MINING MATTERS OF INTEREST

A Shipment of High-Grade Galena Is Being Made From the Slocan Chief Group.

CHAPLEAU MILL ABOUT READY TO START---OTHER NEWS

Percy Dickinson of Slocan City, the representative in British Columbia of the Warner Miller Syndicate of New York, was in the city yesterday on business. A shipment of a carload of high grade galena is being made from the Slocan Chief group, one of the four large properties in the Slocan operated by the syndicate. The shipment comprises a carload and is made as a test to determine the smelter results from the property. Assays have been had from the group running as high as 2500 ounces of silver, the ore containing a strong percentage of ruby silver, and it is expected the carload now en route will give surprisingly large returns. The report that the Warner Miller syndicate had thrown up the bond on the Smuggler group recently gives a misleading impression of the transaction. The Smuggler was one of three claims in a group of 18 and was located on top of the hill at a high altitude. Last winter the men working on the three claims were compelled to use life lines in going to and from the cabin to the workings. Because of the difficulties attending the working of the claims after snow fell, Mr. Dickinson decided to close down during the present winter and requested a six months' extension from the owners. This was refused and the bond lapsed. The balance of the group, 15 claims in all, are owned outright by the syndicate, and promise to develop into a fine property. The group is now called the Slocan Chief and a crew of men is employed constantly.

Surveyed the Group.

F. C. Green returned yesterday from Poole creek where he surveyed most of the claims in the big group controlled by the Imperial Development Syndicate. This property promises to be among the biggest free milling propositions in the Kootenays and considerable interest has been excited by the reports from the work now under way. Samples from the tunnel started under the direction of A. H. Gracey, the syndicate's engineer, are being exhibited in the city as a sample of the ore which is encountered all over the property. It is hard quartz liberally specked with free gold. Further work will demonstrate how continuous the vein will be, and if with depth it is anything like the present showing all that has been said of Lexington mountain will not do justice to the situation. The Imperial Syndicate's bonds represent an investment of $80,000. The stock is moving rapidly, a $5000 block having been taken up last week.

About the Fern.

It is reported that the Fern mine on Hall creek may be reopened in the spring. A number of the parties interested in the property are of opinion that the Fern is by no means exhausted and that proper development work would show up permanent ore bodies more than equal to any yet worked. These parties contend that under the old management the mine was simply gutted, the $30,000 and over which came from the ore milled being utilized for the payment of dividends without any portion being reserved for the development necessary to keep any mine on a permanent productive basis. The resumption of operations at the Fern would be hailed with pleasure in the Nelson camp, and as the mill on the property is in excellent shape, the mine would quickly become a producer again if the development was satisfactory.

Chapleau Mill to Start.

The Chapleau mill is practically ready to commence operations and the machinery will be started this week. The tramway is in good running order and it is now an assured fact that the Chapleau will be producing gold bricks before the new year. The mill is built to handle 20 tons of ore daily, and it is expected the actual capacity will be almost up to this mark. The ore is said to average $30 to $40 and most of the values will be saved on the plates. The sulphides of silver are difficult to amalgamate and will probably require cyaniding, but as the percentage of silver is only six to ten ounces per ton the loss in this direction is not serious.

Deal Off, Deal On.

The Imperial Development Syndicate has closed down work on the Northern Light group at the head of Forty-nine creek and bonded two or three months ago from S. S. Taylor, Q. C., A. L. McCulloch and others. The property could not be worked economically at the present season because of the difficulty of keeping open the trail. The wagon road now being opened will obviate any similar trouble in future. The syndicate professed a willingness to commence work again in the spring but the owners have another and better offer for the group and a new deal will be consummated during the winter.

That Republic Deal.

The bond on the Republic property, the existence of which was denied by Arthur Powis on Saturday, was recorded at the Nelson record office yesterday. It is in the nature of a thirty-day option, and the consideration to the owners is $30,000. Charles Parker, the engineer who holds an option on the property, is presenting the Republic to the syndicate which he represents, and there is every likelihood that the bond will be taken up.

Road Work.

Work is still progressing on the Forty-nine creek wagon road, and the undertaking is rapidly nearing completion, a fact which will be welcomed by the property owners who wish to continue work during the winter. The road from Slocan city to Lemon creek is also well under way. For the present season the thoroughfare will be a sleigh road only, the proposition being to finish it as a wagon road next spring or fall.

Recovers $7000.

VANCOUVER, November 26—[Special to The Tribune].—Justice Irving has decided the case of Nightingale vs. the Union Colliery Company, growing out of the Trent river bridge disaster. His judgment follows the jury findings and awards $7000 to the widow of Richard Nightingale, an employee of the coal company, killed in the disaster. The defence was that Nightingale was not a passenger and had ridden on the train in defiance of their posted notice and instructions.

DEATH OF AN OLD PIONEER

WELL KNOWN THROUGHOUT THE PROVINCE.

Terrance H. Giffin, Who at One Time Was a Resident of Nelson, Is Dead at the Age of 69 Years.

BROCKVILLE, Ontario, November 21.—Terrance H. Giffin, a wealthy resident of this district, died yesterday at his home, aged 69 years. He was born at Merrickville, and spent the greater part of his life in mining operations in California and British Columbia. He was unmarried. His death was caused by an attack of pneumonia.

The above appeared in the Montreal Herald of November 21st. Terrance H. Giffin lived in Nelson for several years, and was well-known throughout the province.

He crossed the plains to California in the early fifties, and mined on the American and Feather rivers. He was among the first to come to British Columbia on the breaking out of the Fraser river excitement, and at first had the bar—privileges—on—one—of—the steamers running on that river. Afterwards he was in Cariboo and Cassiar; in fact, he was a pioneer in nearly all of the placer excitements in the province. In 1888, he was stationed at Donald as a provincial constable. In 1889, he was transferred to Nelson and made mining recorder. He was afterwards appointed clerk of the courts, and held that position until ill health compelled him to resign, which he did in 1897. In that year he took up his residence at Maitland, Grenville county, Ontario, where he has since resided.

No man was a truer friend than Terrance H. Giffin, and no man rendered the province of British Columbia truer service than he did when in office.

At one time Mr. Giffin owned considerable property in Nelson, but it had all been turned into money before his death, ex-sheriff W. P. Robinson acting as his agent.

Will Build the Road.

VANCOUVER, November 26.—[Special to The Tribune.]—Clifford Sifton left today for the east. In an interview he stated that the government would positively build the Coast and Kootenay railway and that at no distant date.

Traffic Suspended.

LOUISVILLE, Kentucky, November 26.—No trains have reached Paducah, Kentucky, since Saturday morning owing to the washout and flooded railway lines. Today the waters began to recede and by tomorrow traffic will probably be resumed.

THE WORK OF THE COUNCIL

MAY INCREASE THE MEMBERSHIP TO EIGHT.

Lively Tilt Over the Request of Members of the Fire Department for a Weekly Practice Run.

The abolition of the ward system in electing members to the city council and the increasing of the membership from six aldermen as at present to eight, was the most interesting feature of last night's council meeting. Alderman Hall gave notice that at the next council meeting he would introduce a resolution providing for the increase in the number of aldermen as stated above. His argument in favor of the innovation was two-fold; first that the city had grown since the board was constituted to such an extent that the committee work took up more time than any business man could afford to devote gratuitously and that two additional aldermen would materially relieve this pressure of business. The second point involved was that in outside points where the size and importance of a city like Nelson was often gauged by the number of aldermen, a board of six members conveyed a misleading impression of the importance of this city.

Mayor Houston suggested that the abolition of the ward system in electing aldermen would be even a more important step in the direction of improvement in municipl government. The idea was discussed at some length, most of the aldermen being unaware that the statutes permitted such a change. All the members favored the suggestion and it was incorporated in the notice of motion, which was then passed. The question comes up on Monday night next and will probably be adopted.

Three members of the fire department, George W. Steele, Fred Bradley and Barney Archibald, appeared before the council with a petition requesting the board to approve of the practice run, for which the members of the brigade would be remunerated at the rate of $2.50 each. The mayor remarked that these weekly practices had been commenced when alarms were few in number and had been continued weekly until a few weeks ago when the council had decided on a policy of retrenchment until the close of the year in order that the council might not exceed the revenue for the year. The heads of all departments, including the fire department, had been notified to this effect, hence the suspension of practices. A scrutiny of the payrolls for the year would show that the firemen had received more money this year than during any previous year. The deputation requested permission to address the council in support of the petition, and alderman Arthur moved that the requested be granted. This was declared out of order, but was supported on an appeal from the ruling of the mayor, and addresses were made by George W. Steele and F. J. Bradley. The former stated that if the terms of the petition were not complied with, the brigade would quit next day. Mr. Bradley used language that was deemed unparliamentary and was asked to sit down. Aldermen Hall and Arthur then moved that the matter be referred to a special committee, consisting of the mover, seconder and alderman Irvine. This was carried, the mayor reserving his perogative of vetoing the motion, and stated that the fire department would probably find that their bulldozing tactics would not work.

The bylaw to regulate the payment of water rates was reconsidered and other matters of business attended to. The members in attendance were mayor Houston, aldermen Hall, Irvine, Morrison and Arthur.

Will Remain a While Longer.

OTTAWA, November 26.—Comptroller Fred White of the Northwest Mounted Police has received a letter from colonel Steele, dated Pretoria, October 17th. The colonel said that the regiment had given over their horses to the British cavalry corps and returned to Pretoria, expecting to start for home, but were asked afterwards to remount and put in another few weeks in the field. The counter orders were due to a scarcity of recruits for the Transvaal constabulary, which is being organized more slowly than was expected. Colonel Steele said that he did not know how long they would remain, probably six weeks. Contrary to what might be expected very few of the Strathconas are willing to enter the Transvaal constabulary or stay in South Africa.

Canadian Casualties.

OTTAWA, November 26.—Sir Alfred Milner reports to the governor-general the death from disease at Watervaal of sergeant Evatteon of "D" battery R. C. A.

A Star correspondent cables: "Major MacDougall, regimental adjutant of special service battalion, Royal Canadian regiment, left South Africa for England on the steamship Dunmore Castle November 21st. Private L. B. Scott, Strathcona's Horse, who was accidentally shot dead at Muzara on November 21st, belonged to his regiment."

Result of a Recount.

MONTREAL, November 26.—The recount before the judge in St. Antoine division was concluded today, with the result that the majority of Dr. Roddick, Conservative, was increased from 57 to 87. One poll which gave McKay, Liberal, a majority of 21, was thrown out because the deputy returning officer had numbered ballots instead of counterfeits, making identification of voters possible.

Old Li Is Sick.

LONDON, November 27.—Li Hung Chang, according to the Shang-Hai correspondent of the Morning Post, is seriously ill.

GREAT BRITAIN LOOKS WELL

A PROMISING LARDO MINING PROPERTY.

Trial Shipments From the Great Britain Group Owned by Nelson and Rossland Parties Now at Smelter.

D. D. Birks of Lardo, manager of the syndicate which has the Great Britain group under bond in the Lardo district, has been in the city for several days closing up several matters of business before returning to the property to superintend the extensive program of development mapped out for the winter months. The Great Britain is a promising property and the course of events in connection with it will be watched with considerable interest because of the fact that Nelson parties are extensively interested.

The Great Britain comprises four claims, the Great Britain, Dominion, Ontario, Canadian Boy and Mammoth. It is situated 13 miles northwest of the head of Kootenay lake on the headwaters of Meadow and Cooper creeks, and is reached by following the C. P. R. grade for four miles from Lardo, and then taking the trail built to the group. The claims were staked in 1897 by Dan McLean of Rossland and Sidney Stride of Nelson, who afterwards sold to Robert McLean of Kaslo and John Loyd of Rossland. In July last the property was bonded by D. D. Birks and S. A. Hartman of Rossland. The latter has since disposed of his interest to John A. Turner and S. P. Shaw of Nelson. The syndicate has spent $3500 in development since taking over the group, besides establishing a comfortable and commodious camp. Five men are employed at the present time, this being the maximum which the supplies brought in before the snow came will provision.

The Great Britain is a silver-lead proposition, the ore carrying gold and copper also. There are two ledges running northwest and southeast, paralleling at a distance of 100 feet and distinguished as the east and west ledges. On the east and west ledges 20 sacks of clean shipping ore was taken off the surface without firing a shot. Of this 13 sacks are now being treated at the Hall Mines smelter as a test, the ore being typical of the ledge. The lot averages 50 ounces of silver, 45 per cent in lead, $9 in gold and two and a half per cent copper, an aggregate of over $70. Individual specimens from this vein have assayed as high as $135. The work on this ledge consists of an open cut on the surface and a tunnel now in 60 feet at which point a depth of 100 feet is obtained. The tunnel is being continued steadily. On the west ledge a tunnel has been driven 18 feet, and at a depth of 35 feet 32 inches of ore is in sight. A shipment of 23 sacks from this tunnel is being sampled at the smelter and it is expected the net returns will be $50 per ton.

On the west ledge, in addition to the tunnel referred to, an open cut has been made for 20 feet, below this is the 18-foot tunnel, securing a depth of 35 feet; 150 feet lower is a 12-foot open cut, where the ledge is 4½ feet wide with eight inches of ore. A second tunnel is now being driven 50 feet further down, and it is estimated that at 100 or 125 feet a crosscut will tap the east ledge.

The syndicate will eventually stock the property. The C. P. R. line now being projected through the Lardo will pass within 6½ miles of the Great Britain, and excellent transportation facilities will thus be afforded.

Probably Sunk.

PORTLAND, Maine, November 26.—British vice-consul Kerr today received a message dated Lockport, N. S., from E. Churchill, owner of the Schr Alina, saying that no tidings had been received of her. The Alina was the vessel which was in collision with the steamer Numidian. It is feared that she has foundered and sunk with the nine men who were on her, although there is a possibility that they may have been rescued by some vessel.

William Wants More Ships.

BERLIN, November 26.—Emperor William has sent to the reichstag charts, maps and statistics showing the growing of the Russian, the British, the French and the United States navies and also their strength in far eastern waters. In view of this the members of the reichstag fear that another bill to increase the strength of the German navy is coming.

AN AWFUL CASUALTY, IF TRUE

A Train on the Chesapeake and Ohio, With 200 Passengers, Plunges Into the River.

DAMAGE BY THE STORM IN ALL PARTS OF THE COUNTRY.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, November 26.—A special to the Commercial Tribune from Charleston, West Virginia, says: It is reported that a Chesepeake and Ohio railway train went through the Green Brier river bridge, which had been damaged by the prevailing floods. It is supposed that there were about 200 people on the train and that all were lost. All wires are down at and near the crossing of this river and it is impassible to get any sort of confirmation of the disaster. Even the railway officials are unable to communicate with points on this side of the river.

Another Severe Storm.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, November 26. Another violent storm prevailed today on lake Erie and throughout Northern Ohio, the wind coming from the north, blowing at the rate of 60 miles an hour this morning. The gale was accompanied by ice and sleet. The lake was lashed to a wild fury and no vessels are leaving port. The telegraph and telephone companies have suffered great damage from the heavy storm of last week and were again badly handicapped by the prostration of lines on practically all routes.

Storm Bound Steamers.

MONTREAL, November 26.—A big snow storm raged here all day, delaying trains and impeding street car traffic, but the most serious effect was the delay caused to the sailing of ocean steamers. The Lake Champlain, the last passenger steamer of the season, took her passengers, 225 in number, on board Sunday morning, but the ship is still tied to her docks unable to get away. The steamship Etalia, of the Elder-Dempster line, is also tied up waiting for the storm to abate, as are two upper lake steamers, the Leafield and the Ano, bound for Asiatic ports. All expect to get away in the morning as the indications are for clearing and colder weather. Two Head line steamers are expected to arrive in port this morning and there are still two upper lake boats to get away. The chances are that they may have a tussel with the ice. The season is one of the latest on record.

Snowstorm Creates Havoc.

OSWEGO, New York, November 26.—The heavy snowstorm of the past 36 hours has caused great damage to wires and other property throughout the city and surrounding country. No lake disasters have been reported as yet.

Dismasted and Helpless.

PORTSMOUTH, New Hampshire, November 26.—The patrolman of the Wallis Sands life saving station this afternoon sighted a heavily laden schooner drifting ashore on the Sands dismasted and helpless. Her name could not be made out. There was no sign of life on board and it was thought the crew had been washed overboard by the furious seas. The life savers prepared to go to the schooner as soon as she should strike the bottom.

Later.—The vessel struck about one hour after being sighted and began to go to pieces. The life savers went to the vessel but found no one on board. The name on the stern-board was Advance. The life savers think she is British.

Killed by a Trolley Wire.

AKRON, Ohio, November 26.—Frank Werner and Louis Rohrer were killed here today by a trolley wire which the storm had torn from the poles.

TWO OF THE CANDIDATES

It is all McKane.

KAMLOOPS, November 26.—[Special to The Tribune.]—Canvassers reports just in from Cariboo and Lillooet promise large majorities for McKane. His meeting at Ashcroft was a grand success. Ex-premier Semlin is helping energetically. Talk here is all McKane, and his visit has infused life into the election and enthusiasm into the Conservatives. Majorities he will get throughout Yale and Cariboo districts will more than balance any adverse majority elsewhere.

Galliher in Sandon Tonight.

SANDON, November 26.—[Special to The Tribune.]—Sifton of Calgary and Taylor of Nelson, who were billed to speak here tonight, did not materialize owing to a change of programme. They are speaking in Silverton. Galliher speaks here tomorrow night.

Would Not Meet McKane.

REVELSTOKE, November 26.—[Special to The Tribune.]—Galliher, Dean, Jim Martin and Hon. J. H. Ross of Regina, are here. They refused to meet McKane. They were invited and offered half the time to speak. The Grits are on the run and can't face John McKane.

Troubles of the Castellanes.

NEW YORK, November 26.—Samuel Untemeyer obtained today from justice Fitzgerald in the supreme court an injunction order returnable on Monday next against the count and the countess De Castellane and George Edwin, Howard and Helen M. Gould, as trustees under the will of the late Jay Gould, restraining them from paying to Anna Gould, countess De Castellane, any part of the trust fund for the debts of Anna Gould or to the support of her children until the further direction of the court. The plaintiff in the suit is Anton J. Ditmar, who sues as assignee of Asher Worthimer, a London brickabrac dealer.

IN October the city council began to take stock of their work for the year, and it was found that economy would be necessary to make a fair showing at the end of the year. The heads of all departments were duly notified of this, and all accepted the order in the spirit in which it was given except the fire-department. Fire has been smoldering in the department ever since, and last night the city council were notified through a committee that certain payments must be made or members of the brigade would resign. All those wishing to resign will probably be given the chance to do so this morning.

THE Conservatives are reported as making a good fight in the western part of Yale-Cariboo since John McKane entered the race. THE TRIBUNE is in receipt of telegrams from different sections, and they are printed for what they are worth. While the Conservatives are sending in enthusiastic reports, the Liberals are receiving equally enthusiastic reports. The Independent Labor party wheelhorses are making all they can out of the Galliher-eight-hour-law-petition episode, but it is doubtful whether it will have any great weight on the result. Galliher, no doubt, signed the petition; but he afterwards did good work in supporting those who were known to be sound on that issue. Where he made a mistake was in denying that he signed it, without first refreshing his memory.

WRITTEN BY LIBERALS.

THE TRIBUNE has placed a part of one column at the disposal of the Liberals, whose views will be expressed therein from time to time during the campaign. A like privilege is accorded the Labor party and the Conservatives.

The Conservatives are circulating a dodger which repeats the campaign lie started by John McKane. John McKane originated the lie at Rossland, when W. A. Galliher was in the northern extremity of the constituency, he repeated it at Kamloops when Mr. Galliher was at the western end of the constituency and could not get there in time, though he denied the lie again by telegraph, and now Mr. McKane's local committee repeats it again in a lying pamphlet when Mr. Galliher is in distant parts of Yale and cannot be communicated with. Mr. Galliher will be back in a day or two, and then one more Conservative lie will be nailed to the cross. But the Conservatives hope that some will see and believe the lie who will not hear of the exposure. This is a sample of Conservative campaign tactics all over the Dominion. What can be said for a cause whose only argument and sole battle cry is a personal slander on the standard bearer of its opponents, a lie which, while it might hurt the Liberals, the hereditary foe, can only help Mr. Foley not the Conservatives?

Contrast Mr. Foley's attitude. He declines to believe the accusation, which if true would help him and not Mr. McKane, until Mr. Galliher has had a chance to give his side of the matter. In the meantime he accepts Mr. Galliher's denial.

John McKane's own record with regard to labor is well known in Rossland as an avowed and an uncomprising opponent of the eight-hour law and all labor legislation. The workers of his own town and district showed what they thought of him in 1898, when they turned him down most emphatically in favor of James Martin. Mr. Galliher will be back this week, and the people will reserve their judgment until they have heard him. On December 6th they will render their verdict and it will not be in favor of lies, slanders or John McKane.

WRITTEN BY CONSERVATIVES.

[THE TRIBUNE has placed a part of one column at the disposal of the Conservatives, whose views will be expressed therein from time to time during the campaign. A like privilege is accorded the Labor party and the Liberals.]

This petition is bad business for the barrister candidate. It goes to show how careful political aspirants should be, for here we have a possible prospective member fishing for the labor vote and talking eight-hour law, cooperative stores, etc., to the crowd while all the time he was opposed to this measure, as evidenced in that remarkable petition which is singularly enough dated April 1st. There can be no question but that this disclosure will cost W. A. Galliher his election. All of which goes to prove that although one may fool some people some of the time, one can't fool all the people all the time, and that the race is not always to the swift.

The political world breathes more freely today, for colonel Topping has written a letter on Liberalism, intended to straighten out the general crookedness and to air his views on the question of protection to the mining industry of the country. It is nice to know that the Liberal party is not "iron clad," doubtless it is like the colonel himself, of the "unarmored cruiser" sort—a trifle weak in spots if the enemy aims true!

All this dribble by the Liberals over the lead export duty comes too late in the day; the electors have no intention of being led away by this touching interest in a matter that the present administration has absolutely ignored since the question came up some three years since.

A policeman's lot is not a happy one neither can G. C. Buchanan of Kaslo be just at present. Having stood sponser to the lead duty proposition and presented it to all the boards of trade in the Kootenays and laid it at the feet of sir Wilfrid Laurier and colleagues, only to be snubbed for his pains, we find this political aspirant nailing his flag at the Liberal mast, knowing, as he must do, that the present government has no intention of putting on this duty on lead products and consequently the maintenance in power of a Liberal-Conservative administration is inimical to the best interests of the Slocan district so closely allied as it is alike to Mr. Buchanan's commercial and political ambitions.

We hear little these days of that young sapling the Labor party. One wonders if the late gale blew it down and if it is resting peacefully under its winter snow. A better resting place could hardly be found, if such be so, for it may revive with the magic touch of spring along with the flowers tra la. Meanwhile it is sad to reflect that so much energy has been wasted on a lost cause, when the labor voters could do so much more good to themselves by tangible sympathy to a man of the John McKane stamp, who in helping himself is at best helping them toward financial emancipation.

VOICING PUBLIC OPINION.

Trout Lake Topic.

The Nelson TRIBUNE is taking several falls out of the provincial mineralogist for his alleged action in disparaging the mines of British Columbia. If these allegations against this official are correct then he should be shot out of his soft snap quicker than scat, for a man, in the face of facts such as the increased ore productions of the Boundary, East Kootenay, Slocan and Lardeau camps, who would still feel pessimistic about British Columbia's future as a great mineral country, is either a fool or a knave. However, we hope these rumors are unfounded, and that the provincial mineralogist accepts the season's progress as proof that things mining are in a more than satisfactory condition both as regards development and ore production. It is a pretty despondent cuss who preaches blue ruin when one camp can keep a smelter supplied with 600 tons a day and the smelter people are talking of doubling the capacity of their plant. When one reads of a $225,000 deal being closed in the Lillooet district and preparations are being made to put in a gigantic plant to work the properties obtained one ought not to search for a dark spot to look at. From every camp comes reports of increased activity in production and the best proof that these reports are correct is the fact that several new smelters are in the course of construction in the south country. When British Columbia is taking steps to have its ore treated at home we ought not to feel blue, for if the country did not justify it the immense sums of money which are being invested every day, both in the mining and smelting industry, would never find its way into British Columbia. So cheer up, Mr. Mineralogist, for we who are up against it in the heart of these mines and have stuck to the proposition for years are not desponding by a great deal; on the contrary we are seeing our hopes and predictions verified all around us and believe that the future, which is only at its dawn, will well repay us for our faith and any little privations we may have endured during past years.

Ferguson Eagle.

The Nelson Tribune is after provincial mineralogist Robertson's scalp. And not without some reason. When Mr. Robertson was in the Lardeau a few weeks ago the Eagle drew his attention to the fact that the late provincial mineralogist Carlyle had made a baseless attack upon Great Northern hill, without even having visited it, declaring it to be barren or words to that effect. The Eagle and dozens of local mining men know by actual experience that his report was false. But Mr. Robertson's reply was: "Oh I've been over that hill years ago. I know all about it, and I don't know but Mr. Carlyle was about right." If Mr. Robinson's opinion of this camp as a whole is no better than his opinion of Great Northern hill, the sooner a man who understands his business succeeds him the better. A man who "knows all about it" is dangerous to the country's best interests.

American Jockeys in England.

The general mystification as to the present status of Tod Sloan in England is somewhat solved by a letter received from an English newspaper man who also served his apprenticeship in the country. In other words he knows the game on both sides, and furthermore served his time in a volunteer regiment in the Spanish-American war.

This correspondent writes: "While in decent circles here—not absolutely the old conservative followers of racing—the general impression is that lord Durham is mistaken and has somewhat overshot the mark, the news that Tod Sloan is not after all to ride for the prince of Wales has come as no surprise. I believe there is no doubt that Sloan has been detected betting publicly, etc., and the probabilities are that he will not get his license next year. He is very sore about being turned down.

"By the way, it is not at all probable that 'Skeets' Martin will ride here next season, but, rumors notwithstanding, Lester Reiff is all right and has the backing of the Beresfords. Willy Simons is doing poorly enough in France."

Of course Lester Reiff's trouble about the running of lord Durham's Gerolstein and Richard Croker's The Scotchman II has occurred since the above letter was received. Still in view of the recent failure of the English Jockey Club to convict Reiff, it seems as if the support of the Beresfords may have really been a factor in the case.

The trouble for American jockeys in England in fact seems to have been exclusively for those such as Sloan and "Skeets" Martin, who have been hitting it up too much in private life.

THE BANK OF BRITISH COLUMBIA NELSON

Is now prepared to issue Drafts and Letters of Credit on Skaguay, U. S., Atlin, B. C., and Dawson City, N. W. T.

Will Get a Good Salary.

It is announced that Mr. Hayes, who just left the service of the Grand Trunk to become general manager of the S. P., will in his new position receive an annual salary of $65,000. This is more than the salary of the president of the United States or the governor-general of Canada—more than double the salary of the manager of the British empire, as lord Salisbury as prime minister receives $25,000.

The Knife Need Not Be Used.

And so the knife has not been a necessity in dealing with cases of appendicitis! How many hundreds of victims have been sacrificed on the operating table, however, before the fact became established. It is a German professor of surgery, a man high enough in his profession for his statements to command respect, who denies that an operation for appendicitis is in any case necessary, and asserts that he can always reduce the obstreperous membrane by external applications and medicine. The shock of the operation under the influence of anaesthetics is the one the system does not readily get better of, and it is a joyful thing to hear that the doctors have at last called a halt.

CITY LOCAL NEWS

Hon. Richard McBride, minister of mines, will go out to the Ymir mine and mill today, and thence to Rossland. He will probably be back in Nelson the fore part of next week, on the way to the mines in East Kootenay.

The annual banquet of the carpenters' union at the Victoria hotel on Wednesday night promises to be a success. Robert Robinson, president of the union, will occupy the chair, and a number of contractors have accepted the invitation to be present.

R. P. Pettipiece, editor and proprietor of the Ferguson Eagle, one of the best country newspapers in the province, arrived in Nelson last night from Rossland. He reports ore shipments as commencing in the Lardeau, and is enthusiastic over the future of that section of West Kootenay.

C. Dease was charged at the police court yesterday with cruelty to animals, in connection with the horse which fell through the floor at the rear of D. McArthur & Co.'s morgue. One of the witnesses for the defense was M. Baldwin who swore that he had purchased the horse. Thereupon an information was laid against Baldwin and a fine of $25 imposed.

Jim Wilks returned last night from a spellbinding trip through the Boundary. He spoke at Phœnix, Midway and Greenwood. At the latter point the opera house was crowded and an innovation was introduced in the shape of a quartette which warbled Foley campaign songs. The Labor party will hold a meeting at the opera house here on Tuesday night next at which candidate Foley and the Greenwood quartette are among the leading features.

PHRENOLOGY IS EXPLAINED

By Professor Alexander.

A large audience greeted professor Alexander, the eminent phrenologist, at the opera house last night when he opened his series of lectures in Nelson. The initial lecture was genuinely entertaining and instructive, so much so that the success of the balance of the series is practically assured. Professor Alexander impresses one as being far removed from the ordinary itinerant phrenologist. He is a man of refinement and education, with the happy knack of presenting the claims of the science he champions in an interesting and logical manner. The subject of phrenology has been discussed at great length from time to time, and the unscientific follower of the various lines of argument has doubtless been at a loss to determine whether the proper classification of the phrenologist was that of charlatan or scientist. Any citizen who has entertained such a doubt will be well repaid by attending professor Alexander's lectures. His arguments are logical and carry conviction to the minds of the most skeptical. Above and beyond the serious aspect of the subject the professor's talks are most entertaining. He has a strong vein of wit which never fails to excite the risibilities of his audiences. As an entertainment solely the lectures merit patronage and Nelsonites will doubtless appreciate the opportunity. At the close of the lecture last night professor Alexander raised some fun with a public examination of the heads of J. H. Wallace, Rev. J. H. White, Leonard Scott and R. G. Joy. Of the former he said his chief success would be in a commercial line. The clergyman he said would have made a good physician. He was not above medium in eloquence but could not be convinced within a short-time limit. Messrs. Scott and Joy were the opposites of each other in many of their chief characteristics and considerable merriment was caused by the professor's handling of their respective tendencies.

Lively Runaway.

About 4:45 o'clock yesterday afternoon a lively runaway occurred on Baker street. A heavy team of horses, owned by the Nelson Transfer Company and attached to a wagon used for delivering wood, took fright on Ward street. They started on a mad gallop toward Baker street. At the corner Sandy Allen tried to stop the runaway, but a dozen men could not have held them at that stage of the game. The team ran east on Baker street with two wheels scraping on the curbstone and raising a cloud of sparks. The outfit turned north on Josephine street to Vernon and then proceeded to Front street where the wagon was left comparatively uninjured while the horses continued running until tired out.

Chambers Sittings.

Judge Forin disposed of a couple of matters in chambers yesterday. Letters of administration were issued to Barbara Cannell in the estate of the late Kenneth Cannell. The value of the estate was placed at $1700. R. W. Hannington appeared for the application. J. A. Macdonald & Co. vs. Halcyon Hot Springs Company, an action on account set down for the approaching county court sitting, R. W. Hannington made a motion for judgment for plaintiffs, R. S. Lennie contra. The motion was granted.
