SHORT COUNCIL MEETING

NONE BUT ROUTINE BUSINESS DISCUSSED.

Some Improvements Recommended by the Committee Will Be Made, but Others Are Hung Up.

The members of the city council held a short session last evening when the current accounts were passed and a number of minor repairs were ordered to be made. The consideration of the report of the finance committee developed the only division during the meeting. In this report occurred a recommendation that contractor Hepburn be paid the sum of $87.50 for lumber left over from the recent celebration. This the majority of the members of the council did not understand, and as a result this portion of the report was thrown out. When mayor Fletcher arrived, however, he explained that the lumber in question had been used by the city, and that nothing remained for the council to do but pay the bill. It was Hobson's choice for the council, and the bill was ordered paid along with the others.

The public works committee presented a lengthy report recommending a number of improvements. Such of them as were considered absolutely necessary were ordered to be done and the others were either left over or referred to the mayor and city engineer for such action as might be considered necessary. Clause one, recommending certain repairs to the city stables, was adopted. The second clause, recommending that Vernon street, from Kootenay to Stanley, be graded, was amended so that nothing but necessary repairs will be made at present. Clause three, recommending that the sidewalk on the south side of Houston street be extended to Josephine street, was knocked out. Clause four, recommending that Hendryx street, between Silica and Carbonate street, be graded and ditched, was left to the city engineer.

The other clauses of the report were adopted as read. They were as follows: Five—That a catch basin be put in at the corner of Victoria and Stanley streets; sixth—that a temporary catch basin be put in the lane of block 36 at a cost of $10; seventh—that a car of sewer pipe be purchased at a cost of $250; that the outlet of Cottonwood lake be dammed, at a cost of $250, so as to increase the storage of water in the lake for electric light purposes; ninth—that a suitable building be erected over the city weigh scales for the use of the weighmaster.

The fire, water and light committee had a report before the council in which they recommended the purchase of a split pulley at a cost of $298, and that necessary repairs be made to one of the armatures at the light station. The first recommendation of the committee was referred to mayor Fletcher and alderman Paterson for action and the second was adopted.

The application of James Sproat for three months' leave of absence was referred to the superintendent, as well as the application of George Beaumont for employment in Sproat's place during the former's absence.

E. A. Crease was given a month's vacation, and after the tax rate by-laws were formally reconsidered and put through their final stages the council adjourned.

Mrs. Kruger Buried.

PRETORIA, July 22.—Mrs. Kruger, wife of former president Kruger of the South African republic, who died Saturday last of pneumonia, after an illness of three days, was buried here this afternoon.

AMSTERDAM, July 22.—Former president Kruger of the South African republic is very depressed at the death of his wife, but his health is unaffected. On the contrary, he has thrown himself into his work with more than his usual energy.

Press comment on the death of Mrs. Kruger is sympathetic. The newspapers do not attach any political significance to the event.

The Constitution a Flyer.

NEW YORK, July 22.—The race between the Constitution and Columbia on Long Island sound today demonstrated that the Constitution is the faster boat. In a light breeze and smooth water over a 21-mile course the Columbia was defeated 4 minutes 18 seconds elapsed time. The cruise of the New York Yacht Club opened brilliantly today with the contest for three valuable cups presented by commodore Ledyard. After the rendezvous at Glen Cove the squadron got under way for the starting line off Matinecock Point buoy, where the steam yacht Reverie with the regatta committee aboard let go her anchor. The whole fleet was eligible to compete and was divided into three classes, schooners, single masted vessels and yawls in cruising trim and the two cup defenders, Constitution and Columbia in racing trim. Naturally the principal interest was on the two splendid racers which came to the encounter in thoroughly fit condition. Both had been hauled out and polished and burnished until their underbodies gleamed. Many defects in the rig of the Constitution had been remedied.

The water was smooth and the wind was fairly steady from start to finish. The Constitution started absolutely last. She overhauled the next very rapidly and several minutes before the outward mark was reached, she held a proud position in the van, beating the Columbia four minutes and seven seconds. Luffing beautifully round the mark, she buckled down to a pretty thresh to windward and in this short leg she gained 56 seconds. In the last leg she gained six seconds and romped past the stake boat a winner of the commodore cup. The extension of the bowsprit of the Constitution will necessitate a remeasurement of the yacht for time allowance. Roughly estimated the Constitution should allow the Columbia 51 seconds over a 21-mile course, so on corrected time the Constitution is a winner by 3 minutes 27 seconds.

Second Trial for Canada Cup

CHICAGO, July 22.—The second trial for the Canada cup was sailed this afternoon in a northeast wind, averaging 20 miles an hour, and was won by the Cadillac of Detroit, Detroit of Detroit second, Illinois third, Mineola fourth and Prairie fifth. The last three boats are from Chicago. The Milwaukee, which won the first race sailed Saturday, lost her rudder 20 minutes after starting and was compelled to drop out. The Yankee of Chicago and Orion of Milwaukee turned back and did not go over the course. The course today was nine miles to windward and return.

TELEGRAMS IN BRIEF FORM

From Various Sources

GLASGOW, July 22.—John Anderson, the well-known shipbuilder of this city, is dead.

NEW YORK, July 22.—Four people drowned and 27 people rescued is the record for yesterday's yachting and bathing accidents in the waters around New York.

PLYMOUTH, July 22.—The Orient line steamer Ormuz, from Sydney for London, landed here two persons supposed to be suffering from bubonic plague. One case developed after leaving Marseilles.

PITTSBURG, July 22.—A whole family was burned in a Pennsylvania avenue tenement fire this morning. The mother and three children are dead and the husband is badly burned. The explosion of an oil can was the cause of the fire.

KANSAS CITY, July 22.—Mrs. Ora J. Talman of Valparaiso, Ind., died at the University hospital today, being the 23d victim of the Chicago & Alton train wreck. She was on the way to the Epworth League convention at San Francisco when injured.

ST. LOUIS, July 22.—The first meeting of the delegates of the different metal trades assembled in St. Louis for the purpose of forming a national metal trades council will be held this afternoon. Presidents of the national bodies have promised to be in attendance.

CHICAGO, July 22.—Gaston Steigler, who was striving to break the record around the world for the Matin of Paris, France, has left here for Niagara Falls. Steigler expects to reach Paris on August 1st. His time in the world-encircling tour will probably not be under 64 days.

LOS ANGELES, July 22.—Colonel Albert Jenks, a well known artist, dropped dead this morning on the street. Colonel Jenks was born in New York 75 years ago. Among the distinguished persons whose portraits he has painted were president Abraham Lincoln, general Phil Sheridan and general John A. Logan.

PITTSFIELD, Mass., July 22.—With three steps in its case against Robert S. Fosburg, the alleged slayer of his sister May, apparently well fortified the prosecution came to the opening of the third day's session of the trial of young Fosburg for manslaughter with the announcement that it hoped to complete its case before night.

KANSAS CITY, July 22.—Fourteen deaths from heat, with fully 40 prostrations, were reported up to 1 o'clock today in Kansas City, Mo., and Kansas City, Kan., for the past 36 hours. Nine of these occurred yesterday and five since midnight last night. At 1 o'clock this afternoon the weather bureau thermometer registered 112. Not a drop of rain is reported from any point in the southwest today and there is no immediate prospect of moisture.

DENVER, July 22.—Destruction by forest and prairie fires is reported from different points in the state, directly attributable to the condition of grass and timber from the long dry spell. Timber fires have been burning several days near Mount Evans, Long's Peak and on the Kenasha range and in the center of the stock raising district come reports of destruction to prairie grass. The officials and ranchmen are becoming alarmed at the shortage of water in the stream.

BUFFALO, July 22.—The week opened at the Pan-American exposition with the arrival of the Broadview battalion of cadets from Toronto. The cadets created a sensation when they marched across the plaza and court, over the court of fountains, the esplanade, and through the triumphal causeway, from the railroad gate to camp Millard Fillmore. There were in the party 75 members of the Cobourg band and 112 members of the Broadview cadets of Toronto. The boys are on their annual tour of camp duty.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 22.—The Novosti reports that the capital of the copper company in which, according to the Novo Vremya, United States senator W. A. Clark has joined with Kieff capitalists, will be 20,000,000 roubles, of which Kieff will supply 3,000,000 roubles and Moscow 4,600,000. The Ascension mines, near Semipalatintsk, are among the richest. It is said the government granted the original syndicate a subsidy of 2,500,000 roubles. Senator Clark will visit Kieff in the autumn, his son going to Siberia to inspect the mines.

JOHN McKANE ON THE ROSSLAND SITUATION

Manipulating Mine Managers Scored Without Mercy.

John McKane arrived in Nelson yesterday from Rossland on his way to the Lavina group in the Lardo, upon which his company has mapped out extensive work for the summer. Mr. McKane will wait over in Nelson for a couple of days, in order to meet the company's engineer, who is to lay the work out, and is at present a guest at the Phair.

Mr. McKane is generally well informed upon Rossland matters, and for this reason a Tribune representative sought an interview with him upon the present miners' strike. In speaking on this subject, Mr. McKane said one would hardly realize that there was a strike on in Rossland, but for the large number of idle men seen on the streets in the evening. Despite predictions to the contrary, everything remaied quiet and orderly. This was clearly demonstrated the other day when the miners, to the number of 1000, held their annual picnic, without the slightest disorder of any kind and with no indication of intoxication on the part of any man in the entire number. There is no reason why the miners of Kootenay require any such testimony of this nature, but when so much is written and said to intimate that they are on the whole a disorderly set of men, there is some excuse for setting out what they do in contrast to what others appear so fond of saying they will do. I have been at picnics before, and I have seen strikers' processions in other countries, but I have yet to see or learn of a more respectable body of men than those who paraded the streets of Rossland the other day. In short, I consider that one of the great losses of the present strike lies in the fact that many of these men by reason of the strike will seek employment elsewhere. They are going out quickly, and as a rule the most desirable of the men are going. Up to the present it is estimated that from 500 to 700 men have gone out of the camp to seek employment elsewhere, simply because there does not appear to be a disposition to give and take a little on both sides. That a solution of the present difficulty could be reached by this means appears to be the opinion of almost every reasonable man in the camp, but so far no intelligent move in this direction has been made. For my own part, when I think over the years since these mines fell into the hands of their present owners, I can't help saying, O, what a fall for the camp was there. Over-capitalization, manipulation, in a word, fake. If from the standpoint of the mines themselves a fight were necessary, why was it not made upon the eight-hour law when it was first put into effect. There would have been some sense and justice in the mine owners then standing shoulder to shoulder and demanding a reduced wage for a reduced day of eight hours. But where were the present Rossland mine owners then? In the opinion of many, they were simply lying low to make disgraceful flotations at the right moment and scoop the public, who had confidence in their ability and integrity. Could the War Eagle fight the eight-hour law when the Center Star had not bubbled forth with a capital of $2,500,000 at a premium of 50 cents per share? Could Whittaker Wright take a stand honestly when his beautiful methods and flotations had not matured? Properties bought by ex-governor Macintosh for a trifle, comparatively, $150,000 and $250,000, floated on the London market for $2,500,000 and $3,000,000. In the case of the War Eagle and Center Star, J. B. Hastings, the then idol of the Rossland public, and upon whose examination the Crown Point, War Eagle, and Center Star were bought, made his pile by bearing the stock. He has vanished into thin air, like some other idols that we now have might do to the general advantage of the camp. What of the War Eagle now? All the War Eagle now bears is a debt of $600,000. Its yoke is not easy, but Kirby and Blackstock are light.

Take the Le Roi. Did W. A. Carlyle stand Wright's methods? No. He refused point blank to be subject, or make a tool of himself, to Whittaker Wright, or to stoop to stock exchange fakirism. The Globe disaster finished Wright, but today Carlyle holds the respect of the people of Rossland, who now only fully appreciate his sterling worth, and they are glad to know that he is filling one of the highest positions in the mining world with credit to himself and the directors of the great Rio Tinto mine. If Carlyle were in Rossland today there might be a strike, but I could get 1000 men in Rossland to swear that there would be no throat-cutting or stabbing in the back game. Blackstock has been crying out in Toronto months ago that wages would have to come down, and today the Rossland Miner is bought to fight the unions. This is denied by the great open fighters who bought the Miner, and Heinze is called in to substantiate the lie. Today Heinze, in the Butte Reveille, his own paper, says the Rossland Miner is sold, and demands that his personal agent in Rossland give publicity to the statement. Why all this duplicity?

Why should McDonald and Kirby prepare and present obnoxious resolutions to the Rossland Board of Trade with a view to enlisting the sympathy and support of that intelligent and prominent body? Why? I tell you that there are wheels within wheels, and a great many men in Rossland who have no connection with the labor unions are in strong sympathy with them in the present strike, and many of them appreciate the stand which has been taken by The Tribune, which is fair to the camp, in that it does not go to the extreme either way. What is needed more than anything else is an intelligent presentation of the present difficulty, so that the public can understand what is at issue between the men who own the mines and the men who are required to work them. There has been altogether too much prating about the difficulties under which capital labors owing to the mining laws. Why not strike at the real evil from which the Rossland camp is suffering, over-capitalization and manipulation for stock exchange purposes? Admitting that the mining laws of British Columbia are not by any means perfect, have they inflicted the untold injury to this province done by the rottenness and robbery of the late high-class promoters? The present strike in the Rossland camp is due largely to the desire of the men managing over-capitalized properties to make the labor unions the scapegoats for their own sins. This is a phase of the difficulty which should be fully understood before anyone attempts to pass upon the respective merits of the two parties to the labor dispute in the Rossland camp. It is not solely a question of wages. It cannot be because the advance demanded by the muckers in the Le Roi would not amount in a year's operation to over £5000, and the owners of the Le Roi are supposed to have $15,000,000 worth of ore in sight in their property which only requires the labor of the miners to make it marketable. Mining companies when they have $15,000,000 worth of ore in sight do not usually abandon it simply because £5000 have been added to the cost of the property's working per annum.

As to the outcome of the present trouble, Mr. McKane said that matters had not yet sufficiently crystalized to enable anyone to speak with assurance, but all hoped to see conciliation tried, and there was a general feeling that in the near future common sense and good fellowship will prevail and work be resumed in what should be the most prosperous mining camp on the North American continent.

GRAND FORKS NEWS NOTES

VOLCANIC BROWN TO ORGANIZE A DEVELOPMENT COMPANY.

Boundary Line Will Not Be Moved North, but a Branch of an American Railway Will.

GRAND FORKS, July 22.—[Special to The Tribune.]—R. A. Brown has decided to organize a joint stock company for the purpose of developing his well-known Volcanic and Fantantine group of claims in Brown's camp, north fork of Kettle river. Development work was resumed a week ago. The Volcanic has probably the best surface showing in the Boundary country. Its enormous iron cap is a landmark visible for miles.

The American members of the International Boundary survey, after completing their labors in the vicinity of Midway, are now engaged in delimiting the frontier near this city. There is no foundation for the sensational report that Grand Forks would be found to be located on American territory. The line passes a point over two miles south of the city. The surveyors intimate that the boundary is approximately correct, and that consequently no changes in the locations of the monuments will be made.

There has been a marked improvement in business since the commencement of construction work on the Republic branch of the Great Northern railway. The outfits of a half dozen sub-contractors are strung along the line between here and Cascade, and grading is actually in progress within two miles of Grand Forks. The clearing of the right-of-way is nearly finished. Construction work on the branch line from Carson to Phoenix is expected to be started within a fortnight. A portion of the outfit of Jack Stewart of Spokane, who has the contract, reached here last week. There is still a great scarcity of laborers, and at the present outlook the demand promises to exceed the supply for weeks to come. A gang of 300, hired by Pat Welch, will reach here today and will be employed in this vicinity.

There is a movement on foot to amalgamate Grand Forks and its neighbor, Columbia. The negotiations have not advanced beyond the preliminary stage.

Sustained an Injunction.

LONDON, July 22.—The house of lords has reversed the decision of the appeal court dissolving the injunction rendered August 30, 1900, by justice Farwell in the high court of justice, which enjoined general secretary Bell of the Amalgamated Society of Railway Servants and restraining secretary Holmes from "watching and besetting" the Great Western railroad stations and approaches with a view of inducing non-unionists to refrain from taking the places of railroad strikers. This action of the house of lords restores justice Farwell's judgment. The house held that it was not the intention of the legislature to prevent a trades union from being sued if, through its officers, it was guilty of illegalities.

TO PREVENT CONSUMPTION

Congress Opened in London.

LONDON, July 22.—The British congress for the prevention of consumption was opened today by field marshal H. R. H. the duke of Cambridge, president of the congress, who welcomed the foreign delegates to the congress and spoke of the interest taken in the congress by king Edward. Lord Lansdowne, the foreign secretary, also welcomed the delegates and in the name of the government promised all the assistance the government was able to afford the congress in its endeavors to combat a disease more deadly than war. After the lord mayor of London, Frank Green, lord Strathcona and others had addressed the congress, lord Lister, one of the British vice presidents of the congress, in a few words conveyed the thanks of that body to Professor Koch of Germany and the other scientists for their welcome, saying they knew the enemy they had to deal with and that it was not only the prevention but the cure of consumption that the congress hoped to effect. A telegram was read from king Edward to the duke of Cambridge as follows: "I pray you heartily to welcome for me the eminent delegates of almost every nation who have assembled under your presidency and to express to them my earnest hope that the result of the deliberations of the congress will be to assist the world in mitigating this dread disease which has baffled the most distinguished physicians for so long."

Prior to the adjournment of the day's session of the congress the duke of Cambridge announced that a gift of £120,000 would be coming for the purpose of establishing the first public tuberculosis sanitarium as soon as the recommendations of the congress concerning its establishment had been formulated. Four hundred foreign delegates attended today's opening session. They included a number of Americans and Canadians. Several ambassadors and foreign ministers, including Joseph H. Choate, the American ambassador, also were present.

GHASTLY FIND ON THE TRAIL

BODIES OF SIX MEN FOUND NEAR CAPE ROMANOFF.

Evidently Perished From Starvation and Exposure—Terrific Surf Sweeping Nome Beach.

NOME, July 10, via Seattle, July 22.—A tragic story comes from St. Michael. A party of men en route to Nome recently found the bodies of six men at a point near Cape Romanoff. It is presumed they all froze to death during some one of the terrible blizzards that prevailed last winter. The bodies were scattered at intervals, five of them about a quarter of a mile apart. Each had some camp equipment near him, but no food. One of the dead men had been evidently injured or sick, as he lay on a litter constructed of a pair of oars and a canvas sheet. It would seem that the storm must have overcome those carrying him. Evidently becoming exhausted they had abandoned him and wandered off, each for himself to perish where found. General Rand thinks they were a party of prospectors, who, in an effort to reach St. Michael, had run out of provisions and perished from exhaustion and exposure.

PORT TOWNSEND, July 22.—The steamship Oregon has arrived here. The Oregon sailed from Nome July 13th. For several days previous to her sailing a fearful surf was sweeping the beach at Nome. A party consisting of ex-governor Ogilvie of Yukon territory, Dr. Herbert B. Hatch, and Mrs. E. S. Walker, wife of captain Walker, while being landed from the St. Paulina steam launch, barely escaped drowning.

News comes from Unamink island that two brothers named Sutherland, and a man named Jackson were probably murdered. The three men were landed there last fall by the schooner Thomas F. Bayard. She returned for them this season and found a collapsed tent. Inside were a coat and vest, both of which were pierced with knife cuts. One of the Sutherlands was known to have $1000 when he landed on the island.

The Chinese Indemnity.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—The state department received a dispatch today from commissioner Rockhill at Pekin announcing that a plan for the payment of the indemnity to the powers by the Chinese government had finally been adopted. The redemption of the bonds to be issued will begin in 1902 and the plan contemplates the entire liquidation of both principal and interest by 1940. It is expected that China will raise $23,000,000 annually. This sum is to be used to pay the interest on the bonds and to form a sinking fund for the ultimate liquidation of the principal.

Bisley Shooting.

LONDON, July 22.—In the rifle shooting competitions at Bisley, held under the auspices of the National Rifle Association, sergeant Proctor of the Seaforth Highlanders won the Dominion of Canada grand aggregate challenge trophy with a score of 354. In the same competition Canadians divided the City of London aggregate prize as follows: Private C. S. McDougall, £25; Richardson and Fleming, £7 10s; Swain, Murphy, Bayles, Mason, C. V. Spencer, and Wilson £5. The scores ranged from McDougall, with 336, to Wilson, with 220.

TORONTO, July 22.—The Evening Telegram's London cable says that of the four Canadians who shot in the final stage of the king's prize, lieutenant Ogg will reach 15th place and sergeant Wilson 18th.

FROM PROVINCIAL POINTS

Contractors Getting Ready.

PILOT BAY, July 22.—[Special to The Tribune.]—Johnson Brothers, who have secured a contract for the first 200 feet of the Commonwealth tunnel, have taken a crew of men up Hooker creek to the property with the intention of beginning work at once. The intention of the company is to drive a 400 foot tunnel on the big ledge on the Sultan claim. The present contract is expected to take three months to complete, two shifts being employed. The Commonwealth group, which comprises four claims, has a good showing of high grade gray copper and galena ore.

Improved With Work.

PILOT BAY, July 22.—[Special to The Tribune.]—Messrs. Johnson and Workman have returned from the Grand Prize group on Rose Pass, and report that the work done this season has considerably enhanced the value of the property, an improvement in both the quantity and quality of the galena in the main ledge being noticeable as depth is gained.

Judge Leamy Banqueted.

GREENWOOD, July 22.—[Special to The Tribune.]—Andrew Leamy, the newly appointed county court judge for the district of Kootenay, was tonight banqueted at the Hotel Armstrong by members of the local bar. Judge Leamy formally opened court this morning and was the recipient of an address and congratulations on his appointment to the bench.

Steamer on Fire.

VICTORIA, July 22.—The master of the steamer Nell, which arrived today, reports that 10 days ago when he was waiting for his tide to enter a creek below Fort Simpson he watched a large two-masted passenger steamer, seemingly an American vessel, which was evidently on fire. For three-quarters of an hour she lay still off Dundas island with a great cloud of smoke a hundred feet above her spars and her hull hidden in a pall of steam, as though water was being put on the fire. Then she ran towards Dundas island, as though the officers were running her ashore. The Nell's officers watched her for a long time until the smoke obliterated their vision, and when it cleared she was gone. They made inquiries, but could learn nothing of her whatever. The crew must have got the fire under control and proceeded to their destination.

To Meet Waldersee.

VICTORIA, July 22.—Count Edmund von Larisch is here on his way to San Francisco to meet count von Waldersee, who is to return from China by way of America. The two will proceed east together and then count von Larisch will visit Quebec to be present at the Canadian reception to the duke and duchess of York. Von Larisch is the man exiled from Germany for 45 years for engaging in a duel and has only recently had his fortune and estate restored to him.

Victorias Downed.

VICTORIA, July 22.—Everett defeated Victoria in the baseball game this afternoon by a score of 10 to 5. Costly errors in the first five innings were the cause of the one-sided score. The Victorias were not able to find a place for the many hits.

Coming to America.

BERLIN, July 23.—Private dispatches from Vienna say that count Adelbert Sternberg, an Austrian officer who was with the Boers in the early part of the war in South Africa and was captured with general Cronje at Paardeberg, will soon go to the United States accompanied by prince Miguel of Braganza.

IN THE STRIKERS' CAMPS

A TORONTO REPORTER INVESTIGATES FOR HIMSELF.

Striking Firemen Return to Work, as Do the Wilkesbarre Machinists—The Steel-Workers.

TORONTO, July 22.—On account of the flatly contradictory accounts of the condition of affairs in regard to the strike of the C. P. R. trackmen, the News decided to send a special correspondent over the main line from Toronto to Windsor, Toronto to Owen Sound and Toronto to Montreal, in order to ascertain how things really stand. Yesterday the News correspondent traveled over the Windsor line as far as Walkerville Junction, which is four miles this side of Windsor, and found that whatever progress the strike may be making in other parts of the system, on this division it has undoubtedly fizzled out. The regular summer force is four men to every section of six miles, which would mean that in the 37 sections between here and Walkerville Junction, 148 men would be a full force of trackmen. The News ecorrespondent saw by actual count 131 men at work on the line, mowing, weeding, putting in ties and fixing culverts. On only two sections were no men seen, and they bore every evidence of recent attention, the ties being well filled and the track as clear from weeds as a well kept garden patch. As far as could be judged the whole track was in first-class condition, no roughness being approached, while the trains in which the News correspondent traveled, namely, the 7:45 a. m. from Toronto and the 1:35 p. m. from Windsor, were on time almost to the minute all along the route. By watching the track both ways it was possible to make a double check of the number of men actually at work in each section and the result elicited the number to be 131.

TORONTO, July 22.—General superintendent Timmerman of the C. P. R. in his report today on the strike situation says: "On the 20 sections between Toronto and Owen Sound there are 20 foremen and 63 trackmen. This is three over the regular complement. On Mr. Price's division, which is known as the O. & Q. division, there are only three vacancies." Mr. Timmerman thinks it is too bad that so many of the old men are kept from going to work for the glorification of men like president Wilson. "The class of men we have looking after our roadbed at present," continues Mr. Timmerman, "are all experienced men, and not weed cutters, as stated by the opposition. A number of these men were formerly employed by the Grand Trunk. Our present condition is very gratifying and we have no cause for complaint."

WILKESBARRE, Pa., July 22.—More mines, with the aid of the United Mine Workers, resumed operations in the Wyoming valley today. Committees from the striking stationary firemen waited upon the superintendents of the various coal companies and asked to be reinstated. At some of the mines the committees were told that the places of the strikers were filled. At others the names of the old firemen were taken and the committees were told that if their services were needed they would be sent for. There seems to be no question but that this strike will be officially declared off tonight and that at least 85 per cent of the strikers will be back in their old places tomorrow, when it is expected there will be a general resumption of mining operations.

WILKESBARRE, July 22.—After a two months' strike the machinists employed by the Lehigh Valley have given up the fight and are returning to work, not in a body, but as individuals. About 40 men returned to work at the Caxton shops today. It is thought that by tonight there will be a rush of applications for work. The 600 machinists and car repairers at the Ashley shops of the Central Railway of New Jersey are still out, but a break in the strikers' ranks is expected at any time.

PITTSBURG, July 22.—The situation of the strike today is practically the same as on Saturday, Wellsville and McKeesport being points around which the interest centers and any developments no doubt will emanate from these points. The situation this morning throughout Pittsburg and Allegheny in the strike district was about the same as Saturday. Contrary to the expectations of many, no effort was made on the part of any of the plants to run.

SCRANTON, Pa., July 22.—The striking boiler makers, machinists and foundrymen at the shops of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western railroad returned to work at the old rate of wages today, notice having been posted by the company following a decision of the men to return if the 537 men who went on strike eight weeks ago would be taken back. Two men were discharged for cause.

Won the Championship.

LONDON, July 22.—H. O. Blackstaff of the Vesta Rowing Club won the Wingfield sculls, which carry the title of amateur sculling champion of Great Britain in a race over the Thames championship course today. Blackstaff defeated his competitors in the event, G. Ashe and H. Cloutte, by two lengths. C. V. Fox, winner of the Wingfield sculls last year, did not defend his title in this year's contest.

John McKane of Rossland, in an interview printed on the first page of today's Tribune, tells a plain, unvarnished story of the mining situation at Rossland. Mr. McKane was for many years a bank manager, and since coming to Kootenay has had every opportunity of seeing how mines are manipulated; suddenly changed from undeveloped prospects into companies with millions of capital in shares. The story is one that goes to show that, in many instances, company mining as carried on in British Columbia is a fraud on the public; but the newspaper that would make such a statement would be declared an anarchist by the newspapers that are dominated by the foreign mine managers, who, for the time, are attempting to control the politics of this province. According to these newspapers all the blame for failures must be saddled on the men who do the actual work in the mines. Were a thorough investigation made by disinterested experts, it would be found that no single mining venture in British Columbia has resulted in failure because of the shiftlessness of the working miners or the wages paid them. On the other hand, every failure can be traced to one or more of the following causes: Fraud in purchase; mismanagement; over-capitalization; decrease in ore values. The story is an old one, but the public must not know how they are defrauded, hence reports are sent out attributing the failures to pay dividends to unreasonable demands of the men who do the actual work of mining.

The settlement of the Fraser River fishermen's strike was an easy matter once it was gone about in the right way. The trouble with workingmen is that they ignore the assistance of the legal fraternity in their fights, and fights cannot be won nowadays without someone getting into court. The whole force power of the provincial government was brought to bear to prevent the fishermen from doing illegal acts, and as long as the game was carried on according to the old rules, not a word was heard of settling. But once the fishermen began swearing out warrants for the arrest of the Japanese fishermen for obtaining licenses illegally, for the arrest of provincial constables for trespass, for the arrest of cannerymen for violating the Navigation Act, there was a sudden stampede by the cannery owners for a settlement. The fishermen, no doubt, committed illegal acts; but the illegal acts they committed were trivial as compared with the conspiracy that the cannerymen entered into to violate the laws of the country: first, by illegally importing thousands of Japanese; second, securing the issuance of fraudulent naturalization papers for them; third, procuring fishing licenses for men illegally imported and fraudulently naturalized. Every Japanese fisherman on Fraser river should be legally arrested, convicted, and imprisoned. Such a lesson at enforcement of law would do both the cannerymen and the provincial government a power of good.

There are rumors flitting that Slocan riding is to b opened; that Robert F. Green of Kaslo is to be taken into the Dunsmuir government as minister of mines. Mr. Green's friends are quietly at work repairing his political fences. In case the rumor proves true, there is not likely to be a contest, as Mr. Green's opponents are not in a position to make a winning fight, being thoroughly discredited both at home and at Victoria. If taken into the government as minister of mines, the present minister of mines will be made provincial secretary, and the provincial secretary made minister of finance, a job that he is about as well fitted for as a goat is for premier.

The Victoria Board of Trade, according to the Post of that city, passed resolutions condemning the provincial government for not bonusing the V. V. & E. railway. As the Victoria Board of Trade was never known to do a sensible act, it is fair to assume that James Dunsmuir did a sensible one when he turned down the V. V. & E. crowd.

Much expressed sympathy was heard yesterday on the streets for the late D. J. Beaton; sympathy that he did not get when alive. A man who has passed the age of sixty years, who is penniless and friendless, if sent across the dark river painlessly, is not in need of much sympathy from anyone.

A HUMANIZING ENACTMENT

That Works Successfully.

The law of public trusteeship which New Zealand placed upon its statute books in 1872, and has amended many times since then, is without doubt one of the most humanizing enactments in the history of world-wide legislation. Every section, every sub-section, and every clause is entirely devoid of centripetal influence, and wholly centrifugal in its effect. The mission of the act has been constructive rather than destructive, unifying in preference to rending asunder. When sir Julius Vogel created the public trustee he never dreamed that in 28 years an officer who was only intended to be a clerk of records and a director of trust funds should develop into the best friend of the people, safeguarding their interests during seasons of sorrow, impotency and disaster. The functions of this sui generis official can be outlined in a word or two, and yet volumes upon volumes might be written concerning them. He accepts the execution of wills, the administration of intestacies and the performance of any and all duties connected with trusteeship. So well has he established himself in the confidence of the financial world that Europeans frequently place property in his keeping. The present aggregate value of estates held by public trusteeship in New Zealand is over $11,000,000, and their number exceeds 3000.

A summary of the checks on the power of this marvelous man may conduce to a better understanding of his position. He has to work in harmony with a government board, composed of the colonial treasurer, the native minister, the government insurance commissioner, the commissioner of taxes, the solicitor general, the surveyor general, and the public trustees. These officials have been chosen with the greatest care by the legislature. The two ministers are among them, in order that the existing administration may keep in touch with a department whose workings it is directly responsible for. They never make an effort to control the affairs of the office, however, realizing that to do so would be to shake public confidence in them and it. Further restraints on the trustee are held by the colonial treasurer, or any clerks of the treasury he may empower to examine the books of the trust bureau. And of course the auditor general possesses the same authority over this branch that he does in connection with other sections of the civil service.

People drawing up their last wills and testaments have the right to name the public trustee as their sole executor, while the realty and personalty of those who die intestate is always handed over to him. When it becomes necessary for the courts to choose an administrator they invariably select the government's appointee. He is a corporation sole, and consequently his office never becomes vacant, no matter how many incumbents of it may die, resign or disappear. This relieves estates of the expense necessary to the election of a new trustee. Then the public officer has 33 agencies in all the large and small towns of the colony, special postoffice facilities, and the guarantee of the government, so that he can transact business with greater ease and efficiency than any private person. His charges are all moderate, and made according to a published scale, being figured out on the basis of actual expense. In a hundred and one ways the trustee can be of assistance to those in trouble. He may straighten out a poor widow's entangled affairs, carry on a great business that has been robbed of its manager by death and would suffer loss or ruin if temporarily stopped, create public trusts for cities or individuals, and direct the financial affairs of those who are compelled by the strange vicissitudes of fortune to neglect them for a time. This accommodating official may also assume charge of some philanthropic trust, and aid succeeding generations along indicated lines, or finance the estates of the mentally and the physically helpless on behalf of their respective heirs. He has been known to accept the administration of property belonging to people in far-away lands, and to have taken over the estates of those who were not qualified to handle them in a business-like way. Public trusteeship pays four per cent on all amounts up to $15,000, and three and a half per cent on sums above that, whether or not immediate investment is found for them. Interest has always been paid quarterly, being compounded for six years, and reckoned on the simple scale after that. The state bears any and all losses that may result from its selection of weak securities or poor stocks.

The trustee's better judgment has not been curbed by the government. He is allowed to exercise the greatest kindliness and consideration in all transactions. While a private official cannot depart from the very letter of the document under which he acts, his public brother may take any steps that seem necessary to the proper execution of that the creator of a trust intended to have done or what he ought to have intended to have done. Testators in many cases attach conditions to their will which it would be ruinous to carry out. In such instances the trustee, after consultation with the beneficiaries, pursues what he deems the best course regarding the disposition of the deceased's properties. On each occasion John C. Martin was called upon to sell out a rich man's estate, which consisted among other things of many personal articles greatly prized by members of the latter's family. Instead of auctioning off these heirlooms at trivial prices, he placed a value upon them, and allowed the heirs to buy them privately. The deceased had made his will, never thinking that the public sale of certain trinkets would be an injustice to his relatives.

The trustee stepped in once where an executor had already been appointed. A manufacturer died, and left his will without anyone to look after it, the administrator of his estate being absent in Europe. Even a week's cessation of work at the factory would have resulted in enormous loss. Accordingly the public officer assumed control of the deceased man's affairs, kept the plant running and subsequently handed it over in perfect condition to the executor. In cases where there are immediate heirs, anxious to look after their own interests, the state does not meddle with intestacies, nor does it ever do so until the non-existence of a will has been well established. Sometimes the last testament is easily found, while those benefiting by it are not. Every available means of locating them is exhausted before they are given up for lost. Some years ago £30,000 was raised to aid the sufferers from a mining calamity. The money has been carefully managed by the public trustee. He pays out a weekly allowance to each widow, and a further allowance for each child under a certain age. Lump sums were granted to beneficiaries of the fund who desire to lift mortgages or straighten out their affairs in other ways.

It often happens that the state sets aside a sum of money for the benefit of an official's widow and children. Where the exact disposition of the amount is not stated the public trustee utilizes it to educate the sons and daughters, and provide them as well as their mother with a comfortable, if not luxurious, living. In handling the property of lunatics, two things are kept in view, the conservation of an estate in order that it may be instantly available in the event of the owner's recovery, and the maintenance of the wife and family during the patient's illness.

Public trusteeship has proven itself an unqualified success in New Zealand, and should be adopted by every progressive country within the confines of the world.

If the number of ladies that were in Fred Irvine & Co.'s dry goods store yesterday is one of the results of the big ad of that firm that has been running in The Tribune for three days, advertising pays when the advertisements are gotten up in readable shape.

The funeral of the late D. J. Beaton will take place tomorrow from St. Saviour's church at 2:30 o'clock. An announcement as to the services at the church will be made tomorrow morning. W. C. Beaton and wife of Seattle, are expected to arrive in the city this evening.

Yesterday the Kootenay Wire Works Manufacturing Company of Nelson made a shipment of their goods to a dealer in Moose Jaw, N. W. T. The manager of the company says they can compete with eastern houses if only shippers would be honest in making out their bills of lading.

Fred Irvine will be master of ceremonies at the annual picnic of St. Saviour's Sunday school, which takes place on Thursday to Procter. The steamer Moyie has been chartered to carry the excursionists and will leave the city wharf at 9 o'clock in the morning and at 1:30 in the afternoon.

George A. Hunter returned from a prospecting trip the other day with some excellent specimens of soft coal, which are said to be equal to the best coal produced in the celebrated Crow's Nest coal fields. Just where he secured his specimens is a secret which so far George has kept to himself.

In order to discourage the practice which the owners of some dairies have of pasturing their cattle on public streets a telephone will be installed at the residence of the city pound keeper. This will enable the officer to get upon the trail of stray cattle while there remains a chance of capturing them.

The Dominion Bridge Company of Montreal have placed an order with the Nelson Saw & Planing Mills for the timbers to be used for the false work in connection with the Robson bridge over the Columbia river. It is thought that over 150,000 feet of timber will be used in this work. In addition to which there will be the ties used in the deck.

Sam Neelands is now in Victoria, and according to the Times he is making a record for himself as a ball player. He is playing short for the Victorias and in a game the other day with a team from Puyallup, Washington, the score was 2 to nothing in favor of the Victorias. Sam's friends will be glad to hear that he is doing well, as he has secured a good situation.

Word was received in Nelson yesterday of the death at Sandon of James Williamson. The deceased came to the Slocan some time ago from Boston, and was well known to a number of Nelson people. He was employed for a considerable time in E. R. Atherton's store, but latterly opened up a fruit and cigar store on his own account. Mrs. Williamson is now on her way to Sandon, and as yet does not know of her husband's death.

Canadian Military Rifle League competitions will be shot off on Saturdays, July 27th and August 3rd and 10th. The names of the first and second teams to shoot Saturday next will be given in tomorrow's issue of The Tribune. There will be a meeting of the rifle association in the general offices of the C. P. R. tonight to choose the teams. All outstanding bills against last year's association must be handed in tonight addressed to H. E. Macdonnell, captain.

The Knights of Pythias moonlight excursion should be well patronized tomorrow evening. It will be the first event of this kind this season and should afford a very enjoyable evening for those who desire to escape from the heat of the city. The steamer Moyie has been chartered for the occasion and will leave the city wharf at 8 o'clock. The R. M. R. band will accompany the excursion and Wambold's orchestra will provide the music for the dancing.

A. R. Sherwood, local agent for the Phoenix of London and the West Fire Insurance Company of Toronto, has remitted to Dr. J. Henry of Ainsworth, a check for $3500 to cover the losses in connection with the recent fire in which Dr. Henry was cleaned out. The fire occurred on the 9th instant, and the check followed on the 19th, which is a record the companies may well feel proud of when it is remembered that the fire occurred in a place in which the companies had no resident agent.

A meeting of the Mine Owners' Association will be held in this city tomorrow evening. It is not known whether the meeting has been called for the purpose of discussing the situation in Rossland or the matter of the proposed refinery. That the refinery matter will be the subject of discussion seems likely, as the mine owners from the Boundary will be present at tomorrow's meeting, and heretofore they have not taken any active part in the troubles which confront the mine owners of the other portions of the province with respect to wages and such matters.

Mining Records.

There was but one location recorded at the Nelson record office yesterday, the Lake Shore, on Erie mountain, being a relocation of the Lake View, by W. J. Wilson.

One bill of sale was recorded in which W. B. Leitch, in consideration of the sum of $2000, transferred to J. P. Swedberg a half interest in the Eureka mineral claim on Eagle creek in the Nelson mining division.

Certificates of work were issued to P. Burns on the Drum Lummon, to M. C. Monaghan on the Little Joe, to L. Galliher on the Gordon Lilly, to John Moet and partner on the Maude and Kate, to W. B. Pollard on the Madge.

EASTERN CANADIAN NEWS

Wired in Brief.

HALIFAX, N. S., July 22.—H. D. Blackadar, proprietor of the Canadian Recorder, died yesterday, aged 77.

HAMILTON, Ont., July 22.—J. B. Bowes, a member of the firm of Bowes, Jameson & Co., and one of Hamilton's best known citizens, is dead.

TORONTO, July 22.—Two hundred men in the brass manufacturing trade are on strike. Nine shops are affected. The men say it is a fight against combination.

STRATFORD, Ont., July 22.—Violet Young, only daughter of ex-alderman Ben Young, committed suicide Saturday night by taking strychnine. Poor health is assigned as the cause.

CARNDUFF, N. W. T., July 22.—The parties accused of offences in respect of railway companies property and arrested by mounted police, were arraigned here today and found guilty.

OTTAWA, July 22.— Sir Wilfrid Laurier is expected to return this week to the city to attend a meeting of the cabinet on Thursday, when the case of O'Brien, the Dawson murderer, will come up for consideration.

ST. JOHN, July 22.—Methodist ministers of this city this morning entered a protest against the governor-general traveling on Sunday. The honorary maritime province trip provides for his departure from St. John on Sunday, August 4th.

WINDSOR, Ont., July 22.—Louisa Marguerite, 17 year old daughter of John Galla of McEwen avenue, committed suicide Saturday by taking paris green because she had had trouble with her father and become despondent in the absence of her lover.

CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I., July 22.—Their excellencies lord and lady Minto and party arrived here Saturday and were received by a guard of honor and a large gathering of people. The party was entertained at luncheon and enjoyed an excursion on the harbor.

SELKIRK, Man., July 22.—Two of the C. P. R. strikers, who had been sectionmen at Sinnot, a station on the main line east of here, were suspected with tampering and interfering with the company's property in that neighborhood, and on investigations these suspicions were confirmed. Information was laid against them before magistrate Scott here on Saturday, in pursuance of which they were brought before the magistrate today, when the cases were heard and the prisoners convicted and sentenced to one month's imprisonment each.

TORONTO, July 22.—Fourteen years ago colonel McLennan, ex-M. P. for Glengarry, had Charles Young, editor of the Cornwall Freeholder, arrested for criminal libel. The judge after trial suspended sentence, Young giving recognizances to keep the peace. Last May McLennan claimed that Young had repeated the libels and asked the courts to impose the sentence suspended fourteen years ago. Today the court held that only the crown could ask for imposition of suspended sentence and that as inasmuch as the offence had been committed fourteen years ago it had practically outlawed. If McLennan wants justice he will have to begin all over again.

No Relief From the Heat.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 22.—One hundred degrees temperature were common throughout the great corn belt today, according to the weather bureau here. In various places in Illinois, Iowa and other states all previous heat records were smashed. There appears to be no prospect of decided relief from these exhausting conditions for the two next days at least, except such as may come from the always present possibility of scattered thunder storms which are predicted for some portions of the heated area. Today dry thunder storms prevailed in several sections of the west, several hundred miles apart. They temporarily cooled the air, but brought no relief to the famishing crops.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 22.—The terrible heat which broke records in the state of Missouri Sunday was unbroken today. The St. Louis weather bureau reported 107 degrees, the highest ever officially reported in the city.

LONDON, July 22.—It is believed, says the Times, that a grant will be made to lord Roberts in recognition of his services in South Africa and to enable him to suitably maintain his peerage. To provide this an additional estimate will be submitted to parliament for this. The grant will be £100,000.

Special Bargains IN Boots and Shoes

Notwithstanding that there are two bankrupt stocks of boots and shoes now being offered in this city, I am prepared to meet the prices listed for same, and as my stock is fresh—just opened up—from the manufacturers, I would solicit an inspection before purchasing.

The results that I have obtained since advertising my discontinuance in business have been most satisfactory. The great variety of my stock of clothing and gents' furnishings, with all prices marked in plain figures, has proven an irresistible factor in securing sales.

Those who have not taken advantage of my reductions should call and compare prices and quotations with those offered in any other store in the city. Everything is offered at eastern wholesale cost.

As regards the deferred payments, time will be deemed the essence of the contract and any purchaser making default of payment at the time fixed by these conditions, will absolutely forfeit his deposit and claim to be deemed the purchaser. Lots upon which default shall have so happened will again, if the government so determine, be put up for sale and re-sold at some future auction, the time to be determined by the Government, of which due notice will be given, on which occasion may also, if the Government so decide, be again offered for sale any other lots which may remain undisposed of.

8. In case any dispute shall arise as to the highest or last bidder, or any default or question as to the deposit, the property will again be put up at the former highest bid.

9. All lots will be sold subject to payment by the purchaser of the value of the improvements erected thereon, if any, as the same may be appraised by the Government.
