

NELSON'S TAX RATE FOR 1902 IS FIXED AT 20 3/4 MILLS ON THE DOLLAR

Mayor Fletcher and aldermen Hamilton, Irving, Morrison, Scanlan, and Selous, assisted by hospital directors Byers, Johnston, and Lay, opened last Monday's session of the city council. In addition to the above-named gentlemen, there were present the short-hand reporter, the editor of the Nelson Economist, the city clerk, the city engineer, and the chief of the fire department.

The long-hand journalist was not present at the opening, as he was in attendance at a meeting of local capitalists who expect to soon become multi-millionaires through owning undeveloped coal lands somewhere east of the Rockies.

The long-hand journalist arrived at the council meeting, the mayor and aldermen Irving were having a warm discussion, in which the mayor was trying to make the alderman believe that he (the mayor) had not said the doctors of Nelson were all alike; that they were all grafters.

The alderman had rather the best of the discussion, and the mayor for the time subsided. What had taken place before his arrival, the long-hand journalist is unwilling to say in print.

The question is one that affects the city's finances. Alderman Hamilton—Them's my sentiments too. It will be better for all concerned, therefore let the question of a grant be referred to the finance committee.

The alderman Selous—I question should be referred to an independent committee, one in no way connected with either the hospital board or the council.

Alderman Scanlan—The question can only be settled by a fair investigation, and the sooner it is thrashed out the better.

Major Fletcher—We have been trying to work the thing quietly, giving all the printing offices a share of the work. I suppose this clause in the report is merely figurative.

Alderman Scanlan—No, it is not merely figurative. We mean what we say. If it is merely figurative why was the statement the council asked for some time ago not laid before the finance committee?

The mayor put the question as to whether the clause would stand as part of the report and alderman Selous said: "I think it is unnecessary and I vote no."

Alderman Morrison—I move that $500 be granted for the purpose and the committee be appointed to make the arrangements.

Alderman Scanlan—Will not stand for more than a grant of $300, the remainder to be subscribed by the citizens.

At this point the long-hand journalist got sleepy and quit the council chamber.

see why the council should shoulder all these affairs. The citizens should take it up.

Alderman Selous—I do not think it is the province of the council. Poor little Slocan City has made a bid to get it, and great big Nelson should not make an effort to beat them out.

Alderman Hamilton—The citizens have not made a move in the matter.

Alderman Scanlan—There could be a drilling contest.

Alderman Morrison—I have not heard that a move has been made.

Alderman Irving—We are, through the Tourist Association, making efforts to bring individual tourists to Nelson, why not make an effort to bring a train load of miners and their friends from Rossland?

Major Fletcher—Miners are not tourists. Alderman Scanlan—They will be tourists for a day.

Alderman Morrison—I move that $500 be granted for the purpose and the committee be appointed to make the arrangements.

Alderman Scanlan—Will not stand for more than a grant of $300, the remainder to be subscribed by the citizens.

At this point the long-hand journalist got sleepy and quit the council chamber.

FINANCE COMMITTEE'S REPORT.

1. We recommend that 75 per cent. of the city printing be given to the Daily News, and the balance divided among the other printing office.

2. We recommend that H. T. Steeper be employed to do the work of street watering, and that after he has done work equivalent to that performed by M. Scully, the watering be done by W. P. Tierney.

3. We recommend that the following rates be levied on real estate for the current year, namely: On an assessment of $1,268,075 a rate of 2.1-2 mills; on an assessment of $1,268,075 a rate of .15 mills be levied for sinking fund and interest on debentures, and 2 mills for sewer fee.

4. We recommend that the charge of $1.50 for the season for water for garden hose be not imposed this year.

5. We recommend that the attention of the fire chief Lillie called the attention of the council to the fact that the brush, grass, and trees cut on streets had been left where cut, and as they became dry they were a source of danger in case of fire, and recommended that the same be removed as soon as possible.

the money waiting for them. The company recently sent up four cases of overalls, etc., to the Yukon, and plenty of orders are available. In fact this business looks like one that should grow considerably, and the new factory reflects much credit on the Turner-Beech Company.

TRAMWAY BY-LAW WAS DEFEATED.

On Wednesday an election was held in Nelson to ratify a by-law which allowed the tramway company to hold its franchise if it only operated its cars three months in each year until the city had a population of 8,000.

The by-law was defeated by a vote of 65 to 47. The by-law was defeated by a vote of 65 to 47. The by-law was defeated by a vote of 65 to 47.

MUCH TRUTH IN A HOMELY OLD MAXIM THAT MEN KNOW NOTHING ABOUT

There is a saying that a "woman can throw out more with a teaspoon than a man can carry with a shovel." That is rather a primitive, exaggerated way of expressing the matter; but much truth underlies the homely old maxim, when you note the extravagant waste and wasteful waste in many households, realizing only too well wherein the trouble lies.

For no matter how lavish a frugal man may be with his money outside of his home, he rarely, or in very exceptional cases, has anything to do with the housekeeping expenditures beyond paying the bills.

An exceedingly capable young matron, one whose husband was progressive in his affairs financially to a surprising degree to onlookers, recently made some practical remarks relative to this subject, which gave an insight into the inner workings of domestic science that would materially lighten the cares of many anxious housekeepers, if a few of her theories were heeded and practiced.

"The housekeeping all belongs exclusively to a woman," she said. "For husband really knows very little about it, or whether you spend his salary judiciously or no. If he is a kind, considerate person, he cuts what is placed before him without questioning the cost of the material used."

"What man realizes whether one or one dozen eggs were used in the cake which he consumes at luncheon, or if you buy cheaper cuts of meat and utilize the possibilities of your meat-chopper in making them palatable? Or again, if all of the odds and ends in culinary use are made the most of by being served up in dainty dishes, instead of thrown out, as so many do? Is it the same through all of the minor details of home management, for it is unquestionably the little foxes which spoil the vines. And in the small things lies the secret of the wise housekeeper's generalship."

It did not seem at all strange that this woman's husband should be one of the most prosperous young men in the community.

Another struggling young husband came in mind—one who was kind, thrifty and industrious, a splendid manager in every sense of the word where he was concerned or could control the household expenses; yet the haggard, care-worn look on his kindly face was a constant anxiety to his friends.

His wife was incidentally heard to say, "We always have angel food at our house twice a week; the children like it to piece on, and what are eleven eggs when eggs are cheap?" It is a very small, apparently insignificant illustration, but volumes may be read between the lines.

In each family there were three daughters. One family was growing rich, happy and prosperous, with every necessary comfort; while the second family struggled continually against adverse circumstances.

There was the same noticeable difference in respect to the children's clothing, where the judicious mother dressed her little girls neatly and tastily in dainty gingham and percales, which would launder and retain a fresh appearance until worn out.

came rattled. Ex-mayor Houston, who was present, tried to help the returning officer and became involved in a dispute with the returning officer. The Italian looked as if he was looking for "justice" but the returning officer in the West ward was not in evidence. Finally, the returning officer asked the Italian if he was "for" or "against" the by-law, and the Italian answered that he wanted the cars to run all winter. That answer was not satisfactory, and he was again put through the sweet-box.

He looked at the ceiling and then at the ballot-paper and said he would vote "for" the by-law. The tramway scrutineers laughed, and the ex-mayor took a walk and had his laugh when the ballots were counted. When the ballots were counted the vote stood:

On Coronation day the Lethbridge lacrosse team defeated the Medicine Hat team by a score of 4 to 1. On Thursday of last week the tables were turned, Medicine Hat winning by a score of 6 to 1.

On Sunday last, at Grand Forks, the Republic baseball team were defeated by the Grand Forks team by 16 to 6 in seven innings.

ROCKENFIELD, who was Nelson's star ball player for two seasons, and who started out with the Vancouver team this season, is now playing third base with the Tacoma team—and playing good ball.

The only game played in Nelson is bowls, and it is played on the green back of the court-house.

THE TOWN AND DISTRICT

S. L. Myers of Northport, Washington, is stopping at the Bartlett.

A. R. Goldie, of the Goldie & McCulloch safe works, Galt, Ontario, is registered at the Home.

The Nelson Saw & Planing Mills shipped a carload of shiplap to Lethbridge, Alberta, on Wednesday.

W. H. Yawkey of Detroit, Michigan, who has large mining interests in the Slocan, is registered at the Phair.

Andrew Wallace, one of Nelson's early-day residents, but now of New Denver, is at the Madden. He is accompanied by his wife.

Don-McBeath-of-Washburn, Wisconsin, is at the Queen's. Mr. McBeath is a brother of "Dave" McBeath's, the well-known railway contractor.

A. R. Fingland, foreman of the Monitor mine at Three-Forks, was in Nelson during the week. The Monitor is among the best properties in the Slocan.

The Nelson High School opened the fall term with over 40 pupils in attendance, which makes the Nelson school the third in importance in the province.

During the week J. A. Sayward shipped three carloads of lumber and two carloads of shingles from his mills at Pilot Bay to Lacombe, Red Deer, Calgary, and Macleod.

The Nelson Saw & Planing Mills, Limited, are making additions to their plant. A new engine will be added, so as to give the sawmill more power; trimmers, so that lumber can be sent to the Northwest in exact lengths; a dry kiln with a capacity of 100,000 feet. The mills will be started up next week and run to their full capacity.

The wind storm on Wednesday did considerable damage to flowers and fruit trees in Nelson. Many of the fruit trees, although young, are heavily laden with fruit this year, and the storm did more damage in causing the fruit to drop than it did in breaking limbs. The storm was also felt on the lake, some of the C. P. R. barges and boats having to run to shelter.

Although the statement is not published by authority of any of the tramway officials, it is said that a cable was received in Nelson from London to stop the car service here on Sunday night, the last day of August. As the company has already stopped the service twice before this year, the two-months limit is near an end, and when the total for the year amounts to two months the company will have forfeited its franchise.

"Sam" Neelands, who went to South Africa with the last Canadian contingent, is back in Nelson looking as if driving Boers had agreed with him. He was in the Hart's river fight, where his company made so gallant a stand. In that fight the Boers thought they had surrounded a column made up principally of Imperial Yeomanry and would have a soft snap, as the Imperial Yeomanry had the reputation of surrendering without fighting. "Sam" says general Buller stands very high in the estimation of both the Boer and British Australian hotel; A. F. Geddes, for the Morrissey hotel; Miles A. Beale, for the Imperial hotel; Andrew Johnson, for the East Kootenay hotel. The new townsite is owned by Foss & McDonald, the railway contractors. Breckenridge & Lund have the contract for putting in 6,000 feet of new sidetrack for the C. P. R., the depot of that company having been moved to a point just across Elk river from the new townsite.

HOTEL REGISTERS FULL OF NAMES. The registers of Nelson's leading hotels show daily, lists of names never before equalled. Those travelling come from all points, as the following, culled at random from the arrivals for the last few days, go to show:

AT THE HUME—D. F. Dickson, Vancouver; S. W. Gebo, Frank, Alberta; George Harrison, Ymir; D. Simpson, Vancouver; E. Baynes Reed, Victoria; M. N. Van Valkenburg, Toronto; H. Davlars, Frank, Alberta; D. W. Bell, Montreal; G. H. Mitchell, Calgary; D. M. Allen, Colorado Springs, Colorado; George A. Fraser, Grand Forks; C. D. McNabb, Jaffray; R. E. Drew, and wife, Camborne; S. A. Sutherland, Ferguson.

AT THE MADDEN—B. D. O'Dell, Revelstoke; John Murphy, Ymir; John J. Campbell, Kaslo; J. S. Tracy, North Bay; John W. Shanks, Linnear, Missouri. AT THE PHAIR—John McBeath, and wife, Salt Lake, Utah; George MacNutt, London, England; Hugh D. Lumsden, Montreal; A. G. Fairweather, St. Paul; W. E. Bishop, Toronto; Henry Lake, Windsor, Ontario; E. Y. Sayer, Denver, Colorado; Miss Catherine North, New York; George Carnegie and wife, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania; J. Van Zaine, Milwaukee. AT THE BARTLETT—Conrad Shafford, Fernie; J. L. Myers, Northport; J. Brady, Spokane; S. Jones, Lardeau; E. Morton, Sandon; A. W. Duval, Rossland; J. W. McKay, Phoenix.

AT THE QUEEN'S—George Bowen, Seattle; John Bull, Slocan; D. F. Strobeck, Spokane; J. Irvine, Vancouver; R. Campbell, Grand Forks; Mrs. Woodhouse, Revelstoke; J. W. Travis, Winnipeg; E. H. Broadfoot, Seaforth, Ontario; Mrs. E. E. Orchard, Frank, Alberta; E. G. Robb, Sandon; Rev. E. C. D. McCall, New Denver.

AT THE TREMONT—G. L. Thompson, McCall; John B. Tierney, Rossland; Fred Roy, Hall Creek; F. Dowley, Northport, Washington; J. D. Dougal, Ashland, Wisconsin; A. Leon, Kaslo; James Dooxsee, Cranbrook.

THE TRIBUNE'S ADVERTISERS. The Tribune has always had a good advertising patronage, and its columns this morning are an evidence of it. Fred Irvine, J. H. Ashdown Hardware Company, W. F. Teetzel & Co., Jacob Dover, William Hunter & Co., Morrison & Caldwell, John A. Irving & Co., T. S. McPherson, Morley & Co., Canada Drug & Book Company, Nelson Saw & Planing Mills, P. Burns & Co., West Kootenay Butcher Company, Hamilton Powder Company, H. J. Phair, G. M. Gunn, E. Ferguson & Co., D. McArthur & Co., Old Curiosity Shop, Prosser's Second-Hand Store, Daily News Job Printing and Binding Department, are all representative houses, and the stocks carried in their respective lines are not surpassed in the province. Of the hotels, the Phair, the Queen's, the Hume, the Madden, the Tremont, and the Bartlett are all noted for their excellence. The advertisement of the oldest bank in Nelson, the Bank of Montreal, has never missed appearing in an issue of The Tribune since the first day of its publication, in November, 1892.

THE MAN WHO DEFEATED PETER WHITE.

Among the tourists visiting Nelson this week was Thomas Mackie of Pembroke, Ontario. Mr. Mackie is a Liberal and sits in the house of commons as member for North Renfrew. The first time he stood for election he defeated Peter White, who was speaker, and the wisecracks predicted the country would go to smash, but it didn't and Mr. Mackie was easily re-elected for a second term. "Tom" as his friends call him, is a millionaire and he made his money on the Ottawa river as a lumberman. He has the credit of being, in the early days, the best hewer that ever went into the woods along the Ottawa.

leaving Nelson last evening he was escorted to the Union depot by prominent local Grits and such good Tories as "Bill" Tierney.

SHOWS A GOOD INCREASE.

Principal Sullivan gives The Tribune the following figures of the enrollment and average daily attendance at the Central Avenue school in Nelson for the month of August 1915 year and last year. The figures show a good increase, which is a healthy sign:
