned yesterday from a week's visit to Spokane.

William Hunter of Silverton, the pioneer merchant of the Slocan, is in the city.

George E. Martin, of the Kaslo legal firm of Whealler & Martin, was in the city yesterday on business.

Frank Watson of Spokane, who is interested in the Fisher Maiden property at Silverton, is registered at the Hotel Phair.

George E. Townshend, mining expert of Rossland, was at the Hotel Phair yesterday on route home after a week in the Slocan.

Charles H. Turnbull and R. S. L. Hardie of Edinburgh, Scotland, are in the city. They are interested in mining properties in this district.

H. Kehoe of Rossland, mining expert for the Gooderham-Blackstock syndicate, was in the city yesterday. He left last night for East Kootenay.

Maynard H. Cowan of Spokane was at the Hotel Phair yesterday. He left last night for East Kootenay to superintend the work at the Cowan Coal Company's property.

Mrs. Herbert Irvine will be at home to her friends at her residence, corner of Mill and Hendryx streets, this afternoon and evening and on Wednesday and Thursday.

O. W. Heywood of Ann Arbor, in advance for the Alhi Heywood Concert Company, is in the city. The company appears here on the 10th under the auspices of the fire department.

Father Drummond's Lecture.

"The Irishman as a Soldier" was the topic of a most interesting lecture by rev. father Drummond of Winnipeg at the opera house last night. The audience was large and intensely appreciative, the stirring features of the rev. gentleman's address eliciting rounds of applause. As a fluent, pleasing speaker, whose scholarly attainments shine forth in every sentence, father Drummond is among the first lecturers who have visited Nelson. His talk was a genuine treat. The achievements of Irishmen in the great wars of the century were related in eloquent language, and their deeds of prowess in the Boer war came in for special attention. The pith of the lecture was that in respect to bravery, obedience, resourcefulness and loyalty, the Irishman in war was the peer of any soldier, and that the audience sympathized with this sentiment was evidenced by the cordial applause. W. A. Galliher occupied the chair. At the close of the address a hearty vote of thanks was tendered father Drummond on motion of David M. Carley and J. A. Kerr.
