HERE AND THERE

TELEPHONE POLES VS. CONDUITS.

A most extraordinary recommendation was contained in the Board of Works report to the City Council at last Monday's meeting, viz.: That "the B. C. Telephone Company be granted the privilege to erect a complete system of pole construction throughout that district bounded by Hastings and Pacific streets, and by Beatty street and Granville street."

This clause was, on motion of Ald. Stevens, referred back to the Board of Works. In doing so, the alderman pointed out that if the B. C. Telephone were authorized to place a pole system in this district the city would be tied for 20 years, or the lifetime of the poles, and that a conduit system would be out of the question for many years to come. In his opinion, that district should all be served through conduits. He also reminded the Council that during the past month the city had been forced to pay $1,500.00 to move two old and dangerous poles on Granville street, and this charge was forced upon the city by the fact that some past Council had granted permission to erect these poles, and yet in spite of this experience the present Council were about to grant a privilege to the Company which would place the city in a still worse position.

On this motion the matter was referred back, and it is expected that there will be a serious effort on the part of the company to force this concession, but they will meet with strong opposition from the alderman from Ward V.

BROADWAY EAST.

The residents of East Ward V. will be pleased to know that, through the efforts of Aldermen Whitesides and Stevens, the B. C. Electric have agreed to complete the grading and also to lay a temporary track this year, to be running by November 1st, and to lay a permanent track next year when the paving of the street is being done.

There has been a dispute between the B. C. Electric and the city regarding Broadway East, the company having refused to proceed with the works unless it was agreed on the part of the city and the property owners, that no paving would be undertaken within two years. The company maintained that the cost of laying an ordinary track this year, only to be removed next year, would mean a great loss to the company. This was quite true, and the company should not be asked to do it, but it was shown to the satisfaction of Mr. Glover, the manager, that the present construction track could be placed in a safe condition at a moderate cost, and the overhead wiring would have to be done in any case, and further that single track would do until the street was paved next season, and that this same track would be almost necessary to bring in the construction material next year; so, on the whole, the cost to the company would be but a trifle. This view of the matter met with the approval of Mr. Glover, who has consented to proceed and assured the delegation that the cars would be running by November first.

This arrangement will be very gratifying to those living in that district, as it will ensure early construction of a permanent pavement, which is very necessary in this section.

CONSERVATION OF WATER SUPPLY.

On the suggestion of Fire Warden Gladwin, a meeting was called by the City Council, of representatives from the surrounding municipalities, which met at the City Hall on Thursday evening.

On calling the meeting to order, Mayor Taylor read a letter from Mr. Gladwin, suggesting that as far as possible those municipalities interested should secure all the land and timber on the Capilano and Seymour watersheds, and make them into a reserve. He pointed out the irreparable damage already done by careless campers in lighting fires, and suggested that proper entrances be arranged and all who enter the reserve be compelled to surrender all matches and to register their names. This is done by the American government at the Yellowstone Park.

Mayor Taylor briefly pointed to the necessity of some action being taken in this matter, and then opened the question for discussion. Several present spoke as to the advisability of action, and Reeve Pound suggested that a sub-committee be appointed.

Ald. Stevens then introduced a resolution as follows: "That the City Clerk be instructed to ascertain what lands had been alienated on the Seymour, Capilano and Lynn Creeks, and what was the exact condition of the titles to the same. That the private owners be approached as to the conditions surrounding their timber holdings. And that the Provincial Government be interviewed and their views be ascertained as to exchanging timber at present under reserve for the timber holdings on these creeks.

"And that a committee, consisting of the Mayors and Reeves of the districts interested, be appointed to attend to the matter."

Ald. McTaggart seconded the motion, which was carried unanimously.

During the discussion which preceded the putting of the motion, it was clearly shown that unless some action was taken our water supply was threatened, and the foregoing resolution was accepted as a good basis to work from. It was also stated that no doubt the owners of timber in those valleys would deal reasonably with the committee, recognizing the importance of the project, and it was felt that these owners would be willing to deal with the Provincial Government for exchange of timber if an equitable adjustment of location and cruise were made.

The matter will be prosecuted with vigor, according to the statements of Mayor Taylor, who is very enthusiastic on the question.

THE SMOKE NUISANCE.

Representing nineteen of the foremost towns in Great Britain, a deputation has submitted a memorial to John Burns, in which is set forth a series of facts showing up the evils of smoke. Among these are the indirect results of a smoky and foggy atmosphere, such as a temperamental depression finding relief in drinking, betting and other forms of vicious excitement, and windows permanently closed against permanent smuts. Eighty per cent. of the population lives in this atmosphere of fog and soot. These indirect results are not imaginary scares. A week's fog during a sold spell in Glasgow sent up the death rate from 13.5 to 32.5 a thousand. Only London and seven large towns have so far given the matter serious consideration. In the years 1903 and 1904 these seven provincial authorities instituted 2,181 prosecutions for causing a smoke nuisance, while the other 102 leading towns instituted 164 between them.

CORPORATION MORALS

We have frequently pointed out, in these columns, that the modern tendency to centralize commercial interests in the form of large corporations has created a serious demand, or more correctly, an imperative need, for a code of morals adaptable to the changed conditions or systems.

Men are, on the whole, fairly moral in their personal lives. The inclination of the age is antagonistic to personal vice. But through the instrumentality of the corporation men will commit deeds which they would scorn to do as an individual.

Through the medium of a board of directors or a sub-official, men will participate in actions which if done by an individual would be catalogued as a crime. There are those who would scorn to steal personally, yet who persistently defraud their fellow citizens out of large sums which are justly theirs. There are, again, those who would sooner lose their right hand than compromise their honor by lying, yet who assiduously circulate false and misleading statements in order to secure for their corporation or company some undeserved advantage.

Recently we had a statement, most earnestly circulated with all the protestations of a solemn truth, to the effect that all the American railroads were running at a loss, and unless the freight rate were raised it would result in the greatest financial disaster of the age. This was no idle newspaper report, but the solemn statement of the leading railroad men of the continent, officially delivered to the President of the United States. The appeal was almost pathetic in its terms, and it was suggested by these same men that there were only two ways in which disaster could be avoided, first by "increased freight rates," or second, by "reducing wages." And from many quarters came the demand that the latter course be pursued.

Now, as an illustration of the truthfulness of these statements, we will quote a few figures.

The C. P. R. has just closed the most successful year of its operation. The NET earnings, for the year ending June 30, 1910, were $33,840,000, an increase of net earnings of $10,884,000. These figures have a dual significance, in the first place they are a direct contradiction of the statements of the railroad magnates, and conclusive proof that these same statements were absolutely unfounded and simply made in order to "bluff" the people into accepting a higher freight tariff. In the second place, these figures warrant the Dominion authorities in bringing to an end the extraordinary privileges enjoyed by the C. P. R. by virtue of its charter, which privileges were to obtain until the company earned 10 per cent. on its capital. The present earnings amount to about 12 per cent., but the company escape the penalty and thus deprive the people of large sums, by simply paying 8 per cent. The subterfuge is so glaring that it is a wonder the matter has not been made the subject of political controversy long since; in any case, it is a good illustration of how a corporation may with impunity rob the people of their heritage.

Another direct contradiction of the statements of the railroads is found in the annual statement of the Great Northern, as shown in detail in our financial column. It is a record year for the company, showing an increase in earnings of about $8,850,000. The net income to be applied on stock amounts to $20,125,000, or the equivalent of 9.5 per cent. on its capital of $210,000,000, or an excess of $5,425,000 over and above the 7 per cent. dividend. Last year the road earned 8.3 per cent.

Other roads show a similar healthy condition, and yet in face of these conditions, these men have solemnly stated that they could not make the roads pay.

It is this practice of deliberate corporation lying and deceit that we wish to condemn. We maintain that men who will make such statements to secure material advantages are worse than the common liar and sneak thief. And, further, those who connive at such practices are equally guilty.

There is a growing need for a code of morals and honor that will include in its recognition all forms of deceit and dishonesty. Public condemnation is perhaps the most potent form of reproof, and few men will face the indignation of an aroused public sentiment. The time will come when the great masses of the people will protest against such forms of immorality and then we may hope to see some remedy.

COLLINGWOOD SCHRIEBER AGAIN.

Last week we commented upon the absurd suggestion of Mr. Collingwood Schrieber to import hordes of Oriental laborers to complete the G. T. P. This week we are called upon to comment upon another hysterical statement made by this "maligner of the West." He is credited with stating that "the reason that laborers cannot be obtained to work on the G. T. P. is because Vancouver is jealous of Prince Rupert and discourages all who attempt to go there."

There is only one way to treat such a creature, and that is to apply the slipper to that portion of his anatomy where it will be most effective. He is not a man. He could not be and make such idiotic statements as the above. It is impossible to conceive of a person, who has arrived at mature years, making such assertions. Yet this fellow, having the physical appearance of a man, and holding a position which is supposed to be a man's place, will dare to so malign these two coast cities without the vestige of reason for it. It is just such conceited pups as this that often precipitate differences between individuals and communities which otherwise would have pursued a perfectly amicable course.

Such fellows in this western country soon find themselves occupying a cell in the asylum, or else returned to the effete East, labelled "Not Wanted."

If his Oriental propensities qualified him for "suppression," as suggested last week by the leading Liberal organ, then this last eruption of his weak mind furnishes all the requisite qualifications for admission to a home for incurable imbeciles.

THE SAFEST PLACE IN THE WORLD.

It has been asserted that the safest place in the world is a seat in a British railway carriage. There would appear to be much in the boast, judging by the official record of accidents on the railways of the United Kingdom during 1909. Only one passenger was killed by an accident to a train in which he was travelling. Further, this was the first such death for a period of twenty months. There were 390 non-fatal accidents. During the year 1,264,800,000 passenger journeys were made, with but one fatal accident. The proportion of passengers injured was one in 3,200,000.

OF INTEREST TO ALL

TRAM CARS IN PARK.

There has been considerable discussion of the question of a tram car around the Park. Much has been said pro and con. The Park Board have decided to refuse a franchise to a company to construct a line around the Park, on the grounds that if a tram line is built it should be under the direct control of the city.

There are those who oppose a tram invading Stanley Park because they view it as a private reserve. In fact, they object just as strongly to women and children, or any of the commonality, using the Park on the same grounds. They seem to think, in fact, that Providence created that Park for their especial benefit. With such we have not patience.

Others go to the opposite extreme and advocate the interlacing of the whole Park with cheap tram lines.

Commissioner Owens seems to have the most equitable conception of the situation, for while he desires to retain the natural beauty of this great public heritage, yet he would make it accessible to the poorer citizens by a system of auto trains. He claims that by this means cheap transportation could be supplied to all portions of the Park, and at the same time the unsightly wiring and equipment of the average tram line would be avoided.

There are two things which should be kept carefully in mind when discussing the exploitation of this beauty spot.

First, that the chief value of Stanley Park lies in its sylvan beauty, in the complete transformation in surroundings to that of a crowded city, in its pure, fragrant atmosphere and gentle sea breezes.

Secondly, that this is the heritage of the people, and all have an equal right to enjoy it. There is no rich and poor with Providence. All children of men have the right to revel in the bounties of Nature.

Now it should be the endeavor of all to jealously preserve the former, but also to expedite the latter. Com. Owens' scheme seems to fill the bill nicely. An "auto train," or as many as are needed, could convey all who wished to reach the different points of interest without defacing the natural beauty of the Park. It would be cheap and convenient, and in winter months could be laid up. In this way no one need be denied their birthright.

RECREATION GROUNDS.

Another splendid suggestion lies to the credit of Com. Owens, viz.: that the causeway at Coal Harbor bridge be made solid and that which is now a mud-flat at low tide, at the head of the harbor, be filled in and made into a large recreation park.

This is a splendid suggestion, and worthy of hearty support. We have not at present a decent recreation park in the city. This piece of ground is well suited for the purpose and would make an ideal site. It is capable of having a running track a mile long, and is naturally suited to the construction of an immense open amphitheatre, which is much needed here.

C. N. R. LINER'S RECORD.

The Canadian Northern Railway Company announce that the Royal Edward, belonging to their Royal line of Atlantic steamships, has just made the fastest passage ever performed from Canada to England. The Royal Edward left Rimouski on the St. Lawrence, where she took on a large number of mails at 2:15 p. m., on Friday last week, and arrived at Bristol after a passage of five days, 18¾ hours. She also achieved a "record" for the land-to-land passage, her time being only three days, 20 hours. Passengers and mails arrived in London soon after midday on Thursday, July 28.

DR. CLEAVER AND METHODISM.

In a resolution at the Methodist conference at Victoria, Dr. Cleaver sought to effectually silence Dr. Jackson and all who dared to think independent of the authorities of the church.

In his resolution Dr. Cleaver extracts from the context certain phrases from the books of Dr. Jackson and makes them the basis of his attack. One quotation reads: "A man may not do violence to his intellectual conscience at the bidding of any authority, however august, and such an appeal can accomplish nothing unless it be to discredit the authority itself." To Dr. Cleaver and his colleagues this is rank heresy, and "unsettling and injurious to character." To the average thinking mind it appeals as common sense. Dr. Cleaver would have all students and laymen give their intellects and consciences into the professional keeping of the clergy and refrain from independent thinking. Such a course would have been alright in the "dark ages," but not in this enlightened age, when men have formed the obnoxious habit of thinking for themselves.

Another very offensive passage to Dr. Cleaver is: "The early chapters of Genesis are not history, and they are not science; they contain no account of the real beginnings, either of the earth itself or of man and human civilization upon it." In this passage Dr. Jackson is pointing out that the Book of Genesis is not to be taken as a text book on science or as a treatise on the history of human civilization, but rather as a religious allegory, a beautiful pictorial account of the early stages of human history.

Dr. Cleaver and his whole school never allow any connection of science and the Bible, so it is hard to conceive why he picked this passage to be held up as a sample of the fearful heresy of Dr. Jackson.

Other quotations are equally absurd, and really only show that Dr. Jackson takes a thoughtful view of all such questions and has not, like Dr. Cleaver, stopped thinking at the age of twenty-five.

There are men who prepared a set of sermons when they left college and have been preaching the same series ever since, and such men usually are ready to attack any independent thinker who introduces new matter for thought.

It is refreshing to know that Dr. Jackson is heartily supported by many of the keenest and most cultured men of the Methodist connection. Among those who warmly supported him was the venerable Chancellor Burwash, who is revered and loved by all who know him. N. W. Rowell, the brilliant Toronto lawyer, in a sane but clever speech, strongly supported Dr. Jackson. Dr. Chown, the general superintendent, is also friendly disposed toward him, as is Dr. Graham, the general secretary of education, and many others.

It was finally decided to leave the question of Dr. Jackson and his teaching to a special committee, which will thoroughly examine into the charges made. It is generally conceded that the advanced thinkers have won a victory in this respect, and that the result will be a great impetus to modern theological thought.

A GOOD DOG FOR THE COUNTRY.

The Airedale terrier is one of the latest arrivals in the dog world, antedating the Boston terrier by only about ten years. It is the largest of all the terriers, so big, in fact, that many English breeders at first refused to consider him a terrier, claiming that a dog which weighed forty-five or fifty pounds must necessarily lack some of the distinguishing traits of that keen and nimble family.

The Yorkshire working men who originated him, however, knew what they were about. Out of the original combination of otter hound, bull terrier, Yorkshire terrier and other species, they evolved an entirely new type. By judicious crossing and careful selection they "fixed" this type. They were not so particular about the appearance as about the nature of the animal.

What they wanted was a good "pal," a dog big enough to take care of himself, yet too dignified to hunt for trouble; one with a zest for any sport, that could work in the water as well as on land. Moreover, they wanted a dog that would stick loyally to his master, and not show any irritating disposition to welcome every one with indiscriminating affection.

The Airedale is distinctly a one-man dog. He is not ill-tempered, however. In a quiet way he is very affectionate, and his manners are gentle. But all his affection is concentrated on his master. For him the Airedale will dare anything. Toward the rest of the world he maintains that characteristic attitude of reserve which sets him apart from other dogs.

He has the courage of a lion when roused and the fighting skill of a wolf, but he is a gentleman. He will not fight unless he has to; then his opponent must look to himself, however big or strong he may be.

The Airedale owes much of his popularity to his adaptability to every kind of sport, but he is more than a mere sporting dog. He can easily be taught to drive cattle like a collie. He is an excellent watch-dog, alert, determined, but not noisy. He will do his best to rid a farm of every form of vermin. He is docile and obedient to a remarkable degree, and fond of children. His constitution is so hardy that he can stand a great amount of rough work and weather. Altogether, those who know him agree that he is one of the most useful dogs living, with an individuality all his own.

"How did she die?"

"I don't know, sir, but I think it was from the shock."

"The shock?"

"Yes, sir."

"What shock?"

"Well, you see—your wife ran away with the coachman."

IN THE ESTATE OF WILLIAM HURST, DECEASED.

NOTICE is hereby given that all creditors and others having claims against the estate of the late William Hurst, who died on or about the 5th day of June, A. D. 1910, are required on or before the 20th day of September, A. D. 1910, to send by post, prepaid, or deliver to the undersigned their Christian and surnames, addresses and descriptions, full particulars of their claims, duly verified, statement of their accounts and the nature of the security (if any) held by them.

AND FURTHER TAKE NOTICE, that after the above mentioned date the executors of the above mentioned Estate will proceed to distribute the assets of the said deceased among the parties entitled thereto, having regard only to the claims with which they shall then have notice.

And the executors will not be liable for the said assets or any part thereof to any person or persons of whose claim notice shall not have been received by them at the time of such distribution.

The Barstow Oil Territory will produce oil of light gravity, principally of the paraffine series, and of a market value from $2.00 to $2.50 at least per barrel, being a high-grade refining oil.

(Signed) DR. F. SALATHE, PH. D.

Oil seepages and escaping gas in the Barstow region have been known for years, yet the district has only recently become prominent through the discovery of exceptionally light gravity oil. This oil is the best of its kind yet discovered in the State of California, and is in heavy demand for refining purposes.

Some idea of the value of this ground may be had when it is remembered that similar ground in other of California's fields, which could be bought for a few dollars per acre a few months ago, has since advanced to $2,000, $3,000 and even $5,000 per acre. It therefore would not be surprising if this land should go to $1,000 or more per acre in a like short period, especially considering the high quality of the oil existing in the district.

The history of the famous Midway gusher field seems sure to be duplicated here. Heavy financial interests are rushing in, and Standard derricks are springing up in a night. Geological conditions are perfect for a strong and permanent field.

What Ellis Mallery, Eminent Geologist, had to say about the field Before the Chamber of Mines, as quoted by the Los Angeles Herald

Special to The Herald.

BARSTOW, Cal., July 27.—Ellis Mallery, eminent geologist and authority on the oil deposits of California, addressed the Chamber of Mines on the resources of the Inter-Mountain region, and his discourse was warmly appreciated by a full house of the Chamber members.

Particular interest was taken in his reference to the Barstow Oil Feld, which he designated as one of the most promising regions of this state.

"In speaking of the Barstow region," said Mr. Mallery, "my statements are based upon knowledge acquired from several trips of investigation made during the past year and a half.

"Broadly speaking, the rocks making up the productive oil series of this state are no different in the Barstow Field from those of other fields at present developed.

"Th necessary shales, the result of a once prolific organic lif, that make oil accumulations possible, here exist, and interbedded with the shales are sand strata, both coherent and incoherent, which, coupled with the overlying and underlying beds of like character, form the required reservoirs for the storage of oil.

"The reservoir sands range from fine grained to coarse conglomeritic layers, and to discover these stored accumulations is only a matter of knowledge and capital.

"In short, the field under discussion possesses great merit, and I have no hesitancy in saying that men of means can devote their energies and resources toward its development with the assurance they will reap most satisfactorily for their effort."

Mr. Mallory is in Vancouver for a few days visiting relatives and friends, and can be seen by appointment at our office. He is associated with some of the heaviest operators in the California fields, and has full power of attorney to act for one of the largest land holdings in the Barstow district. Brokers, fiscal agents or individual investors can therefore secure choice holdings at a nominal figure, without the intervention of the middleman.

A block consisting of 80 acres to 160 acres makes a nice holding, either for private investment or for organization purposes. Only a few parcels will be disposed of at the price quoted, and not more than 160 acres in one block.

Lands held under perfect possessory titles, subject to U. S. patent upon the development of oil.

Mohammedanism, like Christianity, has its sects, and a very strong and thriving one is that known as Babism, from its founder, or Bahaism, from its present-day prophet. One-third of the people of Persia are said to be Bahaists, besides great numbers in India, Morocco and China. In many essentials of doctrine and in manner of life they remain Moslems, but they accept Mirza Ali Mohammed, who was called the Bab, as a greater prophet than Mohammed himself. The religion he taught before his execution sixty years ago, as a rebel against constituted authority, is much more liberal than orthodox Islamism. His modern successor, the Baha Ullah, pleads for universal peace and national arbitration, for a universal language, for thorough education of boys and girls alike, for abstinence from liquors and drugs, for a law of kindness to the animal as well as the human creature. There are no priests of Bahaism; those who teach the religion support themselves by other means. Celibacy and polygamy are alike condemned, and what amounts to Orienta eves to the complete emancipation of women is taught. The growth of the new doctrines, like the political ascendancy of the Young Turks, cannot but have a great effect in broadening the Mohammedan point of view, and sweeping Islam into the current of modern civilization.

THE X-RAY AS PEARL FINDER.

An attempt has recently been made to improve the unscientific methods employed at the celebrated pearl fisheries of Ceylon by the use of the X-ray. The divers bring up as many of the pearl oysters as they can hastily grasp during an immersion which can not exceed a minute in length. Only a few of the oysters contain pearls, but all are opened and destroyed in the search. The new method consists in examining the oysters with the X-ray, which readily detects the existence of pearls within. If the radiographs show no pearls, the oysters are rturned to the water uninjured. In the process of examination the oysters are placed on a rolling frame, which carries them in succession under the rays. It is claimed that this method will result in preventing the destruction of great numbers of oysters which eventually may produce pearls. It is also more hygienic than the old process of universal destruction.

EDITOR CANADIAN STATESMAN.

We had the pleasure of meeting Mr. M. A. James of the Bowmanville Statesman on Tuesday. Mr. James is one of the pioneers in the publishing business in Ontario and a man who has travelled much, but (in fact, two buts) he surprised us when he said he had seen Vancouver in one morning, and that from the Observation car. To have come this far and missed Stanley Park is a loss to be regretted.

Then we have our Capilano Canyon well worth a special trip West. Besides our places of beauty which are too many to enumerate, what of our immense sawmills, engineering works, and manufacturing peculiar to the Coast, any one of which is well worth an admission fee. Then when we overlook our waterfront and boat freight shipping part and parcel of our burg:

Poor Old Vancouver! We know how you look from that Observation Car and we are sorry for you. Come back again, Mr. James, when you can stay longer.

Swan Bros., steam dye works, are now installed in their new quarters in the Mather block at 164 8th avenue east, where they will be pleased to see all their old customers and any new ones who may care to give them a trial. They have put up a fine new electric sign.

* * *

At the Mt. Pleasant Methodist church on Wednesday afternoon, Rev. W. L. Hall united in matrimony Miss Muriel Miller of South Vancouver, and Mr. Harry Pughe, of Grand Forks. Miss May Miller, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, and Mr. Wilfrid Miller, brother of the bride, supported the groom. There were a large number of friends of the couple present. Mr. and Mrs. Pughe will reside in Grand Forks, B. C.

SECRETARY TROTTER AND IMMIGRATION

So far as appears clearly manifest, Mr. Trotter stands in the way of immigration into Canada, not only from the Orient but also from Great Britain and the continent of Europe. He seems afraid of competition on the part of those coming from abroad.

The workmen in Canada from the British Isles are very numerous, and are as careful to guard the interests of our workmen as is Mr. Trotter. As rapidly as these men come to Canada from the Old Land, they, if able, get work readily at good wages. And they make as good citizens as those already in the country.

Mr. Trotter and those for whom he speaks officially, are making a most serious mistake in raising barriers against the influx of our British kinsmen from the British Isles and the Antipodes. There is room for them in Canada: for all who will come and as fast as they come: and at good living wages, too. There is ample room in Canada for the entire population of Great Britain and Australasia. Should they pour into this country at the rate of half a million, or a million a year. Canada could and would take care of them economically with the greatest ease.

I see that Mr. Trotter is represented as condemning the officers of the Salvation Army, for the splendid, noble, humane and Christian work that body is doing in aiding immigration into our Dominion. He is represented as calling them liars, and other names. The reading community are very likely to silently transfer the epithets from the Army officials to the man who so unjustly uses such terms.

There is a large body of workmen who are strenuously arrayed against the incoming of our kinsmen, because they wish to keep the way open for European immigrants; and especially for those of the southern countries. This is part of the machinery of the skilled masters of those who find ready tools of those whom they quietly welcome to Canada, while they do all in their power to keep out the higher class Britons who would help to keep Canada British. And willfully or ignorantly, Mr. Trotter is aiding, and co-operating with the aforesaid masters of foreigners who hate everything British and truly elevating in the line of individual liberty and personal religious freedom.

The more strict are the terms of immigration, the more are the limitations against our kinsmen, and the more easily can come in the tools of the aforesaid masters who are ruling Canada at the present moment. Englishmen are thrown into prison or chased back to the Old Land, while the lowest of the low, the offscouring of Southern Europe, are readily received.

As there is room in Canada for many millions, yes, for a hundred millions, Mr. Trotter and his co-workers would do well to aid in a wise selection of those desiring to come to this great land of unlimited wealth and potentialities. Instead of keeping out our own people, and in effect aiding a lower class to come, in ever increasing numbers, he should take a turn about and use his influence and pen in the opposite direction. If we wish a high class of workers, a truly civilized class, a law abiding class, then we can find them among our British kinsmen.

No wonder Orientals keep increasing in numbers in Canada. Just as Mr. Trotter aids in keeping out the better and more civilized Caucasian so far he assists the Chinee and Hindostan to an easy entrance. The men who form the rank and file of the Trades and Labor Council would no do knowingly the thing I complain of but would gladly do the opposite. And yet by covert means things are being done that discriminate against Britons in favor of Orientals and South Europeans.

WOMAN'S VOTE!

Slowly but surely it is coming! At last the "Lords of Creation" have condescended to discuss the question a trifle more seriously. The Conciliation Bill passed its second reading and carried by a majority of 110 in a House of 489. The Bill, however, enfranchises only one million women, but it is an auger of better things to come. "What good will it do, the woman's vote?" asks man disdainfully. We answer by a brief statement of what it has done in New Zealand, quoted by W. P. Stead of England. 'Some of the humanitarian enactments passed since women were emancipated in New Zealand:

Equal pay for equal work in the Factory Act.

Equal treatment of husband and wife in divorce.

Economic partnership of man and wife in municipal franchise.

Law against white slave traffic.

Legislation of adoption of children.

Act for protection of infant life.

Act protecting interest and health of work girls.

Legitimising of children born before marriage.

Equal rights in technical schools.

The above speaks for itself and the need for reform along similar lines in our own country and empire is self-evident. And all just and unprejudiced men who take the trouble to see will recognize the truth.

CONSCIENCE MAKES COWARDS.

A quiet bashful sort of a young fellow was making a call on a Capitol Hill girl one evening not so very long ago, when her father came into the parlor with his watch in his hand. It was about 9:30 o'clock. At the moment the young man was standing on a chair straightening a picture over the piano. The girl had asked him to fix it. As he turned, the old gentleman, a gruff, stout fellow, said:

"Young man, do you know what time it is?"

The bashful youth got off the chair nervously. "Yes sir," he replied. "I was just going."

He went into the hall without any delay, and took his hat and coat. The girl's father followed him. As the caller reached for the door knob, the old gentleman again asked him if he knew what time it was.

"Yes sir," was the youth's reply. "Good night!" And he left without waiting to put his coat on.

After the door had closed the old gentleman turned to the girl.

"What's the matter with that fellow?" he asked. "My watch ran down this afternoon and I wanted him to tell me the time, so that I could set it."

STOCKS, BONDS AND FINANCE

THE MARKET.

The local stock market has been rather weak. In the early part of the week there was an upward tendency, but this proved only temporary. Portland Canals have been a heavy seller but at a figure a point lower than last week and in spite of the heavy sales in certain quarters the market in this stock has not advanced. Stewart Mining remains around $3.00 bid and about $3.25 asked. Nugget continues almost stationary with 88 bid and 92 asked. Losqueth Island has fallen back to 8½ with a weak market. Alberta Canadian Oil and American Canadian Oil hold firm at 14½ bid and 16 asked. It is reported that Alvo Alvensleben, who is a very heavy investor in this stock, will take a party of German capitalists up to Edmonton to look over this property with a view to making some heavy investments. It is expected that there will be a sharp advance in this stock in the near future.

British Columbia Amalgamated Coal again came to the front with a sale of 10,000 at 1¼. This is the second large sale in the last few weeks of this stock.

Industrials are quiet there being but little demand.

The wholesalers report a record month in August. This is very gratifying as August is not usually a very heavy month. If the activity continues September and October should break all records.

* * *

BUILDING PERMITS.

The building permits for the eight months ending August 31st, 1910, are over one million greater than for all last year. The total for last year was $7,258,565.00, while for the eight months of this year they reach the magnificent total of $8,270,000.00. For the month just past the permits amounted to $733,635.00.

CUSTOMS.

The receipts for the Vancouver Customs Office establish a record in both duties and poll tax on Chinese. The figures are $465.894.00 on merchandise and $91,106.00 on Chinese poll tax, or total of $557.000.00, or just $200,000.00 over the last preceding month which was itself a record month.

The fact that we have produced over half-a-million dollars for the Fedeal treasury in one month should secure for Vancouver some very "liberal" treatment in the way of harbor improvements.

BANK CLEARINGS.

August Bank Clearings show an increase of $12,000,000.00 over August of last year. August 1909—$24,969,077. August 1910—$36,533,143.

LAND REGISTRY.

July 1910—Receipts $14,604.84. For August $15,024.51 and August 1909 were $11,037.65. ½

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

Canada has 30 Chartered Banks with 2178 branches.

Bank Assets $1,157,783,629.00. Liabilities $970,926,157.00.

Deposits $835,438,910.00.

Total Bank Capital, $97,808,617.00.

CANADA'S TRADE.

The total trade of Canada for June was $66,000,000, an increase of $10,354,623 over June of last year. For the first quarter of the present fiscal year the total trade has been $171,173,690, representing an increase of $36,606,000, or 25 per cent., over the same period last year. Imports for June totalled $39,705,237, an increase of $8,363,675 over June of last year. For the three months imports totalled $109,384,187, an increase of $27,281,997. Exports of domestic products for the quarter totalled $57,648,927, an increase of $8,321,933. The principal increase in exports was in agricultural products, which showed an increase of nearly six millions as compared with the corresponding period of last year. The Customs revenue for June was $5,866,906, and for the three months $16,568,411, increases of $1,004,647 and $3,675,352 respectively.

Canadian Government and municipal borrowings totalled in 1909, $242,000,000.00. In 1908, $196,000,000.00 and in 1907 $82,000,000.00.

Canadian Customs Revenue 1909 was $56,890,847.00.

Total Revenue, 1909, $85,093,404.00.

Current Expenditure 1909, $84,064,232.00.

Capital Expenditure 1909, $42,593,166.00.

Total Expenditure 1909 $126,657,398.00 or $18.00 per capita.

Canada's net public debt is $324,930,279.00 or $46.00 per head, over double that of 40 years previous.

Average duty on all imports is 16.11 per cent.

VICTORIA AUSTRALIA.

The Agent-General for Victoria (Sir John Taverner) has received a cablegram from the Government of the State advising him that there has been a very considerable increase in the trade of the State for the first six months of the present year as compared with the figures for the corresponding period of 1909, the Victorian imports for the six months ended June 30 last being of the value of £12,622,000, as compared with ½11,393,000 for the same period of 1909, and the exports for the six months ended June 30 last amounted to $14,360,000 as compared with $13,518,000 for the same period of 1909.

* * *

COBALT OUTPUT.

Figures just published show that for the first six months of the year the cobalt mines produced nearly 15,000 tons of ore.

* * *

GREAT NORTHERN HAS RECORD YEAR.

Gross revenues from operation were $62,500,000, an increase of $8,841,000 above 1909. Comparison with recent years is made below:

1910	$62,499,844	*$20,125,000
1909	53,687,444	17,487,433
1908	54,429,633	14,990,314
1907	55,144,402	18,771,880
1906	51,276,280	20,452,698 ½

* Estimated.

It is probable from the showing of the first ten months that the company will have approximately $21,875,000 operating income, after expenses and taxes, which, with a quarter million net from outside operations, will leave $22,125,000 for charges. These will amount to some $5,000,000, with $3,000,000 or more of income from securities, rentals, etc., leaving about $20,125,000 for the stock.

On Great Northern's $210,000,000 capital this is equivalent to 9.5 per cent. or $5,425,000 above the sum required to maintain the 7 per cent. dividend. Last year the road earned 8.3 per cent.

* * *

Canadian Customs revenue for the past four months was approximately $22,500,000, a gain of $4,500,000 over the same period in 1909.

The gross earnings of the Canadian Pacific Railway for the year were $120,000,000. The Canadian Northern Railway estimate is $14,000,000.

The Dominion Geological Survey places the total coal area of Canada at 172 billion tons, 89½ billions bituminous, 423 millions anthracite, and 82 billions lignite. There are also 13 billion tons of peat.

The United States exports to Canada reached a total of $216,000,000 for the past year, an increase of $52,500,000. Canadian exports to the United States show a growth of $15,000,000.

Australian trade with Canada totalled over £760,000, or £150,000 more than last year. ½

The Winnipeg bank clearings for July were eight millions in excess of any month in the current year and nearly thirty-eight millions in advance of June 1909. Montreal shows a gain of nearly twenty-three millions over the previous July and sixty-eight millions advance over July 1908.

The new tunnel under the Detroit River between the United States and Canada cost $12,000,000. It will be operated electrically.

The estimate made by the U. S. Department of Agriculture on August 1st shows a probable yield of 458 million bushels of winter wheat in that country this year, against a production last year of winter wheat of 446 million bushels.

The many persons attending Dr. Cleaver's lecture on Tuesday night in Mt. Pleasant Methodist Church were more than satisfied. For two hours and a half the doctor held his audience spellbound. His portraying of this character Jean Vanjean is a work of art and many persons who have heard the same lecture two and three times before enjoyd this one as much as the first time. Only a close reader, a deep thinker and a ready speaker can do justice to this subject and Doctor Cleaver delivered the goods in such a manner that at any time he desires to lecture in Mt. Pleasant or Vancouver he can have a full house. From an educational standpoint this lecture has great value, a value which should have been made use of by students of our high schools. The church was filled and the ladies who were responsible for securing this treat deserve the thanks of the community.

CHEESE-CLOTH: THE USEFUL.

A bolt of cheese-cloth costing no more than five cents a yard, is a good investment for a householder—especially a country householder. It is valuable in the kitchen, the dairy, the garden, the poultry-house, the orchard and the vineyard.

Covering things, either food, milk or cooked fruit, while they cool, is a problem more or less troublesome. Solid covers give a bad taste and a worse smell; wire-gauze covers are likely to rust from the condensing of vapor; loose cloths sag just when and where they should not. The remedy is cheese-cloth covers. To make them, cut rounds, ovals or squares of the cloth, an inch bigger than the things they are to cover, with a further two-inch allowance for the hem. Sew inside the hem a heavy clothes-line wire, shaping it to the cover, and joining the ends firmly. It will hang over the edges of the vessel to be covered, weigh down the cheese-cloth, and keep it taut and yet permit the escape of heat and vapor.

The covers can be scalded daily if they are in constant use; they dry quickly and the wire does not rust. About once a month they should be boiled for half an hour, after wetting them thoroughly in white soap-suds.

To make a bread and cake cooler, tack wide-meshed chicken-wire firmly over a bottomless box about three inches deep. Hem sheets of cheese-cloth double the size of the box. Spread half the sheet on the wire, lay on it the hot bread or cake, and cover with the other half. The loaf will not turn soggy and clammy; it will be crisp outside and light within.

In very hot weather a kitchen, indeed any room, may be sensibly cooled by putting cheese-cloth-filled frames in place of screens in the windows, and spraying the cloth repeatedly with cold water. The air straining through is not merely cooled, but freshened. For such uses choose the very thinnest cloth. A cloth-filled frame to fit in above a lowered sash helps to ventilate a sleeping-room, and at the same time protects the sleeper from sharp drafts.

To protect melon, squash and cucumber vines from insects, make frames fifteen inches square and five to six inches deep, tack cheese-cloth over the upper side, and set them in place, a frame to each planted hill, just as the seed begins peeping up. Why or wherefore no man knows, but the sucking insects will not live in or under them, so the vines get a start. Moreover, they grow quicker and more lustily. Sometimes it is well to put the frames on even earlier—they keep the earth moist and the beating rains save it from packing.

In late, cold springs, or those of harsh, drying winds, the frames are especially helpful. Take care to harden the plants by lifting the boxes during the warmest sunshine, and propping them half up for several hours. When the vines are too big for them, they may be safely removed and the plants thinned out.

Cheese-cloth-filled frames laid over the glass temper the sunshine admirably in hotbeds of cold-frames. In mild weather, or mild climates, such frames may take the place of sash. For such use they must be cross-braced about every three feet, to have a reenforcement of wide-meshed fence-wire.

Cheese-cloth tents, the peak tied fast plant, and spread the rim out equally all round. Somewhat larger tents will bleach single heads of lettuce, besides hastening growth. With careful keeping they last several seasons.

Part of the strawberry-bed, boxed in after the fashion of a cold frame, and covered with a sheet of Cheese-loth, will give earlier berries, although not quite so full-flavored. Grapes, on the other hand are sweeter and more delicate if ripened under cheese-cloth, either spread over their trells or made into tiny bags—a bag to the bunch. If the bags are put on as soon as the bloom drops, there is little danger of rot. Paper bags, however, prevent rot more effectually, and also protect wasps and bees. But for wall fruit, the special prey of winged robbers, to a central stake, with a hoop or wire rim about the bottom, will save newly set plants in the garden or borders alike from frost or drought. Stick down the stake a little way from the nothing is better than a sheet of cheese-cloth, tacked fast to the wall overhead and reaching quite to the ground. Peaches, pears and apples ripen and blush within its saving folds, growing even more lucious than if left in free sunshine. Similarly, cheese-cloth sheets spread over dwarf fruit trees, or fastened over boughs of standards, just as the fruit begins to turn, make it more perfect, besides saving it from birds and insects.

Set wire and cheese-cloth frames above the upper sash in the front of poultry-houses—thus you insure more light and better ventilation.

Such frames stoutly hinged on make the best doors for coops meant for weaned chickens. Always set them to face south or southeast. Triangular frames, held together with hooks and staples, make light and airy sun-parlors for particularly choice broods. Put the cloth inside, so the young fowls shall have no chance to get tangled in the wire. A ring at the top, firmly fixed, is a help in moving.

Stable windows screened with cheese-cloth throughout the fly season do much for the comfort and well-being of the animals within. Barred cellar windows should likewise have such screens—the amount of dust they keep out is something surprising.

Out houses generally, especially those in which glass is likely to be broken, may have a fair degree of light and ventilation through the use of cheese-cloth and wire net. Set the frames high, close under the eaves on one side and rather low on the other. Thus there is constant circulation and no stagnant air.

BIG INCREASE IN MINE ACCIDENTS

(Monetary Times.)

The number of accidents in mines and in other places where explosives are used has been increasing at an alarming rate in recent years. These accidents are due in part to a lack of knowledge of the nature and use of explosives and in part probably to defective manufacture.

In atempting to collect facts relating to accidents from explosives in Canada, the quest was found to be unsatisfactory, since no centralized system for gathering such data is in existence. The Department of Labor tabulates all the facts available, but from newspaper clippings; the Railway Commissioners obtained reports of accidents due to operation only, and not on construction; the Provincial governments record the accidents in mines, but not in any other class of work, and do not always obtain complete returns as to the number of employees and their occupations.

The following is a statement prepared by Mr. J. G. S. Hudson, of the loss of life in our coal and metalliferous mines during the interval 1899-1908.

In Canada the average for 10 years—1899 to 1908—per 1,000 men, was:

British Columbia—
Coal mines 9.21
Nova Scotia—
Coal mines 2.67
British Columbia: 1908—
Metalliferous mines 5.93
Ontario: 1907—
Copper and nickel 2.19
Silver and iron 7.33

According to the annual report of the Ontario Bureau of Mines, in 1908, there were 13 fatal accidents underground in the silver producing mines of Cobalt. The published returns state that there were 1,089 men employed underground in these mines, so that the ratio for fatilities becomes 11.94 per 1,000 employees underground. There were also 14 fatal accidents in sinking shafts, but the number of men employed in these mines is not recorded. In addition, 3 fatal accidents above ground make a total of 30 fatal accidents in the Cobalt district. The total force employed, above and below ground, was between 3,500 and 4,000 men.

In England the average loss of life in mines, per 1,000 men employed, during the years 1903 to 1907, was:
Coal mines 1.29
Metalliferous mines 1.08

The greater number of fatalities in Canadian mines, as compared with those in Great Britain, is manifestly due to the enforcement of wise laws and regulations in the later case, and to the utter absence of protective legislation in the former. Hence, with a view of providing a remedy, a central station—similar to those established in England and the United States—will probably be built in Ottawa, for the testing of all explosives; and an Explosive Act may be passed effectively regulating the manufacture and sale of explosives, their use in mines, and in blasting operations generally.

THE PRINTER'S LOVE LETTER.

By Damon Runyan.

(In the "Exhaust Pipe," the House Organ of the Nye Tool and Machine Works of Chicago.)

A printer man was once assailed
By Cupid, and his heart impaled
With love's keen dart.
This printer ran a linotype;
One day he thought the time was ripe
To show his heart.

He said: "I guess I'd better write,
Declare myself in black and white—
I'll send a leter.
But I'm so busy I can't think
To put it down with pen and ink—
On my machine I'll set 'er."

"Dear Maud"—this way the letter ran,
"I'd like to ask you if you can Become my queen?
I love you like agenthbngrhsee—
Pn!:* -nthbz—456 thannthennhbam-
boom-tree—
Dahtnghamnthis machine!

"Excure mistakes—I'm in a hurry—
I love you, dear, so don't you worry—
This I mean.
I love you like Rphnma; thgfworse,
Thargutmam thehnabethen ahtcuse
This machine!"

The maiden at once understood,
As any printer's loved one would,
This language dim.
A case of "pi," she knew, I trow,
Deciphered it; this maiden now
Makes pie for him!

TRY AGAIN.

Two young ladies boarded a crowded tramcar and were obliged to stand. One of them, to steady herself, took hold of what she supposed was her friend's hand. They stood thus for some time, when, on looking down, she discovered that she was holding a man's hand. Greatly embarrassed, she exclaimed:—

"Oh, I've got the wrong hand!"

Whereupon the man, with a smile, stretched forth his other hand, saying:—

"Here is the other one, miss."—Tit-Bits.

NOTICE.

On and after September 15th, 1910, all deliveries of coal made by the undersigned companies will be on a cash basis only. Cash to accompany the order or to be paid to the teamster on delivery.

While we very much regret having to take this action, especially with the trade of our customers who have dealt with us on a credit basis for years past, yet we find that on account of the enormous growth of Vancouver the expense of keeping credit accounts for so many small items has become prohibitive.

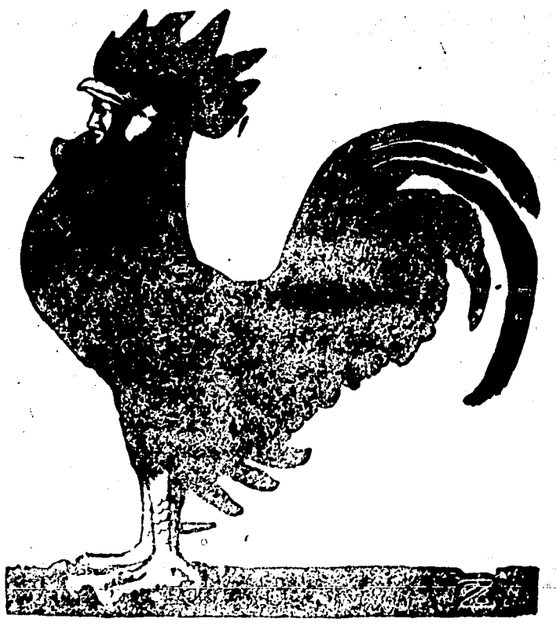
TO OUR READERS!

By special arrangement we offer you a great opportunity to read

"Chantecler"

EDMOND ROSTAND'S wonderful "Chantecler" is the dramatic sensation of the world. In it Rostand proves himself to be one of the greatest dramatists of all times. "Chantecler" is not only the greatest play of the century,—it is the one great play of the last hundred years. It is an exquisite story, palpitating with human sympathy and interest. It warms the blood—stirs the emotions—arouses every commendable sentiment. "Chantecler" sparkles with wit—counsels with wise philosophy—entertains with fascinating idiom—while the tones of the hour bell of today, and today's problems, are heard through the medium of "Chantecler's" deliciously up-to-date slang. No language contains sufficient superlatives to describe it. Only reading and study will enable you to appreciate it. It has aroused all France—London has gone mad over it.



The Only English Translation

Rostand has chosen HAMPTON'S MAGAZINE as the medium through which to present "Chantecler" to the English-reading world. The publication will be in four instalments, one act to each instalment, beginning in the June number. The translator is the same who helped to make "Cyrano de Bergerac" so fascinating to American booklovers.

We have made special arrangements with the publishers of HAMPTON'S by which our readers may get "Chantecler" and the many other fine features published in HAMPTON'S in connection with our own paper, practically without cost. Read our offer below.

OTHER EXPENSIVE FEATURES

HAMPTON'S MAGAZINE every month contains the most costly, most important, and most interesting contents ever put between the covers of a general magazine. "Peary's Own Story" of the discovery of the North Pole, a $50,000 feature, is now in its most interesting stage, giving the positive "proofs" that Commander Peary and no other man discovered the North Pole. "The True History of the Southern Pacific Railroad" by Charles Edward Russell is one of the greatest magazine serials ever published. Mrs. Rheta Childe Dorr's articles on the "Power of the Women's Clubs" are without an equal in their appeal to women everywhere. Fiction contributors include the foremost story-tellers of the world: Arthur Stringer has a new series called "The Adventures of an Insomniac;" James B. Connolly describes in several stories his Trip Around the World with the American Fleet; Frederick Palmer is contributing a series of airship stories of which Danbury Rodd is the central character. The only new idea in detective fiction since Sherlock Holmes is provided in the second series of stories about Luther Trant, the psychological detective, written by Edwin Balmer and William G. MacHarg. Other Short Stories are by such favorites as O. Henry, Gouverneur Morris, Charles Belmont Davis, Rupert Hughes, Josephine Daskam Bacon, Harris Merton Lyon and many others.

Special Offer to Readers of This Paper

By special arrangement with HAMPTON'S MAGAZINE, we are able to make the following remarkable offer to our readers. The publishers of HAMPTON'S advise us that the demand for "Chantecler" is tremendous. We therefore advise you to order on the attached coupon now. The only sure way of getting all of "Chantecler" is to send today.

AN ENJOYABLE EVENING.

A very enjoyable and profitable evening was spent at the home of Mrs. Cowderoy of Salsbury drive, Grand View, on Tuesday of this week. The Ladies' Guild of Knox Congregational Church gave an "At Home" to the congregation and their friends. The fine home was filled to its capacity by an appreciative crowd. Mrs. Cowderoy makes an ideal entertainer, and the efforts of the ladies were crowned with success. The evening's programme was very fine and of splendid variety. At the close of the programme light refreshments were served and the gathering dispersed the better for their social evening.
