On Saturday next, subscribers whose Tribunes are delivered by carrier will be expected to pay the carrier TWENTY CENTS, the subscription price for the current week.

There is a stretch of country along the international boundary line west from Midway to Princeton that is without railway facilities.

Midway has now one railway connecting it from the east with the Canadian Pacific system, and another under construction that will connect it with the Great Northern system. Both the Canadian Pacific and the Great Northern systems must extend their roads west from Midway, and will do so just as soon as there is business to justify it. On the Coast there are two cities—Victoria and Vancouver—whose people believe that they should control the trade of all the country along the international boundary line east as far as Fernie, a town near the eastern boundary of the province. These people want a railway built from the Fraser river east over the Hop mountains, thence via Princeton to Midway. They are unwilling to wait; they must have the road at once. They would force its building by subsidizing its builders with millions of money from the provincial treasury. They would tax all the people of the province in order that they themselves might prosper. They are unwilling that premier Dunsmuir should be allowed to deal with the rival companies that are striving for supremacy in Southern British Columbia; he must deal with one company, and that one the company which is controlled from an office in St. Paul, Minnesota. Under no circumstances must the company that is controlled from an office in Montreal, Quebec, be considered? The Tribune believes the above is a fair statement of the only question that is considered of the first importance by the people of Victoria and Vancouver. Does it not seem strange that the people of a province with the area of British Columbia, three-fourths of which is sparsely settled and undeveloped, should be compelled to believe that the future prosperity of the whole province is dependent on the building through one corner of it of 245 miles of railway by an alien company subsidized by millions of dollars from the provincial treasury? Does it not seem strange that the men who favor subsidizing this alien railway company should be classed as "fearless politicians" and "statesmen" while those who oppose the granting of subsidies for the building of railways are denounced as "pot-house politicians" and "hirelings"? Men who have always consistently opposed the granting of subsidies to railways are daily slandered and libeled by paid organs of these subsidy hunters for daring to remain consistent? Men, on the other hand, who have loudly proclaimed themselves in favor of government ownership of railways, men who would not grant private capital charters to build railways without the insertion of confiscation clauses in the charters, are lauded to the skies because they have changed front and are working and voting for a subsidy for the one particular railway favored by the paid organs of the subsidy hunters. "Graft" is more powerful than principle; but "graft" got a fearful downfall in New York City on Tuesday, and the Tribune is of opinion that if the people of this province are given a fair chance to express their opinions, few "grafters" will be found occupying seats in the legislative assembly.

J. M. Kellie, ex-M.P.P. of Revelstoke, is afraid that the southeastern portion of the province may dominate the politics of British Columbia. What a gross outrage it would be were the people of southeast Kootenay and the Slokan and Nelson and Rossland and the Boundary to wrest from Esquimalt and Lillooet and Victoria the power that has been so long wielded for the aggrandizement of the little coterie of politicians who make their headquarters at the Union Club in Victoria. It would be such a burning shame to have the miners and ranchmen and businessmen of Fernie and Fort Steele and Cranbrook and Moyie and Kaslo and Sandon and New Denver and Slokan City and Nelson and Ymir and Trail and Rossland and Grand Forks and Phoenix and Greenwood and Princeton and Vernon, representing, as they do 41,000 of the whitest and most progressive people in the province, wrest political power from Metochin and Esquimalt and Craigflower Road and Otter Point and Strawberry Vale and Gorge Road and South Saanich and Hat Creek and Clinton and Big Bar and Dog Creek and Lot 150 Group 1 and Palisser and Beavermouth and Rogers' Pass and Golden and Donald, towns and hamlets and crossroads peopled as they are by less than 8000 men, women, and children and Indians. What a loss it would be to the province were Wilmer C. Wells of Palisser and David MacEwan Eberts of the Gorge Road and James Douglas Prentice of Lot 150 Group 1, eminent statesmen as they are, relegated into the obscurity that is so much enjoyed by James M. Kellie of Revelstoke and Prairie Mountain, the one-time Moses of the people of West Kootenay. How low the once-mighty Kellie has fallen?

It is fair to assume, that of the 1938 people in the Golden riding of East Kootenay, 400 reside in the southern portion of the riding, whose identity of interests are with the people who live at Fort Steele, of the 3003 in the Revelstoke riding, at least 1000 reside in the Trout Lake and Arrow Lake mining divisions, whose interests are identical with those of the Slokan and Ainsworth mining divisions; of the 3837 in North Yale and 2949 in West Yale, probably 1500 live in districts whose interests are identical with those of East Yale and that portion of West Yale known as the Similkameen. East and West Lillooet have a population of 1759, and Cariboo's population is estimated at 2501. The

The navy evidently needs more able seamen on the quarter-deck, more brains in the wardrobe. Of heroes who shoot bows and sterns off torpedo destroyers, put their helmets astarboard to make one ship and apart to rake another, and falsely accuse others of running away, the navy has enough and to spare.

The annual report of the directors of the Hall Mining & Smelting Company, Limited, for the year ending June 30th last reads much different from those made in former years. The report is concise in form and conservative in the extreme in statement. The manager of the mine, captain Gifford, states what the knows is in sight and does not guess at anything. The report covers a year, the greater part of which was occupied in getting the mine in shape so that work could be carried on to advantage.

own Tammany had but one principle, one moving spring of action—avarice, money lust. So that it got money, it cared not a rap about the means and the methods. It was always ready to lie, forge, betray, steal, swindle, cheat, rob, and no promise, no engagement, no contract, no treaty made by its boss was sacred to the paper it was written on or the parchment by which it was attested.

Up in the quiet precincts of Riverdale, where Mr. Clemens and his family took possession of the old Appleton mansion three weeks ago, there is the right kind of atmosphere for dreams of that kind. The house looks down upon the placid Hudson. The fine old trees, nearly bare of leaves, are the home of dozens of squirrels, and when the sun comes out after a day of autumn rain, they frisk up and down the mossy trunks, and gambol and chatter on the lawn undisturbed by their hosts or neighbors.

A Comparison.
The official announcement by the United States Steel Corporation that its net earnings in the last six months exceeded $4,000,000 gives some idea of the magnitude of this unparalleled aggregation of capital, but the extent of its operations will be better grasped with the help of comparison. The total net earnings of the 2871 national banks in the twelve months of 1900, according to the controller of the currency, were $69,981,810. In twelve months if its earnings do not diminish, the steel corporation will have earned $4,000,000 more than all the national banks. It will have earned, in fact, according to the financier's calculation, as much as all the banks of every kind in the United States, their total number being about 14,000.

5. Calculations of the quantity of power used by the corporation are to be based upon the daily average peak load, such peak load to be arrived at by taking volt-ampere readings, and the calculations made from such readings. Such readings shall be taken after the power has passed through the regulators.
6. The corporation will pay to the company monthly on the 20th day of each month for the power used (not being less than 100 horse-power) during the preceding month at the following rates: For all horse-power up to 300 horse-power at the rate of $3.75 per horse-power per month; and for all horse-power in excess of 300 horse-power at the rate of $3.33 1-3 per horse-power per month.

As a result two students were remanded for trial on Monday morning without bail.

Germany Not Consulted.
BERLIN, November 7.—While Germany regards the action of France with comparative indifference, the fact is commented upon that the Paris government did not inform the powers of the triple alliance before-hand of its intention toward Turkey. Assuming the correctness of the statement that the United States and Great Britain were so informed, the Voessische Zeitung says France appears to be dealing unequally with the powers. Government circles in Berlin say that Germany has not yet been addressed by France on the subject.
