MINING MATTERS MADE MANIFEST

What Is Being Done in the Champion Creek Section in Developing Its Resources.

INTERESTING DETAILS OF PROGRESS AND POSSIBILITIES

During the approaching winter the Champion creek section of the Nelson mining division will enter the producing stage unless something altogether unforeseen arises to interfere with the plans of the Onondaga Mining Company of Syracuse, New York. The company has purchased the Yellow Jacket group, ordered a 10-stamp mill with steam plant and has a considerable force of men on the ground at the present moment. Their intention is to erect the mill without delay and to enlarge it next spring by the addition of twenty stamps.

The Champion creek country came into prominence last spring after an era of quietness covering several years. The district was prospected and staked about the time of the boom in the Rossland camp, but the prospectors in most instances permitted their locations to lapse. Last spring, however, the Syracuse syndicate, of which Louis Will, the millionaire wax dealer, is the head, entered the field. They took up the Yellow Jacket group, comprising the Maud S., Standard, Touch-Me-Not and Yellow Jacket claims. Thomas James, who had been identified with Mr. Will in various mining properties in California and elsewhere, took charge of the proposition and commenced work in May. His report was satisfactory and on August 4th the first payment of $10,000 was made on the purchase price of $65,000 through a Nelson bank. The company has during the summer and fall expended $30,000 in demonstrating the claims.

The battery of stamps was ordered in Sherbrooke, Ontario, some time since, and Mr. James is in Nelson today sending tracers after the plant and arranging transportation matters with local C. P. R. officials. The method of reaching the property heretofore has been via Waterloo, on the Columbia, between Robson and Trail. He proposes, in order to facilitate handling the machinery, to put a ferry at the mouth of the Kootenay river with a siding from the railroad. This will then be the point of transshipment, and the change is of importance to Nelson inasmuch as supplies will be forwarded from here rather than from Rossland. Application has been made for a trail to the property, and W. A. McLean, district superintendent of roads, will go over the ground next week It is thought that a practicable route will be found along the ridge to connect with the Whitewater trail which runs within six or seven miles of the Yellow Jacket. This will give transportation facilities direct from Nelson.

At the present time a crew of 27 men is employed on the Yellow Jacket, and 25 men will be worked all winter. Ten men are excavating on the mill site, two shifts are working in the lower tunnel, six men are building a road from the camp to the government road on the hill and five are engaged in widening the government trail from Waterloo to five feet so that the machinery can be hauled in. The camp is well situated and the cabins are comfortable. The property is a free milling proposition with two principal leads. One ledge is on the Maud S and has 30 inches of ore carrying $22.50 in gold all across. The second ledge on the Yellow Jacket is 18 inches wide and averages $35. A sawmill plant is now being taken up from Waterloo to cut lumber for the stamp mill. Mr. James speaks with confidence of the future of the property. "Before the winter is over," he says, "you will see the Yellow Jacket turning out $10,000 bricks every month."

Building a Trail.

A trail is to be built this fall to reach properties on the divide between Forty-nine and Eagle creeks which cannot be served by the wagon road now being constructed along the bed of the creek to the May and Jennie and other groups. W. A. McLean is going over the ground today to determine the most advantageous line to take. Two routes are under consideration, one via the Granite wagon road to the Star group from where the new trail will be extended as far as necessary, while the alternative is to extend the old wildcat trail. Either line would serve the section well. Among the properties which will benefit by the work are the Pingree, Royal Arthur, and King of Forty-nine groups. In connection with the Forty-nine wagon road, foreman William Waldie notified John A. Turner, government agent, yesterday that almost 2½ miles of the road was completed. W. A. McLean has expressed the opinion that the work is the best piece of road building he has seen in the Nelson district. A team of horses was sent out yesterday. Twenty-one men are employed on the road.

Boston Syndicate Buys Stock.

The Broken Hill Mining Company of Ymir has made arrangements to place a large block of stock with a Boston, Massachusetts, syndicate and will start work shortly on the Wilcox group. A strike of high grade sulphide ore was made last week on the upper level, and the vein will be worked during the winter. The company expect to ship several cars of ore to the Trail or Nelson smelter, and are figuring on net returns close to $50 per ton. In handling the ore from the upper level it is interesting to note that the grade is too heavy for a horse to ascend, and the ore is brought down the first 400 feet by fastening the sacks in rawhides and shooting them down over the snow to a point where horses can be taken. In the spring the erection of a ten stamp mill to handle the free milling ores from the lower levels is contemplated.

A favorable report is to hand from the Robin Hood group on the east fork of Cottonwood creek. It is stated that as development continues the lead is widening and the class of ore encountered is improving consistently. The group is under bond to a coast syndicate, represented by Bruno Thomas, and they are well satisfied with the showing. The characteristic of the section is narrow leads on the surface with much free gold. If the veins prove continuous and reasonably wide with depth the section will go ahead with a boom.

Jack McVeigh has returned from Crawford Bay, whither he went last week to arrange for the construction of stables at the terminals of the new wagon road. Stables 80 by 30 will be erected at once to accommodate the horses required to handle their contract with the London Consolidated and Richelieu people. The old hotel at the lake will be utilized as a boarding house.

The special meeting of the shareholders of the Exchequer Mining Company has been called for November 27th.

The ore on the May and Jennie property is said to average $15 in gold per ton, not $150 as Monday's TRIBUNE stated.

Took Away Their Breath.

LONDON, October 29.—Sir Charles Wilson, president of the Grand Trunk railway of Canada, and other officials of that line have not yet recovered from their surprise at the resignation of Mr. Charles M. Hays, general manager of the Grand Trunk, and his acceptance of the position of president of the Southern Pacific railway. Sir Charles said this evening that the three days of London holiday since the announcement of Mr. Hays' resignation had not given the directors a chance to consider the future. "So far," he added, "no definite action has been taken."

It is reported that there is a strong current running in favor of vice president E. St. John of the Seaboard Airline. This movement is believed to have originated among the Canadian stockholders.

CHAUNCEY HAD A HARD TIME

SENATOR DEPEW HOWLED DOWN BY AN ILLINOIS MOB.

A Democratic Crowd Refuses to Listen to the Great New York Orator.

COBELSK, Illinois, October 29.—Five hundred men undertook to break up senator Depew's meeting here this evening and partially succeeded. Mr. Bryan had spoken here in the morning at the fair grounds. When senator Depew arrived he was conducted to a platform in the main street and faced six thousand people. The disturbing element manifested its intentions before the meeting began. One drunken man was hustled out of the crowd. Others in like condition resented this. Then there was a fight. Senator Krum, whose home is in this district, tried to speak and was howled down. Then he appealed to the disturbers to respect senator Depew personally if they did not respect his party. The ugly element jeered at this. Senator Depew started to talk, but hundreds of men hurrahed for Bryan, hissed McKinley's name and cat-called senator Depew. Three clergymen of the town stood before the crowd and begged and asked for fair play. Senator Depew got started again and at last made himself heard. His voice was so distinct that the crowd became quiet for a moment. "Did Bryan leave orders today to break up this meeting?" he asked. Following this he continued: "No Republican would ever break up a Democratic meeting; no Republican is afraid of free speech. Are the Democrats who are engaged in this effort to break up this meeting afraid of the truth? Is your leader, Bryan, afraid of free speech?"

This was followed by a renewal of the disturbance. There were hurrahs for Bryan and cat calls for McKinley. Senator Depew began his speech on the acquisition of the Philippines, but the uproar continued. "You remind me," said the speaker, "of copperheads who used to come to the Union meetings during the civil war."

More noise and hurrahs for Bryan greeted this statement. Senator Depew cut his speech short and walked from the platform to his train, followed by nearly 1000 people.

Bryan Feels Well.

NEW YORK, October 29.—"And I am feeling tolerably well, I thank you," was Colonel Bryan's response when told tonight that he had made thirty speeches during the day and thus broken his own record for speech making. As a rule the speeches were not so long on most occasions, but they exceeded in number by nine or ten those of any previous day during the present campaign.

CASES ON CIVIL CALENDAR

CITY OF GREENWOOD MULCTED FOR $3000.

Other Matters of Interest Now Being Adjudicated Before Judge Walkem in the Assizes.

The long drawn out case of Waterland vs. City of Greenwood was concluded yesterday afternoon when the jury returned a verdict awarding plaintiff $3000 damages and costs of action. The suit is the lengthest one on the records of the court for the present sitting and was notable for the amount of expert evidence submitted by engineers, architects and builders. A. Leamy, city solicitor of Greenwood, and W. A. Galliher conducted the defence, Macdonald & Johnson appearing for plaintiff.

The action of Stamford vs. Heddle did not occupy the court long yesterday, a verdict being given in favor of defendant. The suit was instituted to recover $300 and 12,500 shares of stock in the Venus Gold Mining Company which plaintiff alleged was due him as commission on the sale of the Venus group to the Toronto people who now hold the property. The defendant maintained that his interest in the Venus was obtained by him for his services in connection with the deal, and as the matter resolved into a question of deciding between the oaths of the litigants, the suit was thrown out. R. M. Macdonald appeared for the defence and W. A. Galliher represented the plaintiff.

When court opened yesterday morning two prisoners were arraigned to elect as to their trials. One was William Harris, the wealthy Slocan City man who attempted to kill himself. He was very weak, and his counsel, W. A. Macdonald, requested time to consider his plea. This was granted. The bullet which passed through Harris' body one inch over his heart is in the possession of the court officials. It is a 38-caliber ball and a small piece of the shoulder blade is imbedded in the tip. Mrs. Harris was in the city on Sunday, but left yesterday for her old home in England.

The second prisoner was Esmer Wallace alias J. A. Sheets charged with theft from the C. P. R. He was represented by W. A. Galliher and choose a speedy trial, requesting a brief delay before the date of the trial should be set, which was granted.

The action of Jennings vs. Van Arsdale et al. will be withdrawn from the civil list for this court, a settlement having been reached. Taylor & Hannington have arranged that their client Jennings shall receive the property claimed in the action, each party to pay its own costs. The suit involved the ownership of the Little Greenhorn fractional adjoining the North Star group and was notable because the litigants had gone through the entire list of pleadings down to a relenter, thus constituting a record for British Columbia.

WORK OF THE CITY COUNCIL

At Last Night's Meeting.

The city council is making a record in the direction of brief meetings. Last night's session occupied only about half an hour and considerable business was transacted. The members present were mayor Houston, aldermen Arthur, Irvine, Morrison, Hall and Wilson.

The board of works presented a lengthy report, which was adopted as follows, That electric light connection be made as early as possible with the residences of Mrs. E. C. B. Cabe, W. H. Bullock-Webster, J. Fraser and H. A. Stewart. That the sidewalk on Water street in front of block 75 be laid to grade. That a handrail be placed on each side of the sidewalk on the south side of Robson street between Hall and Josephine streets. That the water main be extended to the residence of Albert Benson lot 8, block 54 addition A. That the six-foot sidewalk on the north side of Latimer street be extended from Ward to Stanley street. That the matter of the sidewalk on the north side of Front street be referred to the city engineer to remedy any cause of complaint. That a catch basin be constructed on Latimer street in front of block 48. That a four-inch main be laid along Railway street from Baker to Silica street. That the tin roof on the fire hall addition be painted. That the sewer on Latimer street be extended one block easterly from Hendryx to Cedar street and a catch basin constructed on Cedar street. That the planked roadway on Front street and the macadamized portion of Josephine street be cleaned. That the present walk on Water street be extended to connect with High street at the city limits.

F. W. Swannell, deputy collector of inland revenue, forwarded a letter from J. E. Miller of Victoria, stating that he would be in Nelson shortly to inspect the electric light meters.

F. J. Deane of Kamloops, secretary of the royal commission into Chinese and Japanese immigration, forwarded a list of questions relating to orientals in Nelson. The city clerk was instructed to furnish the desired information.

A bylaw relating to the debenture issue was read three times and laid over to the next meeting.

Council adjourned to Wednesday night when the board of works will probably report on the street lighting matter.

Text of McKinley's Proclamation---A Prosperous Year Has Been the Portion of Our Neighbors.

WASHINGTON, October 29.—The state department today issued the following: "By the president of the United States of America (a proclamation.) It has pleased Almighty God to bring our nation in safety and honor through another year. The works of religioh and charity have everywhere been manifest. Our country through all its extent has been blessed with abundant harvests. Labor and the great industries of the people have prospered beyond all precedent. Our country has spread over the world. Our power and influence in the cause of freedom and enlightenment have extended over distant seas and lands.

"The lives of our official representatives and many of our people in China have been marvellously preserved. We have been generally exempt from pestilence and other great calamities and even the tragedy which overwhelmed the city of Galveston made evident the sentiment of sympathy and Christian charity by virtue of which we are an united people. Now, therefore, I, William McKinley, president of the United States, hereby appoint and set apart Thursday, the 29th of November next, to be observed by all the people of the United States at home and abroad as a day of thanksgiving and praise to Him who holds the nations in the hollow of His hand.

"I recommend that they gather at their several places of worship and devoutly give Him thanks for the prosperity wherewith He has endowed us for seed time and harvest, for the valor, devotion and humanity of our armies and navies and for all His benefits to us as individuals and as a nation, and that they humbly pray for the continuance of His divine favor, for concord and amity with other nations and for righteousness and peace in all our ways."

A Lively Shake-Up.

CARACAS, Venezuela, October 29.—At 4:45 p. m, today Caracas was visited by a severe earthquake. Fifteen persons were killed and many others injured. Great damage was done to buildings, including the Pantheon and churches. The United States legation was badly damaged, but all the occupants escaped unhurt. President Castro, who leaped from a balcony on the second floor of the government house, had one of his legs broken. William Henry Doveton Haggart, the British minister, had a miraculous escape, the ceiling of the first story of the British legations having fallen upon him and buried him in the debris.

TERRIFIC EXPLOSION OF CHEMICALS

A New York Patent Medicine Establishment Catches Fire and Creates Havoc.

SEVERAL IMMENSE BUILDINGS RAZED TO THE GROUND

NEW YORK, October 29.—The big building of Tarrant & Company, makers of medicinal specialties, standing at the northwest corner of Greenwich and Warren streets and filled with chemicals, took fire in some way that may never be known at about 12:15 this afternoon. It was sixteen minutes after noon that a citizen rushed into the house of fire engine 20 on Chambers street near Greenwich, and shouted that Tarrant's drug house was on fire. He had seen a volume of black smoke coming from the third story window. An alarm was turned in. Soon afterward second and third alarms were turned in. One fire company from station 60 had just arrived when a terrific explosion occurred and threw the entire engine crew down the stairway. The firemen, realizing the danger of their position, rushed from the building to the street. The explosion had filled the street in front with a shower of falling glass and small debris, which sent the crowd which was already gathered on the opposite sidewalk fleeing for safety and caused the horses hitched to the engines to rear and try to get away.

The second explosion occurred about five minutes after the first. From the accounts of witnesses the building seemed to leap into the air and in a moment masses of brick wall, timbers and stone were falling into the streets. The force of the explosion tore away the walls of the big commission store houses fronting on Washington street and caused them to collapse, falling all at once in a mass of timbers, boxes and barrels from which the flames burst out from the Tarrant building like the belching of a cannon. Across Warren street to the opposite buildings the flames leaped setting them all afire also, the force of the explosion demolishing windows and all wooden structures about the houses. In a moment Warren street was choked up with a mass of debris and the whole place was aflame. The great explosion was followed by half a dozen scarcely less intense and by a countless number of smaller ones.

Half an hour after the explosion the streets for blocks around the vicinity were crowded with fire apparatus and a score of ambulances, while hundreds of police were being rushed from all the lower precincts of the city to form lines and many priests from nearby parishes were going here and there in the smoke-obscured thoroughfares seeking for injured who might need their aid. From the buring district a column of smoke was rising high in the air, mingled with flames that could not be controlled by the hundreds of streams thrown upon them.

The second explosion carried destruction in every direction. That it did not cause a wholesale loss of life was due to the fact that almost ten minutes' warning came after the first cry of fire—a cry that was a real warning to the people who knew the character of the chemicals in the burning buildings, and fully five minutes occurred between the first and minor explosion, which warned everybody within hearing, and the second one. Immense masses of masonry, pieces of cornice, great beams, window casings and an indescribable mass of wreckage of every description tumbled suddenly into the street in front of the building.

The wreckage was thrown across through the windows of the building where the Irving National Bank is located. The offices of the Irving Bank and of Maclem Bros., bankers and brokers, were nearly wrecked. At the first explosion an attempt was made to gather all the money and papers that were lying on the counters together and to throw them into the safes and it was supposed that this had been done when the second explosion brought flying glass and plastering from the skylighted ceilings down about the heads of everybody and caused them to flee in a hurry. Captain McCluskey, of the detective bureau, who hurried every available man of his staff to the fire, was appealed to to protect the funds of the bank, he being told that they were in the vault, the door of which was supposed to be locked. When the captain and his men went in, however, they found about $10,000 scattered in confusion over the counters and floor.

This was hastily thrown into the vault and the door locked. Down in Mecklem Brothers' office in the basement were H. C. Mecklem and his brother William, with Frank Heckenberry, a boy, Thomas Hacket, a clerk, another man named Bruce and some girls. When the fire broke out $90,000 in money lay upon the counters. Heckenberry was stationed at the door while this was gathered together for putting in the vault. The explosion completely demolished windows along Greenwich street on both sides for three blocks in both directions. The immense buildings of J. H. Mohlman & Company fronting on Washington street simply collapsed, a deluge of barrels and boxes filled with fruit rolling out and forming a pile that reached half way across the street. At the time of the explosion barrels were hurled in the air across Washington street and set fire to the buildings to the west, threatening an extension of the conflagration in that direction.

The loss of life is not known, but from all sources of information it is gathered that there are, perhaps, the bodies of thirty persons in the ruins.

Rossland Mines.

ROSSLAND, October 29.—White Bear workings are now clear of water down to the 170 foot level. It is anticipated that the workings will be completely clear of water to the 350 foot level by next Sunday night. From this level diamond drill borings will be made for the purpose of locating the extension of the south ledge of the Le Roi, which is supposed to run through the northern portion of the White Bear property.

The Velvet mine, on Sophie mountain, has let a contract for the hauling of 25 tons of ore a day from the mine to Velvet siding, about two miles below Sheep Creek station. This ore will be shipped from there to the Northport smelter. Fred Lindburg has been awarded the contract for hauling the ore, and shipping will commence just as soon as sleighing is possible. He has returned from Myers Falls and Chewelah, where he purchased a number of horses, which will be engaged in hauling the ore over the new wagon road. Five four-horse teams will be in use and the hauling will be continued all winter. There is more ore on the dump at present than can be hauled out this winter without going into the mine for it. This will add a new shipper to the list. There are 120,000 tons of ore in sight in the Velvet.

Train Wreck.

HELENA, Montana, October 29.—Northern Pacific train No. 9, eastbound, was partly wrecked at Dearhart, Montana, last night by the breaking of a switch rod. Several passengers were killed and several injured. The dead are: C. Reinfenrath of Helena; Dr. L. Pendleton of Mount Hope, Wisconsin; Ed Eastman of Raymond, South Dakota; Dr. C. C. Hartschorn of Livingstone, Montana; Miss M. S. Tracy of Bozeman, Montana, and two unknown women.

Boy Killed in an Elevator.

CHICAGO, October 29.—Paul Hulbert, 5-year-old son of captain Hulbert of Fort Collins, Colorado, was instantly killed in an elevator at the Manadnock block today. The boy was thrown to the floor by a jerk which the car gave in starting. He released his hold on his mother's hand and fell backward. His skull was crushed between the floor of the elevator and the second floor of the building.

THE public works committee of the city council is considering the street lighting question. The committee had a conference with representatives of the Bonnington Falls Power Company and the tramway company yesterday, and the result of the conference is a proposition from these two corporations (through the tramway company) to sell the city power to operate 50 arc lamps for the sum of $96 per annum per lamp, and if the city is not in a position to put in the plant and pole lines that the tramway company will bear that burden on condition that the city purchases it at the end of two years at cost, plus the amount expended in keeping it in repair. The cost of the plant is put at $5300, approximately; and the cost of trimming the lamps is placed at $2 per lamp per month. Summed up, the proposition is: If the city bears the expense of installing the street electric lighting plant the tramway company will furnish the power to operate the plant at $8 per lamp per month, and charge another $2 per lamp per month to keep them trimmed. Or, if the city does not wish to install the plant the tramway company will do it on condition that the city takes it off their hands in two years at cost, plus the amount expended in keeping it in repair.

A proposal also came from the gas company. It estimated the cost of operating a 50-horse-power gas engine for seven hours a day for 365 days in the year at $193.65 a month. The city would be required to purchase the engine and install all the plant.

The Nelson Saw & Planing Mills, Limited, offered to deliver the city power at the company's sawmill on Hall street wharf for $5 per horse-power per month; or furnish them an engine and boiler of from 50 to 60 horse-power capacity for $4 per day.

The Kootenay Electric Supply & Construction Company offered to furnish and operate fifty 2000 c.p. arc lamps for $10 per month on a two-years' contract. The only expense that the city would incur under this proposal would be for erection of the pole lines and hanging the lamps, which would be about $1500.

The above is a fair presentation of the several proposals. The tramway company wants $8 per horse-power per month—that is, if the current required to keep each 2000 candle-power arc lamp burning efficiently is equal to one horse-power; the sawmill company will furnish steam for $5 per horse-power per month; the gas company will furnish the gas to operate a 50 horse-power engine for $193.65 a month, and the Kootenay Electric Construction & Supply Company will bear all the expense, except erecting pole lines, and operate fifty 2000 candle-power lamps for a term of two years for $10 per lamp per month. The tramway company seem to be unwilling to sell the city power at so much per horse-power per month. They evidently want to be in a position to say to the people: "We are in partnership with the city in the street-lighting business, with the hope that we will in time be a partner in that far-better paying business, incandescent lighting." Another point: It sells electric power to P. Burns & Co. for $5 a horse-power per month; but if the city wants power it must pay $8. This is hardly a fair way of doing business, seeing that the tramway company is asking the city to help it out on a losing proposition.

IF the tramway company has power to sell, and has offered to sell it to private firms for five dollars per horse-power per month, why cannot it sell power to the city at the same price? The city pays its bills as promptly as any private firm. The city is not in need of a partner to help it operate the public utilities it now owns, and the sooner the tramway company people realize this the better it will be for the tramway company.

Labor Candidate Criticized.

NEW DENVER, October 20.—To The Editor of The Tribune: I believe there is going to be a Dominion election next month, although political matters are very quiet as yet in our town. We have only had one of the candidates—Mr. Foley—to give an address, though the other two may do so before polling day. It is usually admitted that the labor unions will go pretty strong in favor of Mr. Foley, but they did the same for R. F. Green last summer. There is still a large vote to be counted for the others if they get around and show themselves. I fancy that the majority of those in this town who supported J. Keen last election will support A. H. MacNeill for the Dominion. There are many weak points in Mr. Foley's address, the opinion of his friends to the contrary notwithstanding. If both the old federal parties are as poor legislators as he states they are, why would he have the Labor party make itself a sort of catspaw for either one? He states that his party does not want to be in a position to take control of affairs and yet he would like them to be in such a position as to say to the premier: "You must legislate along our line or off goes your political head." In such a case why should they not step in and make the laws themselves? He also seems to boast that he is not educated, and yet he says he has common sense (?). Surely common sense would advise him to leave these matters for the public to find out. Of all classes to be deliberately chosen as our lawmakers the worst, in my opinion, is the uneducated class. The doing away with the senate is also a weak point, but Mr. Foley did not take that plank up while here. Perhaps it would be well to lower the Liberal party's prices. There are very few labor candidates in the field, and if all were to succeed they would still have to cling to the party in control of affairs in order to pass any bills through the house. I have heard a great deal about their finding Mr. Foley underground. Where would they expect to find him during working hours? If they had come around earlier they might have found him at his boarding house.

JOSEPH IRWIN.

WRITTEN BY LIBERALS.

THE TRIBUNE has placed a part of one column at the disposal of the Liberals, whose views will be expressed therein from time to time during the campaign. A like privilege is accorded the Labor party and the Conservatives.

As statements of intelligent and unbiased observers the following citations will be of interest: "I have always avoided introducing politics into the pulpit, and I will not do so now; but I cannot help instancing as one of the reasons for thanksgiving the fact that we have a premier who has proven himself so statesmanlike in the administration of the high functions of his office; who is so stainless in his character; who is so just and conciliatory in his public utterances; who is so broadly and unselfishly patriotic that, although a Catholic in his religious faith, he commands the confidence and loyalty of Protestants as no other man in political life at the present time could."—Rev. Dr. Thomas of Jarvis Street Baptist Church, Toronto.

"The steamer Manchester Commerce brought to Manchester on Monday 1,000 cases of Canadian pears (Bartlett, Flemish Beauty, Duchess, Howell, Clargeau and Anjou), twenty-five cases of peaches and one hundred and twenty-five cases of dessert apples. This is a special consignment, shipped under the auspices of the Hon. Sydney Fisher, minister of agriculture for Canada. Hitherto Canadian fruit has suffered a little in transit. It is now thought, however, that a perfect system of packing and refrigeration has been devised, and the condition in which the present consignment reached Manchester bears this out. The fruit was grown and packed at Grimsby, in the province of Ontario. From Grimsby it was sent to Montreal in refrigerator cars, and it has crossed the sea in the mechanically refrigerated chamber of the Manchester Commerce. Mechanical refrigeration on steamers running from Canada to British ports was introduced by the Hon. Sydney Fisher during the season of 1897. The system was not perfect at first, but experience has shown what are the best methods of grading and packing, and the temperatures at which the different classes of fruit should be carried. The result, as we have said, is that the most delicate Canadian fruits can be delivered in this country in perfect condition. The present consignment is to be followed by shipments of choice Canadian grapes."—Norwich (England) Daily Press, October 4th, 1900.

VOTE FOR . . . .

A. H. MacNEILL

of Rossland

Candidate of the Liberal-Conservative Party for Member of the House of Commons for Yale-Cariboo.

PLATFORM

Adopted by the Liberal-Conservative Party in Convention at Revelstoke, September 15th, 1900

We, the delegates of the Liberal-Conservative party of Yale-Cariboo constituency, in convention assembled, reaffirm the principles of the party, and more particularly that cardinal principle, protection to home industries, and that that principle be carried out so that all sections of the country shall equally share its benefits.

The one industry on which the prosperity of this constituency is almost wholly dependent is mining; and we believe that our mining industries are as fairly entitled to protection as the manufacturing industries of Eastern Canada; therefore, we advocate that the duties on lead and lead products be increased, so that they shall be as high as those now imposed by the United States on the same articles.

That the output of the precious metal mines is largely increasing, therefore we favor the establishment of a mint, so that the specie in circulation shall be that of our own instead of that of a foreign country.

We advocate the restriction of the immigration of Chinese and Japanese, and all classes who cannot become good citizens of the Dominion of Canada, and suggest the adoption of the principles of the Natal Act.

British Columbia has not now the representation in the federal parliament that she is entitled to: therefore we advocate that when the redistribution of seats is made that this constituency shall be given representation according to its population.

That it augurs well for the success of the party that Hugh John Macdonald has decided to leave the field of provincial politics to take part in the larger one that affects the people of the whole of Canada.

The Natal subscribers to a testimonial to major-general Baden-Powell, in recognition of his gallant defense of Mafeking, have decided to present him with a shield made of Transvaal sovereigns.

Alexander Ramsey, first territorial governor of Minnesota and second state governor, reached his eighty-fifth birthday recently. His first office was as mayor of St. Paul, then as governor of Minnesota Territory; he was second governor of the state, served as United States senator, and was secretary of war twenty years ago.

At the close of a performance given as a benefit to John Brougham, the actor and dramatist, one of the audience threw upon the stage a purse of gold. Brougham picked it up, and, after examining it, said: "Ladies and gentlemen, circumstances compel me to pocket the insult: but" (looking grim) "I should like to see the man who would dare to repeat it!"

Standing on the banks of the Potomac, lord Coleridge one day asked William M. Evarts: "Is it true that Washington threw a silver dollar across the Potomac?" "It is quite possible," replied Mr. Evarts, thoughtfully, "for a dollar in those days, my lord, went farther than it does now. But, indeed, Washington did better than that—he threw a sovereign across the Atlantic!"

One day, while Millais was painting his famous picture, "Chill October," among the reeds and rushes on the banks of the Tay, a man came up behind him and stood looking first at the picture, then at the surrounding landscape. Finally he asked in broad Scotch dialect: "Mgn, did ye never try photography?" "No, never," replied Millais, painting slowly. A pause. "It's a hantle quicke," said the man. "Yes, I suppose so." Another pause; then the Scotchman added thoughtfully: "An' it's mair like the place!"

Queen dowager Margherita of Italy has just completed the distribution of her personal effects and has finally retired from the world. Her three hundred superb costumes have been apportioned among her friends. Immediately after king Humbert's funeral she sent to the museum at Florence the exquisite embroideries which made so fine an exhibit at the Chicago exposition, and all her jewelry has been given to relatives. Young queen Helena has received Margherita's royal diadem, valued at nearly two hundred thousand dollars.

Sir Francis Plunkett, the new embassador from Great Britain to Vienna, will be the more pleasing to the Austrian court because of the fact that he is a Roman Catholic and the first diplomat of that faith to be accredited to Vienna for a long time. Sir Francis entered the service in 1855, and his record as a diplomat covers secretaryships to the legations at Yeddo (1873-76) and Washington (1876-77), the mission plenipotentiary to Japan (1883-87), and the Swedish mission, which he filled from 1888 to 1893. Since the last named year he has been minister to Brussels. Sir Francis is the youngest son of the ninth earl of Kingall. Lady Plunkett, his wife, was a Miss Morgan of Philadelphia.

A crowd of United States surveyors and allotting agents were recently working in the reservation of the Comanche Indians, surveying, establishing corner-stones and getting everything ready to divide the land into quarter sections. The Indians did not take very kindly to the division and allotment of their land, and, seeing that the whites were scared, they decided to act. The surveyors were all tenderfeet from Washington. Suddenly, without warning, their camp was invaded by a yelling, hooting band of 500 Indians in war paint and feathers. The surveying party could not stand the pressure, and started out for the settlements along the Texas line and kept up their flight, pursued by the Indians, until they crossed the state line. Then they telegraphed to Fort Sill and the commander there sent out a large cavalry force to protect the surveyors. The general supposition is that a lot of cowboys and young bucks played a practical joke.

Confirmation has been received in Washington of the execution on July 20th of Chang Yen Hoon, the former Chinese minister to the United States. Chang was a loyal adherent of the emperor and a warm supporter of the latter's reform movements. When the empress dowager supplanted the emperor two years ago Chang was ordered to be beheaded, but through the intervention of the American and British ministers his punishment was commuted to banishment in the district and province of Kashgaria. It now appears that the empress dowager, taking advantage of the late reign of terror at Pekin and knowing Chang's influence with the emperor, ordered his execution by decapitation. Chang was considered by those familiar with his affairs as one of the ablest men in China.

The mantle of W. G. Grace has fallen upon worthy shoulders, for prince Ranjitsinhji has again proved himself the champion batsman of the year in England and, by compiling an aggregate of 3065 runs, has once more exceeded the 3000-mark, a feat never accomplished by any other batsman in a season's first-class cricket. Ranjitsinhji is 28 years old and is the second son of Jiwan Sinhji, who is connected with the family of Jam (or sovereign) of Nawanger, the largest state under British protection in Kathiwar. Ranjitsinhji's remarkable average of 87.57 for 40 innings will be better understood by a comparison with the figures of some of the other first-class players in England this season. After Ranjitsinhji the next man on the list is C. B. Fry, whose average is 80 runs per inning lower than that of the prince, and these two are away ahead of any other batsmen in England this year.

Empress of the British Empire.

SYDNEY, New South Wales, October 29.—William John Lyne, premier and treasurer of New South Wales, during a speech at the opening of a German fete here today said: "The temper of the Australian people was never so affectionate toward the mother country as it is now. The war in South Africa has procured a patriotic bond which should last eternally. It has been suggested locally that her majesty should assume the title of queen of Australia. To me it seems a good proposal. Indeed I think her majesty might well be approached with a view to her assuming the title of empress of the British empire, thus embracing all the colonies and dependencies.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

Province of British Columbia, Nelson, in West Kootenay, to wit:

By virtue of a writ of fieri-facias, issued out of the Supreme Court of British Columbia, at the suit of the Bank of Montreal, plaintiffs, and to me directed, against the goods and chattels of the Two Friends Mine, Limited Liability, defendants. I have seized and taken in execution all the right, title and interest of the said defendants, Two Friends Mine Limited Liability, in the mineral claim known as and called "Two Friends," situated on the divide between Lemon and Springer creeks, on the east slope of Lemon creek, located on the 31st day of July, A. D. 1895, and recorded in the office of the mining recorder for the Slocan City Mining Division of the West Kootenay District, on the 16th day of August, A. D. 1895; and also all the right title and interest of the said defendants, Two Friends Mine, Limited Liability, in sixty (60) tons of ore, more or less, mined from the mineral claim "Two Friends," and now upon the property: To recover the sum of two thousand and eighty-nine dollars and eighty-five cents ($2,089.85) together with interest on two thousand and eighty-six dollars and thirty-five cents ($2086.35) at six per centum per annum, from the 28th day of September, 1900, until payment, besides sheriff's poundage, officer's fees, and all other legal incidental expenses: All of which I shall expose for sale, or sufficient thereof to satisfy said judgment, debt, and costs, at the front of my office next to the court house, in the city of Nelson, B. C., on Friday the 26th day of October, A. D., 1900, at the hour of eleven o'clock in the forenoon.

NOTE.—Intending purchasers will satisfy themselves as to interest and title of the said defendants.

Dated at Slocan City the 12th day of October, 1900.

S. P. TUCK, Sheriff of South Kootenay

The above sale is postponed until Monday, the 26th day of November, 1900, at the same place and hour.

TO

Contractors and Builders

Having disposed of our business to Mr. Ernest Mansfield, we bespeak for him a continuance of that liberal share of patronage which has been extended us during our career in Nelson. We can only say that those traits which have built up for us and maintained our reputation for reliable dealings will be continued throughout by the new firm. We therefore take great pleasure in recommending him to all our old customers, and also to any new ones who may honor him with their patronage.

Thanking you for past favors,

The West Kootenay Brick & Lime Co., Ltd.
T. G. PROCTER,
Late Managing Director

Nelson, B. C., 5th October, 1900.

To the Public...

Having taken over the business of the West Kootenay Brick & Lime Company, Limited, of Nelson, I beg to ask for a continuance of the patronage which you have heretofore extended them. My aim will be at all times to supply you with our products at lowest possible prices. Being in a position to manufacture goods in larger quantities than before, we shall be able to supply the trade at a lower figure.

It is our intention to install machinery to manufacture our marble products, and next season we shall be in a position to supply these products at reasonable rates.

We shall also keep on hand a stock of Fire Brick, Fire Clay, Tiles and Cement.

Our Bricks and Lime Rock have taken the First Prizes at the Spokane Industrial Exposition in 1899 and also this year. We also secured prizes last year and this year for Ornamental and Building Stone.

We are prepared to offer special rates to Contractors and Builders.

CITY LOCAL NEWS

The Mansfield Manufacturing Company is figuring to supply the Hall mines smelter with 10,000 tons of lime rock and 1000 tons of lime annually.

At the meeting of the license commissioners for the Ainsworth district, held at Kaslo hotel, licenses were granted to J. J. Cameron of Lardo and W. W. Beaton of Bear Lake.

The steamer Nelson was over 15 hours late in arriving from Kootenay landing last night. She was delayed through waiting for trains held up by a slide on the Crow's Nest road.

Rev. S. Rhodes of the English church will discourse on "A Deck of Cards" at the Baptist mission room, Hume Addition, on Wednesday evening, October 31st. All are cordially invited.

A. G. Creelman, the contractor who is to build the C. P. R. freight sheds, expects to start work within a few days, a shipment of material from Nakusp being now en route. The building is to be completed by December 15 and will cost $6000.

Medhurst Rearrested.

F. M. Medhurst, charged at Cranbrook last week with embezzlement and admitted to bail in bonds of $1500, was rearrested yesterday on a second charge of embezzlement. The C. P. R. officials were dissatisfied with the way in which the case was handled and swore out a new warrant on Sunday before E. A. Crease, stipendiary magistrate. W. H. Langridge, chief auditor, and A. M. Johnson, local C. P. R. solicitor, left last night to attend the preliminary examination at Cranbrook on Wednesday. They will oppose bail.

Ran Into a Slide.

A bad wreck occurred yesterday morning on the Crow's Nest road. The extra freight westbound ran into a big rock slide four miles east of Creston at a point where the embankment is 100 feet high. When the engine struck the slide she left the track and plunged down hill taking three cars along. The cars were reduced to matchwood and the engine was badly wrecked. Engineer Hugh Brock was seriously cut about the head and his fireman had a narrow escape. The Cranbrook emergency train reached the scene of the wreck quickly and trains were delayed only a few hours. The steamer Nelson, which connects with the westbound passenger train, was 3½ hours late into Nelson.

WRITTEN BY CONSERVATIVES.

[THE TRIBUNE has placed a part of one column at the disposal of the Conservatives, whose views will be expressed therein from time to time during the campaign. A like privilege is accorded the Labor party and the Liberals.]

The principles that governed the actions of the Conservative party under the able guidance of sir John A. Macdonald were not far removed from those which characterized the magnificent diplomacy of the earl of Beaconsfield, to whom sir John was by many compared. The fundamental points of these principles are the conservatism of all that has induced to the upbuilding of the body politic at home and a firm conviction that active imperialism abroad is the true solution to the problem of England's greatness. The Conservative is he who lops the mouldering branch away in contradistinction to the axe-leveling propensities of the Liberal, national and socialistic classes. In Canada, of necessity, politics beget local coloring; nevertheless, let all remember that in voting for the Conservative party one is best upholding that imperialistic policy which has within this month received such a splendid endorsement at the hands of the electors of Great Britain and old Ireland.

Those whose minds are still wavering, and who missed hearing mayor Goodeve on Friday, lost a treat, for it was one of the ablest addresses on the political questions of the day ever given in Nelson. So much so that we hear of masterly activity in the Liberal and Labor camps and a general hustling to get a speaker who will offset in some measure the good effect produced by Mr. Goodeve. Even if the Liberal ranks contains such an exponent of its principles he will find it hard ploughing through the maze of facts presented by the mayor of Rossland. Of the many unredeemed pledges none stands more prominent than the tariff. There can be no straddling the fence on this issue—it must be free trade or protection. The Conservative platform on this point is clear and unmistakable, that party advocates protection to infantile industries, but no more. It does not endorse the continuing of the duty on agricultural implements now that the Canadian manufacturers can compete in the markets of the world; neither does it approve of handing the coal oil business in the Dominion over to the Standard Oil company. At present rate we may anticipate the advent of other gigantic trusts and schemes to secure a general mortgage on us all in favor of Uncle Sam.

The Labor party appeals this morning particularly to the merchants and traders of Nelson on the general grounds that without the laboring element they would require to close their doors. One might go a step further and say that without capital they, the laborers, would be in the poor house and so on. All the parties whose platforms contain revolutionary principles are "more loyal than the king"; in this instance it is well known that the Labor party in Rossland have started a co-operative store and contemplate extending their operations to this and other towns. One rises to enquire how much it will profit the merchants of Nelson to vote for Chris Foley if the laboring element is going to do its shopping on a co-operative basis? And echo answers "not much!" Beyond a doubt when labor gets too much power it becomes quite as despotic as capital and for that reason the electors of Yale-Cariboo, and particularly the merchants, will not be led away by such salmon-roe bait as the appeal above referred to.

Mining Records.

Yesterday's mining records were: Transfers: A three-quarters interest in the Yankee girl claim on Bear creek, by J. H. Graham of Ymir to Dan McLeod, Orlanda A. Lovell and David E. Grobe of Ymir; a three-quarters interest in the Canadian Girl on Bear creek to Grobe, Graham and McLeod by O. A. Lovell; a half interest in the New York and Buffalo claims, half a mile north of the Ymir mine, by E. J. Kelly to N. N. Natstead of Ymir.

Locations: The Winnipeg fraction on Toad mountain, by Percy Chapman; the Edith M., one mile northeast of Summit siding, on the N. & F. S., by Thomas A. Weekes; the Great Eastern, two and one-half miles southwest of Ymir, by Samuel Thomas; the Ironside on Quartz creek, one mile from Ymir, by Mitchell Taite; the Syracuse, seven miles east from the Columbia river, by Thomas James and Louis Will.

Certificates of work: To Jesee Graham and W. A. Burpee on the Jessie B.; to J. H. Graham on the Canadian Girl and Yankee Girl; to E. J. Keeley on the Buffalo and New York; to John McLatchie on the J. A. fraction.

Meetings at Moyie and Cranbrook.

Candidate MacNeill, accompanied by mayor Goodeve of Rossland, will address the electors of Moyie on Friday evening, November 2nd, and Cranbrook on Saturday evening, the 3rd. The Conservatives of these progressive towns will give the speakers a cordial reception.
