

WE WILL BE LET DOWN EASY

REPORT THAT McDONALD WILL BE RETIRED

is Will Not Be on Account of the Strike, but by Reason of Management Matters.

ROSSLAND, September 13.—[Special The Tribune.]—Both Henry Bratnoble and the executive of the Miners' Union were reticent today on the strike situation; but it is known that, in addition to having a conference with Bernard McDonald yesterday, Mr. Bratnoble had a lengthy conference with the miners last evening, when the union's side of the struggle here was explained to the San Francisco man. Beyond expressing themselves as very well satisfied with the way matters are working, the union men declined to make any statement for publication. It is asserted on good authority that Bratnoble is working directly with the London directors of the Le Roi, and that, acting under special instructions, he will proceed at once to get matters ready for the visiting directors, Frecheville and all, without waiting for their actual arrival here.

If Mr. McDonald retires, it will not be on account of the strike, but principally upon the situation at Northport and some other matters in connection with the management. His retirement from the Le Roi, it is said, will probably be brought about very quietly and easily and with the least possible friction. It is stated that a policy recognizing the right of the men to organize, both at the smelter and the mine, is being adopted by the Le Roi directors. It is probable that, provided all other questions are settled and a firm settlement arrived at for a term of years, the increased pay asked for by the miners will be granted.

Mr. Bratnoble will probably go to Spokane tomorrow, returning here in a day or two.

Sixteen of the smelter men walked out at Northport this morning, fourteen of them going south on the Spokane train.

ROSSLAND, September 13.—[Associated Press.]—Henry Bratnoble, the mining expert who represents an important section of the Le Roi shareholders, has shown secretary Woodside of the Miners' Union a cablegram from the new directorate of the company, stating that they will not alter the present management's policy in regard to the strike. Mr. Bratnoble states for publication that he is working in complete harmony with Bernard McDonald, the local manager. He says he will have an important hearing on the strike situation, as the Miners' Union believed a settlement could be arranged on terms satisfactory to their organization after the new directorate assumed control of the company's affairs.

REAL LABORERS ORGANIZE

Revelstoke Local News.

REVELSTOKE, September 13.—[Special to The Tribune.]—The attendance at the Labor meeting last night was not large, but it was significant as containing railway men who have been previously supporters of one or the other of the old parties, but who declare that since the strike they will never vote Conservative or Liberal again. The result of the meeting was the formation of a committee of the following named: Thomas Gillespie, bridge foreman; J. G. Webster, machinist; and J. W. Bennett, storekeeper, to get the unions to choose delegates to draw up a Labor Party platform. For the first time in the history of the Labor party in this town, it looks as if they meant business. It is evident that the Liberal-Labor or Conservative-Labor gag will not go any more here.

W. A. Gamble, M.P., is expected here on Sunday to settle the location of the central postoffice, a question which is burning one among local Grits.

F. C. Gamble of the lands and works department has taken over the wagon road to the eight-mile post through the canyon of the Columbia. Owing to a delay in the arrival of the machinery, there is little chance of the steamer leaving this month.

The new sawmill at the Big Eddy is early ready to start work.

Representatives of the Duquesne Mining Company of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, came down from the Big Bend last night. It is rumored that they are about to make large purchases of placer round on French and McCullough creeks.

Local News

W. T. Bugin of Springfield, Ontario, has purchased twenty acres of the land formerly owned by the Ontario Powder Company at Five-mile point. He intends to start a chicken ranch at the point in the spring.

The regatta of the Nelson Boat Club will commence this afternoon at 2 o'clock. The committee request that the club fours, as well as all who are entered for the special events, be on hand sharp on time so that there shall be no waits. This is necessary in order that all the events may be got off during the afternoon.

Members of the local company of R. M. R. who are prepared to go to Victoria to participate in the reception to the duke and duchess of York must hand in their names to sergeant Steel this evening.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Swedish mission church will have their sale tonight at eight o'clock in the Congregational church. On Saturday the church will have a mission meeting. There will also be preaching at 3 o'clock on Sunday afternoon in the Congregational church and at half past 7 o'clock in the evening at the residence of E. Mastberg, the services being conducted by Rev. Mr. Huteen of Spokane and the pastor, Rev. Mr. Wessell, who will preach his farewell sermon, as he expects to leave Nelson next week for Chicago, where he will finish his studies at the Chicago Theological Seminary.

BOUNDARY AS A PRODUCER

Will Make a Splendid Showing.

GREENWOOD, September 13.—[Special to The Tribune.]—The tonnage of ore shipped by Boundary District mines during September to the 11th instant inclusive, so far as has been ascertained from the mines is as under:

Old Ironides group	6,973
Mother Lode	2,730
Whisper	420
Whisper	125
Number Seven	60
King Solomon	50
Total	10,428

This makes the aggregate of shipments for the current year 250,761 tons. The actual value of this large quantity of ore is not obtainable, but placing a gross value at $8 a ton which is believed to be lower than its actual value, a gross return of more than a million and a half dollars in rather more than eight months is the result. As the output of the mines for the district for the remainder of the year promises to increase rather than decrease, it does not appear unreasonable to estimate the Boundary's ore production for the year at 350,000 tons and the gross value at more than two million dollars.

Emperors Bill and Nick

DANTZIC, September 13.—After the conclusion of the naval maneuvers today, Emperor William and Emperor Nicholas took lunch on board the German imperial yacht Hohenzollern. There were no speeches. The monarchs then held a long and animated conversation on deck, after which the emperor of Germany, accompanied by Henry of Prussia and the other German guests, while the kaiser expressed to count Lamsdorff his sincere pleasure at having met him, Emperor Nicholas testified to the gratification he had derived from his visit. Emperor William then accompanied the czar to the Russian imperial yacht Standart, where he bade him a cordial farewell after which he returned to the Hohenzollern.

May Settle the Strike.

NEW YORK, September 14.—It was learned today from a reliable source that negotiations for a settlement of the steel strike were again under consideration in this city. It was also stated that Mr. Shafter was expected here today or tomorrow, but that his coming was not the result of any communication from this city.

SENATOR J. S. BURNETT, President Shafter was again absent from his office today, and rumors were current that a settlement of the strike had been made. From an official source it was learned that conditions were in progress, but that nothing definite had been accomplished yet.

Sorrow in Britain.

LONDON, September 14.—President McKinley's fight for life has been watched from the outset in Great Britain with an intensity that has recalled the last days of Queen Victoria. Every phase of medical evidence has been keenly discussed, and the painful suddenness of collapse, after a revival of hope, deeply stirred the nation. The spontaneous and heartfelt participation in the anxiety of the American people at the bedside of their dying president has been expressed in editorials in all the morning papers, which at 3:30 a. m. were still holding their presses open for the last sad news.

The Ophir Sighted.

HALIFAX, September 13.—A torpedo boat destroyer has arrived at Aspy Bay and reports having sighted the royal yacht Ophir. The Ophir will consequently have no difficulty in arriving at Quebec sharp on time on Monday morning.

Hamilton Man Suicides.

HAMILTON, September 13.—James Sinclair shot himself with a revolver today in the right temple, at his home on Canada street, and died an hour later in the hospital. Inability to find employment was the cause.

Vanderbilt Effects a Rescue.

PORT RIO, September 13.—Foxhall Keen was rescued from drowning by W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., after both had been capsized from a canoe in the surf on Balles beach this afternoon.

Ontario's Drainage System.

TORONTO, September 13.—The Ontario government proposes spending $200,000 in drainage systems. The largest part will be spent in the counties of Dundas, Stormont, and Carleton.

Off to Meet the Duke.

OTTAWA, September 13.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier has left to meet the Ophir. It is likely that the premier will be the only minister who will accompany the royal party across the continent.

PRESIDENT MCKINLEY IS DEAD

MILBURN HOUSE, BUFFALO, September 13.—President McKinley began to sink shortly after 2 o'clock this morning, after a critical period of twelve hours, in which alarm and hope mingled in the emotions of those who surrounded him. Trouble began on the preceding afternoon, through the failure of the digestive organs to perform their functions. The necessity for nourishment had been pressing for several days, and the partial failure of artificial means had led to the adoption of natural means. The rectum through which nourishment had been injected previous to Wednesday, became irritated and rejected the enemata. This forced the physicians to try to feed him through the mouth, probably before the stomach was prepared. The first administration of beef juice through the mouth, however, seemed to agree with the patient, and the physicians were highly gratified at the way the stomach seemed to receive the food. The breakfast of chicken broth, toast, and coffee given yesterday morning was spoken of by all the physicians as strong evidence of the president's marked improvement. It was only when it became apparent late in the morning that this food had not agreed with him that the first genuine anxiety appeared. The pulse was also abnormally high, 126 beats to the minute. With a temperature of 100.2 it should have been 99.5 or lower.

The weakness of the heart began to grow a serious concern. Instead of growing better, the president's condition after that grew steadily worse. The staff of physicians augmented by Dr. Stockton, who had temporarily taken the place of Dr. McBurney, was summoned early in the evening, and there was a conference. At 8:30 o'clock last night the physicians officially announced that the president's condition was not so good. The problem of disposing of the food in the stomach was becoming a serious one, and the danger of heart failure increased. Doses of digitalis strychnine were administered, and as a last resort saline solution was injected in the veins. As midnight approached the situation was growing critical. The doctors bowed and digitalis to quiet the heart. However, just before midnight the president had two operations of bowels, which relieved him very much and the midnight bulletin was more favorable.

It was believed then that the opening of the bowels would have the effect of allaying the wild pulsations of the heart. The pulse did drop to 120 and the prospects were slightly brighter. But owing to the president's extreme weakness and his fatigue, no attempt was made to conceal the apprehensions which were felt. As the feeling of depression increased in volume and intensity, secretary Cortelyou insisted that the truth should be made public by the doctors, and the bulletins themselves were calling their unfortunate story all too plainly. There was still hope that the worn and weary patient would be better in the morning, and at midnight secretary Cortelyou said it was not probable that another bulletin would be issued until morning. Shortly after 2 o'clock the physicians and nurses detected a weakening of the heart's action. The pulse fluttered and weakened and then sank toward collapse. The end appeared to be at hand, restoratives were speedily applied and the physicians fought the battle with all the reserve forces of science. Action was immediate and decisive.

A general alarm went speedily to the consulting physicians and the trained nurses as fast as messengers, the telephone and the telephone could carry it. The restoratives did not at once prove effective, and it was realized that the president was in an extremely critical condition. That realization with the shadow of death behind it led to another call, and that a summons to the cabinet, relatives, and close personal friends of the president. The messengers were hurried off after those within reach, and to those who were absent from the city telegrams conveying the painful tidings were quickly transmitted. The physicians after their consultation and the examination of the patient could offer little encouragement. He was very weak, and his heart was so feeble that they feared least his life might go out at any time. The bulletin they issued at 2:50 a. m. told of the very critical condition of the president. When Dr. Mann and Dr. Mynter left for their homes, their only reassuring word was that they had not given up hope.

During the whole dreadful night Mrs. McKinley knew nothing of the change that had come. In her feeble condition, it was considered best not to inform her of the president's critical condition, and she slept peacefully in her room through it all.

BUFFALO, September 13.—The first physician to arrive for the morning consultation was Dr. Waddin. He passed quickly into the Milburn residence. Two minutes later Abner McKinley walked down to the corner to tell his coachman, who had been waiting for him with a carriage for an hour, that he would not go to the hotel for breakfast. The new detail of soldiers for guard duty arrived from Fort Porter a few minutes later. The guard was changed and the sentries posted for the day. Dr. Mynter arrived at 8:23. "I saw the president at 5 o'clock," said he, "and his condition was then very grave." The doctor finished their consultation at 9:40 a. m. They left the house together and stopped for a few minutes on the lawn to convey their verdict first to the president's brother. The physicians looked grave and serious as they walked away from the residence. Dr. Mann and Dr. Mynter came away together. "We are very anxious," said Dr. Mann; "very anxious," he repeated, "as he entered the carriage in waiting."

"Have you given up hope?" "By no means," replied the doctor.

"Is he better than when you saw him last?" "He is better than he was in the early hours of the morning," he responded, "as he directed the coachman to drive away."

Dr. Mynter had little encouragement to offer. "I am not absolutely without fighting chance, but I could be more hopeful if the day were passed and he had gained a little strength. He has improved, some since early this morning, but the improvement is very slight. The trouble lies with his heart. We are stimulating it and our treatment has been fairly successful." Dr. Mynter admitted that saline solution and other means to keep up the action of the heart had been administered. The bulletin when issued was slightly better and indicated that the president's life might be prolonged. It stated definitely that the president's condition had somewhat improved during the past few hours, and that there was better response to stimulation; but his pulse was up to 128, and the conviction grew that it was almost a forlorn hope. It was learned that the physicians had decided that it would not be safe for Mrs. McKinley to enter the sick room today, both on account of her feeble health and the excitement it might cause the president. So far as can be learned, Mrs. McKinley had not been informed up to 10 o'clock of the grave condition in which her husband was.

BUFFALO, September 13.—All the cabinet officers were telegraphed to at 3 o'clock this morning and are now presumably on their way here. Dr. Johnson of Washington, who is at Fort Stanwix, on the Mohawk, will reach the city tonight. The other cabinet members, who have been summoned, are expected to arrive tomorrow.

A celebrated heart specialist who has been watching the bulletins has expressed the opinion that the extreme weakness of the heart is due to the shock of the first bullet which struck the president's breast bone and is now manifesting itself for the first time.

The president is perfectly conscious of his extreme weakness. The doctors believe he fully realizes how low he is, although he has not been informed. When Mrs. McKinley was told that it would be better for her not to see him this morning, she assented without protest. She seemed to realize the full import of the case, though she said nothing.

At half-past 1 o'clock the president was still asleep, and the heart action was sufficiently strong not to cause alarm enough to awaken him. Up to that hour no other stimulants than saline solution injections and a very light dose of digitalis had been used. Oxygen was ready at hand to be used, but the trouble was with the heart, not the lungs, and none has yet been used. The physicians were practically agreed that the test would come tonight, and they were hopeful that they could take him through that critical period.

CLEVELAND, September 13.—Detective Park, this city and detective O'Loughlin of Buffalo have secured five affidavits from persons who attended the meetings held by Emma Goldman here. They are to the effect that her utterances were of an anarchistic and inflammatory nature. The affidavits will be used as a basis in securing extradition papers for her removal to Buffalo.

MILBURN HOUSE, Buffalo, September 13.—After his cabinet minister had left the sick room, the physicians rallied him to consciousness, and the president asked almost immediately that his wife be brought to him. The doctors fell back into the shadows of the room as Mrs. McKinley came through the doorway. The strong face of the dying man lighted up with a faint smile as their hands were clasped. She sat beside him and held his hand. Despite her physical weakness, she bore up bravely under the ordeal. The president in his last period of consciousness chanted the words of the beautiful hymn "Nearer my God to Thee," and his last audible conscious words, as taken down by Dr. Mann at the bedside, were: "Good bye, all; good bye. It is God's will. His will be done." Then his mind began to wander and soon afterwards he completely lost consciousness.

His life was prolonged for hours by the administration of oxygen, and the president finally expressed a desire to die. About 8:30 the administration of oxygen ceased and his pulse grew faint.

very faint. He was sinking gradually like a child in slumber.

By 1 o'clock the pulse could not longer be felt, and his extremities grew cold. Below stairs the grief-stricken gathering waited sadly for the end. All the evening those who had hastened here as fast as steel and steam could carry them continued to arrive. They drove up in carriages at a gallop or were whisked up in automobiles, all intent in getting here before death came. One of the last to arrive was attorney-general Knox, who reached the house at 8:30 p. m. He was permitted to go up stairs to look for the last time upon the face of his friend. Those due at this time were secretaries Hitchcock, Wilson and Root, senators Fairbanks, Hanna and Burrows, Judge Day, colonel Herrick, Abner McKinley and his wife, Dr. and Mrs. Mary Barber, Miss Mary Williams, the physicians (including Dr. McBurney, who arrived after 8 o'clock), John G. Milburn, John N. Scatterer, Harry Hamlin, secretary Cortelyou, and a number of others. Rev. C. D. Wilson, a Methodist minister of the Tonawanda (N. Y.) church, who was the president's pastor for three years at Canton, called at the residence to turn his services if needed. Another Methodist minister, who has a church nearby, remained at the Milburn residence for two hours in the belief that his services might be desired.

At 9:37 secretary Cortelyou, who had been much of the time with his dying chief, sent out formal notice that the president was dying. But the president lingered on, his pulse growing fainter and fainter.

At 11:38 p. m. when Dr. Laney arrived, the president was just barely alive. There was no need for official bulletins after this. Those who came from the house at intervals told the same story that the president was dying, and that the end might come at any minute. His tremendous vitality was the only remaining factor in the result and this gave hope of brief time. Dr. Mynter thought it might last until 2 a. m. Dr. Mann said at 10 o'clock that the president was still alive and would probably live an hour. This minutes lengthened into hours and midnight came with the president still battling against death.

Secretary of the navy John D. Long arrived at 12:06 a. m. in time to see the president still alive, though unconscious.

At this midnight hour the Milburn house was the center of a scene as animated as though it were midday, although a solemn hush hung over the great crowd of watchers.

MILBURN HOUSE, Buffalo, September 14.—President McKinley died at 2:15 a. m. His last conscious hour on earth was spent with his wife, to whom he devoted a lifetime of care. He died unattended by a minister of the gospel, but his last words were an humble submission to the will of God in whom he believed. He was reconciled to the fate to which an assassin's bullet had condemned him, and faced death in the same spirit of calmness and peace which marked his long and honorable career. His last conscious words reduced to writing by Dr. Mann, who stood by his bedside when they were uttered were as follows: "Good bye, all. It is God's will. His will be done. Not ours."

The immediate cause of the president's death is undetermined. His physicians disagree, and it will possibly require an autopsy to finally fix the exact cause. The president's remains will be taken to Washington and there will be a state funeral. Vice-president Roosevelt, who now succeeds to the presidency, may take the oath of office wherever he happens to hear the news. The cabinet will, of course, resign in a body, and president Roosevelt will have an opportunity of forming a new cabinet if he so desires.

The rage of the people of Buffalo against the president's assassin when they learned today that he was dying was boundless. Thousands surrounded the jail and the police force of the city and two regiments of soldiers were necessary to secure his protection.

Vice-President Roosevelt.

NORTH CREEK, New York, September 13.—Vice-president Roosevelt started at 6 o'clock this morning from Tahawus Club with guides on a hunting trip through the forest. On receipt of the dispatches stating that president McKinley was critically ill, men were immediately started in search for him. Up to 5 o'clock it was impossible to locate him, but he was finally found on the top of Mount Garay, a distance of ten miles from the clubhouse, at which point the dispatches from Buffalo were delivered to him. The vice-president immediately started for the club, at which teams were waiting to convey him with the quickest speed to a special train.

BUFFALO, September 13.—There is little possibility tonight that vice-president Roosevelt will get here. Anstey Wilcox, who entertained the vice-president when he was here last, says that the best information he had was that Mr. Roosevelt could not reach here until late in the morning. The vice-president could be unable to reach a railway station much before 4 o'clock in the morning, and this would bring him here about 7 o'clock. Mr. Wilcox said in explanation of Mr. Roosevelt's being so far out of touch: "The vice-president was at all times very optimistic, and when he went away he was absolutely positive that he would recover, and that he would recover rapidly, the certainly never expected to day's result."

There was no longer a doubt that in the approaching death of the president a complete change in the executive administration of the government would ensue. When Mr. Roosevelt would take the oath of office was wholly a matter of conjecture. Vice-president Arthur took the oath at 11 a. m. after the death of president Garfield, and in that case Mr. Justice Brady of New York administered the oath. There is no requirement that the oath shall be administered by a justice of the United States supreme court, although that procedure is adopted when circumstances permit. Without unseemly haste, the cabinet will tender their resignations, and the new president will then be free to initiate his own policy and choose his own cabinet.

WASHINGTON, September 13.—The fact that the physicians had given up all hope caused some discussion among the public men in the city of the probability of an extra session of congress and of early changes in the cabinet; but the consensus of opinion was that no cabinet changes or important departures in public policy were at all likely for some time to come, and that congress would not be assembled until its regular session in December. All the cabinet, the chief officials, and the heads of important bureaus, according to custom, will tender their resignations to relieve the president of embarrassment; but it is believed that Mr. Roosevelt will follow the precedent set by president Arthur, and continue in office, and request them to continue in office.

Some of the cabinet members are not in good health and would sincerely welcome a relief from their offices, but all would waive all personal desires and continue until such time as they could be relieved easily. If, indeed, they request relief, all under the Presidential Succession Act, vice-president succeeding would have to summon congress to assemble, and the requirement does not apply to a vice-president succeeding to the office of his dead president, and it is believed no extra session will be called in the absence of statutory requirement, as the three months intervening until December can be bridged over without difficulty, and there is no special occasion for congress assembling.

Have No Sympathy.

CHICAGO, September 13.—When shown the Associated Press dispatch announcing the inevitable death of the president, Emma Goldman, the Anarchist now being held at the Harrison Street station, carefully adjusted her glasses, read the bulletin, and after a moment's pause, without a change of expression, said "Very sorry." Absolutely no shade of regret or pity showed itself upon her countenance. "I do not see how that can affect my case," she added, "it is carried on lawfully and legally. They have no evidence against me. Chief Bull of Buffalo and chief O'Neill of this city admitted they have none. They are holding me without evidence. The death of McKinley would only lengthen my time of imprisonment if they convicted me. I feel very bad for the sake of Mrs. McKinley; outside of that I have no sympathy."

WINNIPEG, Manitoba, September 13.—At a regular weekly meeting of the Labor party last night a resolution of sympathy with president McKinley was voted down. CORK, Ireland, September 13.—At today's meeting of the common council of Cork a resolution of sympathy with president McKinley was proposed by Sir John Scott, but it was withdrawn on account of an alderman Cave, a Labor member, opposed it, declaring that Mr. McKinley was no friend of Ireland, but a friend of Great Britain.

Protecting the Assassin.

BUFFALO, September 13.—The Sixty-fifth and Seventy-fourth regiments of the National Guard have been assembled in their barracks to be in readiness should the angry crowd assembled at police headquarters make any hostile demonstration. There has been no indication of a disposition on the part of the crowd to riot, and the assembling of the National Guard is simply a precautionary measure.

Explorer Peary Reached.

HALIFAX, September 13.—The steamer Erik arrived at Sydney this morning after a most successful trip. Explorer Peary was found and he and his party were all safe. Peary remained to continue work, but Mrs. Peary, their little daughter, and Mrs. Pierce, stewardess of the Windward, returned in the Erik. Peary had got as far north as 83.50.

Yacht Race Is Off.

NEW YORK, September 14.—On account of the death of president McKinley the international yacht races for the American cup, between Shamrock II and Columbia, will be postponed. Whether or not the postponement will be for a few weeks or until next season has not been decided.

Synod Mission Votes.

MONTREAL, September 13.—The provincial synod today voted $550 in aid of church missions in British Columbia. Altogether $3,837 were appropriated to the Northwest missions.

WENT $400 TO THE TON

SPOTTED HORSE ORE GIVES BIG RETURNS.

Owners Have a Property They Will Be Able to Develop From the Proceeds of Shipments.

Edward Cole has the honor of having brought into Nelson some of the richest gold ore ever received at the Nelson smelter. He brought in just 300 pounds of ore, which, after paying smelter charges, yielded $337. The ore is from the Spotted Horse mineral claim, situated about three-quarters of a mile from the Porto Rico mine. The claim is owned by Ed. Cole, C. J. Ditter, and Pat McMullan. There has not been very much work done upon it up to date, but in view of the returns it is safe to say that the owners will give the development of the property the attention that it deserves. So far the work upon the claim consists of a short prospecting tunnel, a shaft down some twelve feet, and an open cut which gives a depth of about twenty feet on the ledge. When Cole started to town with his first shipment, there were but two feet of gold quartz shown in the open cut made upon the ledge, but during his absence his partners have increased the showing to four feet of blue quartz, in all of which particles of gold can be seen with the naked eye.

There are four claims in the group known as the Spotted Horse, and as the Spotted Horse ledge from which this high-grade ore has been taken is said to run through all the other claims, it is safe to say that more will be heard from them. The ore brought to Nelson this week is said to be free milling, but as the owners of the property have not the means to put up a stamp mill it is likely that they will ship such ore as they take out to the local smelter for treatment. The Spotted Horse is admirably situated for shipping, the tunnel at present being driven to the surface feet from the Porto Rico wagon road. In addition to the Spotted Horse the other claims in the group are the Sampson, owned by C. J. Ditter, the Nelson, owned by Ed. Cole, Ed. Chape, and W. T. Buggin, and the Hidden Treasure, owned by Westwick, Butler, and Hayward. Beyond these claims, no others have been done upon any of these claims, the owners concentrating their energies upon the development of the Spotted Horse property.

C. J. Ditter, one of the owners of the Spotted Horse, arrived in Nelson yesterday from the claim and was very much pleased when he learned the nature of the returns from the initial shipment. They are sufficiently high to enable the owners to proceed with development without capital, and at the same time pay themselves good wages for their work until such time as they have the property opened up for sale.

Mining Records.

Certificates of work were yesterday issued to F. Ernsbaw, on the Eldorado; and to Ole Skattebo, on the Branch Mint. The latter is being developed by the Davenport, on the north-easterly slope of Mount Verde, by F. R. Blackberger and U. W. Keech; Moni, on the westerly slope of Pino Alto, near Second Relief; Copper Reward, on northwestern slope of Slawish mountain; and Rock Island, on the north-easterly slope of Mount Verde, by F. R. Blackberger and U. W. Keech; Moline, on the north-easterly slope of Mount Verde, by George D. Root; North Star, on Sandy creek, by J. P. Swedberg, and Gold Dust Fractional, by Oscar Johnson. One bill of sale was recorded in which Ole Skattebo transferred to T. O. Skattebo a half interest in the Branch Mint, Schley and Victoria mineral claims.

Notice is recorded by the sheriff that he will sell under execution the Bonaparte mine, to be with being a reputation of the Craigtown, satisfy a judgment of $87 in favor of the Heiber Brewing Company.

Failed to Get Away.

VICTORIA, September 13.—There was a rumor in circulation this morning to the effect that torpedo boat No. 33, attached to the British squadron in these waters, had foundered in Seymour narrows, on the east coast of the island. The report proved to be with out foundation.

An able seaman of H. M. S. Phaeton has been sentenced to twelve months' imprisonment with hard labor by court martial on that ship. He and six other prisoners, having previously been committed for a minor offense, were on parole while the ship was at San Diego. At a given signal the seven men rushed for one of the boats moored alongside the ship, and six of them getting into her cut the lines and made for the shore, which they reached in safety. The man tried today was the seventh.

To Safeguard Presidents.

WASHINGTON, September 13.—Messrs. Boldin and Bynum, members of the commission to revise and solidify the criminal and penal codes of the United States, since the attack upon the life of president McKinley have been investigating the authorities with the view of a preparation of a law making an issue upon a president with intention to murder punishable by death. They have prepared a draft of a bill to be submitted to congress making assault upon the president a felony, and punishable by death, when the assault is for the purpose of obstructing the operations of the government. It is believed that this qualification will have the effect of giving the federal courts jurisdiction in such cases.

WALL PAPER

This is usually the dull season for Wall Paper. But to keep it moving we have made up bundles of all lots that have run down in quantity. We place these on sale at prices that will certainly move them; original cost has been quite lost sight of in making the price. In many of these remnants the quantity is sufficient for even a large room. The high standard of our papers is now well known and not often does an opportunity offer to buy such papers at from 5 to 12 cents per roll. If not ready to paper just now anticipate your fall wants.

THOMSON STATIONERY CO., Ltd.
NELSON, B. C.

many positions requiring strength of character, he was never found wanting. As a soldier and officer in the civil war, he rendered his country good service. As governor of the state of Ohio, his record was clean. As a member of congress, he made a reputation as a statesman. As president, no scandals have besmirched his good name. His domestic life was as pure as his political life was honorable. His death at the hands of a foreign-born assassin should cause the enactment by congress of more stringent immigration laws, for no country, not even the United States, can absorb and assimilate the refuse peoples of the remainder of the world. An attack on the president of the republic should be defined as treason, and punishable with death. Anarchism may be harmless as a theory, but in practice it is madness; not the madness that can be restrained in mad-houses, but the madness that can only be exterminated on the gallows.

The strike situation at Rossland appears to be unchanged. According to the Associated Press dispatches, which are compiled by the local editor of a newspaper owned by Bernard McDonald, McDonald has the whip hand, not only over the Rossland Miners' Union, but over Henry Bratovuer, the mining expert, as well. If these dispatches are true, the union has no show whatever to win. On the other hand, the correspondent of The Tribune sends reports that there are no men working in the Le Roi, and less than fifty told at the Josie, a mine that is still controlled by Whitaker Wright. McDonald's newspaper devoted several columns in one issue this week to a purported declaration by the vice-president of the miners' union, that the union could not win, but when it was sifted down nothing remained but affidavits made by managing editor Gregg and local editor Laird of the Miner. The reports sent The Tribune daily by its own correspondent have always turned out to be pretty near the truth; and the report in today's Tribune can be relied on as a statement of fact. According to it, Bernard McDonald will be allowed to quietly drop out of the Le Roi mine and smelter management, the union will be recognized, and the wage question arranged on the basis of a term-of-years contract.

Theodore Roosevelt is president of the United States, the third vice-president who has been made president by the hand of an assassin. In April, 1865, Abraham Lincoln was assassinated while witnessing a play at Ford's theater, his assassin being Wilkes Booth, an actor. Booth was an ardent Secessionist, and it is supposed that, seeing his cause was lost, he killed the president for revenge. In July, 1881, James Abram Garfield was shot in a railway station in Washington and death resulted eight days afterwards. The man who fired the shot was named Guitau, a disappointed office-seeker. A week ago William McKinley, while attending the Pan-American exposition, was shot by an avowed Anarchist, and his death this morning makes the third president of the United States killed by an assassin's bullet. Andrew Johnson succeeded Lincoln as president, and during his term of office he was in constant friction with congress. Chester A. Arthur was vice-president when Garfield died, and he left the office of president a disappointed man. Theodore Roosevelt has over three years to serve as president, and it is to be hoped that he will administer the high office with the same fairness and intelligence that characterized his administration of the office of governor of New York.

Bernard McDonald as financial secretary of the Bodie Miners' Union and Bernard McDonald as a leading member of the Mine Owners' Association of Kootenay goes to show that the spirit of unionism was and is strong in Mr. McDonald. But "Barney" is not the first good union man who has gone astray by associating with those who are bad and wicked. He began associating with bad men in Bodie and is now associating with wicked men in Rossland.

PERSONALS.

City engineer McCulloch leaves this morning for the Coast on his vacation trip.
Kirby Douglas has returned from a trip to the east. He was at the Pan-American on the day that president McKinley was shot, but so great was the crowd he did not hear of the shooting until he arrived at Hamilton several hours after the shooting occurred. He says that it is necessary for the ordinary man to spend a couple of days at the big show in order to get next to the gruffers who are ready to work a visitor at every turn.
J. C. Drevy returned from the True Blue mine, near Kaslo, yesterday. He says the owners of the True Blue will get out all they have spent on the property up to date from the ore shipments this winter. In other words, they will get their money back from the proceeds of the shipments from the paystake, leaving large quantities of the lower grade ore in the mine until it can be handled to better advantage by means of a tramway.

CITY AND DISTRICT.

Notice of appeal has been given in the case of Lawr vs. Byers, the defendant having decided to appeal from the judgment of Judge Forin.

A wire was received from Judge Forin yesterday to the effect that he would be in Nelson by Monday next and would hold chamber sessions on that date.

Early on Wednesday morning a fire at Cascade destroyed Black's hotel and a greater portion of the business blocks in the city. The damage is roughly estimated at about $20,000.

City engineer McCulloch has prepared the plans and specifications for the re-planing and widening of the city wharf to a width of 19 1/2 feet clear of the guard rails. It is now in order for the city clerk to call for tenders for the work.

W. F. Teetzel & Co. have on exhibition in one of their show windows potatoes grown in a garden in Nelson that are equal to Ashcroft's or Spallumachenes. Over a ton in weight was grown on a piece of ground about 50 feet square.

A meeting of the license commissioners for the Nelson license district will be held in the court house on Saturday, September 28th, for the purpose of considering the application of W. S. Doyle for a license to sell liquor at the North Star hotel at Hall.

The regular meeting of the Socialistic
Club will be held in Miners' Union hall on Sunday afternoon next at half-past 3.
Rev. D. H. Reid, a Congregational minister of Seattle, will arrive in the city this evening and it is expected that he will address the meeting.

Provincial constable Young leaves for the Coast this morning for the purpose of bringing back to Nelson W. J. G. Magnier. The prisoner was arrested at Vancouver by chief constable Lister and lodged in jail at New Westminster upon a charge of stealing $33 while employed as the agent of the N. & F. S. railway at Waneta. At the time of his arrest July were found on the persons of the prisoner and his little son, who was with him at the time of his arrest. The prisoner will arrive in Nelson on Tuesday evening and will be charged before stipendiary magistrate Crease on Wednesday.

Tomorrow at Emmanuel church Rev.
William Munro will preach in the evening on 'Socialism as a force in Nelson.' This will be the third of a series of addresses on forces in Nelson. Appropriate music will be given by the choir. A cordial invitation is extended to everyone.

The Tribune will probably be forced to return to hand-set type until such time as a competent machinist can be secured to keep its Mergenthalers in condition.
This is an humiliating admission for a newspaper to make, more especially for one that has prided itself on employing none but skillful workmen.

Mr. Gilbert, secretary of the Board of Underwriters on the Mainland of British Columbia, is in Nelson, and will remain here for a day or two. He is strongly of opinion that Nelson should have a paid fire department and up-to-date fire fighting apparatus. If Nelson was as well provided in this respect as Rossland, the people would save at least $10,000 a year in premiums for insurance, and make a much greater saving by preventing a conflagration.

Three small boys were up in the police court yesterday upon the charge of having stolen goods in their possession. Five boys all told were summoned in connection with the disappearance of about 100
sacks from the dairy of Wesley Calbeck.
One of the boys is reported to have left the city and the other failed to appear, although he was sent to the court by his mother. The case was adjourned until this morning to secure the attendance of the other boys.

It was decided at the meeting of the Rifle Association last evening that the regular weekly shoot shall be held on Saturdays, commencing at 2 p. m., and that should any members require to shoot on Sunday at least six names are to be handed in to sergeant Steel on the Saturday previous, not later than 9:30 p. m. Otherwise there will be no marker at the butte. There will be a meeting of the Rifle Association in the West Transfer office next Tuesday night at 8 p. m. to pick a team for Rossland and to discuss the annual prize meeting.

W. H. Bullock-Webster of the provincial police department has received inquiries respecting the whereabouts of a man named James Edgar Wilson, a native of Brunnerton, Westland, New Zealand. The missing man was last heard from at Vancouver, in February, 1898, when he was supposed to have started on a prospecting trip to the Peace River country. He is described as a man of 27 years of age, 5 feet 10 inches in height, with brown hair and of a slender build. Any news as to his whereabouts should be forwarded to the provincial police in this city.
The inquiries as to his whereabouts have been started by his mother.

Pacific Cable News.

HONOLULU, September 6th.—Via San Francisco, September 13.—There seems to be serious trouble in Hawaii by reason of the failure of San Francisco exporters to ship cargoes of provisions here. Local stocks of food stuffs are becoming lower.
The larger Honolulu dealers are refusing to fill big orders and the small retail stores cannot replace their stocks as they sell.
The British cable ship Britannia, which has been surveying for the route for a cable from Victoria to Australia, has arrived here. They report that the cable will lie within 200 miles of the Hawaiian Islands, to the eastward. The arrival of the vessel here has revived talk of the possibility of getting cable communication with the outside world without waiting for action of congress, by means of a connection with the British line at Panning Islands about 200 miles only from here.
