METHODISTS WELCOME REV. DR. CHOWN

By Alex.

A social event of unusual significance to Vancouver in general and Methodists in particular, was the welcome accorded Rev. Dr. Chown by 600 representative Methodists at the David Spencer's luncheon rooms on Tuesday evening of this week. Mr. W. H. Malkin presided with ability, while gentlemen of well known talent spoke on various phases of church work, including the problems of raising $300,000 for Ryerson College, to be connected with the proposed University of British Columbia, at Point Grey. Rev. E. W. Stapleford, B.A., the conference educational secretary, in emphasizing college requirements in B. C., suggested where a part of the needed $300,000 might come from. To account for the great body of it is the problem.

Rev. Dr. Chown's Address.

The marked feature of the evening was the address by the distinguished Rev. Dr. Chown, whose reputation as a speaker was well sustained. Flashes of wit, modified with gushes of humor and directed to a wise end by sound and learned speech furnished wholesome entertainment and an effective culmination to the memorable event.

The advent of Dr. Chown to this city cannot but stimulate all Christian churches, especially the Methodist of which he is an honored leader and superintendent.

A BRIGHT YOUNG ITALIAN PRIEST

It seems that the Rev. Archbishop McNeill sent a letter to the School Board asking certain privileges so that "A bright young Italian priest" might have a room provided at public expense in which to teach Italian children. This is strange. Surely the Reverend gentleman lost the usual clearness of vision that is common to his trained mind.

At immense expense Vancouver has provided amply for Italian children as well as for Scotch, English, Irish, Welsh, Dutch, German, French, Jews and Gentiles, bond and free. All may attend who are of school age. Our public school system needs no imported "bright young Italian Priests," or other priests or clergymen of any demonination. There is no better school system in or out of Canada than that provided for the children of all classes here in Vancouver.

Let historians look up the statistics and see what disgraceful failure has marked the importation of scholastic priests into Portugal, into Spain, and into the Republics of South America, than which no country in the world is worse educated in its masses under any system of systemless plan of schools. Our young Italian boys and girls want to have the kind of education that will fit them for a full strong Canadian manhood. They can learn to count and say beads at home, or in Sunday school. They do not require to hear the everlastiong magnification ofthe Virgin Mary and the Holy Saints when they should be studying true history, grammer geography, arithmetic, the sciences, spelling, bookkeeping and other matters that will prepare them to stand beside the best men in Canada.

Since Italy has taken her educational system out of the hands of the Italian priests Italy has made such headway as does her honor. She has jumped from a third or fourth rate nation up to that of one of the great nations of the day. All countries on earth educated by the priests are of no standing among the other nations. Something wrong.

Can Canadian Women Cook?

Some Canadian women can cook. Many can. In fact the majority can. This is saying a good deal, and still I go further. Perhaps 80 per cent. of Canadian girls can cook fairly well. But there are many who do not know how, and they do not care to learn. They are no good for anything on earth or in heaven.

They are splendid gum-suckers, face-painters, high-heeled-booters, street-walkers, and so far as one can make out by careful observation they are the making of the slummers in course of from five to ten years more.

They are to be pitied and their parents or guardians should have the lash to save both from pain and sorrow at an early date in the future.

Central City Mission Building when completed on Abbott St.

Central City Mission

BY ALEX.

The accompanying ten-storey modern fireproof structure is the property of the Central City Mission, at 233 Abbott Street, as it is to be when completed. To add four new stories and suitably equip, money is needed at once. The government gives $10,000, which is one-half the amount required.

The remaining $10,000 should be raised at once. This is a small amount for the citizens of Vancouver to invest in the saving and making of men. Millions are being devoted to material improvements annually in this city. Moral improvement is more lasting and is in our commonwealth; hence merits liberal support and hearty encouragement. Kind words and cheerful greetings should be emphasized with material contributions. Ten thousand dollars! The splendid merchant princes and millionares of Vancouver will doubtless respond promptly, and thereby sustain the enviable reputation of the Terminal City for generosity.

The Spirit of Unselfishness is one of the greatest possible factors in the creation of a permanent temple of fame and honor. Avarice, with self-centered ambitions, grasps at seeming wealth and greatness only to reach final disappointment.

Responsibility.

All men are akin and we are our "brother's keeper." The responsibility is upon us, say or think what we may. The existence and possible enlargement and improvement of the Central City Mission quarters gives every citizen and benefactor a to reach out a brother's hand to the weak and unfortunate who may chance our way. The opportunity allowed to pass may result in disaster to thousands, including members of our own families.

The Central Mission stands for Christian Citizenship; Practical Morality; Social Education, and the Principle of Self-Help.

Its doors are open to him who is about to perish by the way; it provides work and gives the hopeless man a chance; it cares for the poor in winter and provides a clothing bureau, where clothes can be bought for little; it visits the sick and shows kindness; it lessens the cost and shame of housing in gaol, by redeeming from vice and infusing new, worthy ambitions and a spirit of noble endeavor.

Practical Tests.

During the past year this Mission has demonstrated its worth by practical tests in work done. Over 64,000 occupied their beds; upwards of 300 men, with an earning capacity of $150,000 annually, have been recovered from useless, wasteful, burdensome lives to worthy and productive habits and self-respecting citizenship. Ten thousand dollars now!

NOT A PROSECUTION BUT A PERSECUTION

By D. R. P.

No milder designation would adequately describe the recent prosecution of Mr. Ernest Shaw of 150 Twenty-second avenue east by the Medical Association of this city. To bring suit against this gentleman on a charge identical with one lodged not long since against Mr. Evans, also of this city, who likewise practises what is known as Chiropractic adjustment of the spine for the relief of physical suffering, (which case the Supreme Court decided in Mr. Evans' favor as not constituting a violation of the Medical Act of this Province), and by this action entailing a trial expense of possibly $100 upon Mr. Shaw in defending an action which Magistrate Shaw threw out of court, constitutes, we affirm, a case of downright, unjust persecution.

If the Medical Act of this Province was framed with a view to this kind of protection of the public from being imposed upon by quacks and nostrums, the quicker it is sent to the scrap-pile the better. With this sort of interpretation no nurse would be allowed to massage a suffering patient unless she could write M. D. at the end of her name.

A Parallel Case.

We remember of reading of a man in the State of Kansas who, when suffering severely from rheumatism, would lie upon his face on the floor and request his wife, her feet having been bared for the occasion, to walk up and down his spine, thus bringing relief to the plucky patient.

Should such an incident occur in Vancouver, the fair lady would be in danger of being summoned before our Police Magistrate for prosecution.

If an individual of his own free choice elects to have Mr. Shaw adjust his or her spinal column, and finds relief when the ordinary methods of treatment have failed, why such concern on the part of those not affected by the affair? Much of Mr. Shaw's labors to bless humanity have been "without money and without price." Most of those whom he has given adjustments to have been those who had tried every other avenue for help and had given up hope.

A Few Cases We Know Of.

A man considered fatally ill having water on the lungs, was brought home from the hospital to die. The family was told it was a question of only a few weeks. Mr. Shaw was made aware of the case by a friend of the family and requested to see if he could help the man. He went daily, giving his services, as the family was poor. In six weeks the man was at work, and now puts in his six days a week at carpentering.

A gentleman, a printer in the city, had epileptic fits and had given up hope of ever getting better. After one adjustment by Mr. Shaw the trouble took its departure and he has had no more "spells."

Another gentleman, whom the writer personally conversed with, was taken with a severe case of sciatica. He spent some time in the hospital but, though he walked in, he was carried out on a stretcher. He then went to the Harrison Hot Springs, but got no better. While on a bed of the most exerusiating pain, Mr. Shaw was informed of the suffering man's condition, offered to do anything he could for him as a neighbor, without expense. The result was that long since the man has completely recovered. Relief followed Mr. Shaw's first effort to relieve his agony.

We mention these cases which, in each instance, had defied the ordinary methods of treatment, as samples of some of the good Mr. Shaw has done in the community, and to enforce our declaration that to endeavor to drive such a helpful citizen to the wall is as uncalled for as it is unjust.

We are not running the affairs of the Police Court of Vancouver, but we feel that it was a serious miscarriage of justice when the expense of defending such a case was allowed to fall upon the shoulders of the defendant.

The Medical Association should have paid for the trouble and expense they forced upon an innocent man without cause.

How They Spent Thanksgiving.

Monday was essentially a home day. One hundred of our best-known citizens were called on telephone, and to the oft-repeated "How are you spending Thanksgiving?" came the reply: "At home with my family." There were few dinners given outside of the family circle. Busy business men and tired professional men were glad to dine at home quietly, with only those near and dear.

Some of the most popular medical men were called. They all expected to have their Thanksgiving feast at home, as one doctor said, "Thank God." But the city is crowded with those not fortunate enough to have a home and kindred here. These filled the cafes to overflowing, and the invariable order was "Turkey and cranberry sauce, please."

Grand Concert

The grand concert which was given in the Grandview Methodist Church Thursday evening of last week by local talent, was a pronounced success in every particular. The audience was large and appreciative, the net proceeds over $100, the refreshments appetizing, the picture of the singers creditable, and above all the music an honor to the the local choir, the talented singers that assisted, and to Conductor Mr. Lewis Roberts, and Accompanist Miss Brooks.

Two numbers particularly impressed this scribe, "A Perfect Day," a solo by Miss Eura Leeson, and the Hallelujah Chorus by the choir. There was not a weak or indifferent number in the entire program; everything was first class. Mr. Roberts and his choir can rest assured that hereafter the mere announcement that they are to give a grand performance will draw a full house. Success wins.

This concert will be repeated, in the near future, in Central Methodist Church.

Company Held Responsible.

Holding that the British Columbia Railway Company is responsible for the crowded condition of its interurban cars and that, therefore, it is responsible for the safety of its passengers, Mr. Justice Murphy yesterday dismissed an application for non-suit, filed by the company, and awarded $750 as damages to William Williams, who was injured last December, when the New Westminster car on which he was hanging to the rear step, backed into another car near the Carral street station and threw him to the street.

WOOD AND COAL SHORTAGE ON NORTH SHORE.

Wood Dealers Have Orders for Hundreds of Cords in Advance of Supply—Government Inactive.

North Vancouver, Oct. 25.—A shortage in the supply of wood on the North Shore threatens to make the coal famine more serious. The store of coal has been nearly exhausted and the demand for wood is greater than the supply. One yard has nearly 500 cords of wood ordered ahead and another about to be opened has received orders for 360 cords, not a stick of which has been cut. No direct shipment of coal has yet been received in the city.

Great pressure has been exerted on the Dominion government to relieve the anxiety of householders not quite sure about their supply of winter fuel. The city and district councils, the Board of Trade and very nearly every public body of the North Shore have passed resolutions on the subject. They have asked the governments of both the province and the Dominion to enforce regulations giving North Vancouver independence in its coal supply rather than being a mere suburb of Vancouver. Sir Richard McBride has answered that the demands for an investigation into the coal question have received the consideration of the legislature, which had asked the Dominion government to appoint a Royal Commission to inquire into prices in the province of British Columbia. The Dominion government has done nothing more than promise early attention to the question.

Work on Rice Canal Tunnel.

North Vancouver, Oct. 25.—Work hs been started on the construction of a dam and flume to drain Rice Lake into the newly completed shaft and tunnel forming part of the prospective waterworks system of the city. As soon as the lake has been drained operations will be commenced to remove by water power the muskeg and unhealthy growths from the sides of the natural reservoir after which all will be in readiness to pipe a big pressure of mountain water to the city. A start in washing the shores of the lake will be made in about three weeks.

Cost of Engineering Work.

North Vancouver, Oct. 25.—Mr. Angus Smith, city engineer, has issued statistics showing that about $34,000 had been spent in the work of his department during September. These disbursements compare as follows with those of the three previous months:—June, $37,825.60; July, $37,359.45, nd August, $40,061.95 The expenditure in detail for September is as follows: Under local improvement, street grading, $3,70095; grading Mahon Park, cement curb and gutter, $2,598.45 and grading and spreading crushed rock, $11,411.90; board of works (general) including clearing and grading new streets and lanes, new sidewalks and maintenances, $5,342.00; waterworks main and service construction, $5,-450.35, nd Rice Lake reservoir scheme, $5,967.53.

THOMPSON-SIGSWORTH

On Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock, Miss Lillie May Sigsworth, of 1628 Tenth avenue east, was united in marriage to Mr. T. A. Thompson. Rev. William Litch, pastor of Ruth Morton Memorial Baptist Church, performed the ceremony at his residence, 717 Twenty-ninth avenue east. The bride was attired in a very pretty suit of navy blue with white velour hat. Mr. and Mrs. Thompson will take up their residence at 4584 St. Catharines street. This office is specially interested in this wedding as Mr. Thompson is the esteemed foreman of our printing establishment. We offer our heartiest congratulations and best wishes.

Salvation Army Congress.

The Salvation Army headquarters staff in Vancouver are very busy making preparations for the Vancouver Annual Congress, which is booked to take place from November 14 to 17 inclusive. The program includes a welcome demonstration to Commissioner Rees, Colonel Maidment, and delegates from all parts of British Columbia and Alaska. This will be held in the Citadel, Hastings street east, on Thursday night, November 14 at 8 o'clock. On Thursday and Friday officers' councils will be held, while on Saturday evening Commissioner Rees will address a special gathering of Salvationists and their friends in the Citadel. Sunday, November 17, will be the big day of the Congress. Commissioner Rees will give a very interesting address on "General Bramwell Booth and the Salvation Army," in the Avenue Theatre, at 3 o'clock on Sunday afternoon, and at night will conduct a great Salvation campaign in the same building at 7:30 p.m. These meetings will be preceded by a mass gathering in the Citadel at 11 o'clock Sunday morning. There will be a large number of Salvation Army officers taking part in the Congress proceedings. Commissioner Rees will preside, while additional interest will be centered in these gatherings by the presence of Colonel Maidment, the new chief secretary, late commander of the army forces in the West Indies.

COQUITLAM, Oct. 26.—The first unit of the C. P. R. terminal at Coquitlam will be completed early in December, and already preparations are under way for their immediate use. Mr. F. W. Advertising in Newspapers.

Head Clerk Hawes of the Modern Woodmen of America is hearing from the Camp Clerks he has advised to do their advertising in local papers. Not all are running full page ads. Some are publishing the new rates and others are directing attention to the fraternal features, such as the tuberculosis sanatorium at Colorado Springs. John T. Shook of Montpelier, Ind., says:

Sufficient time has elapsed to get some results from following up the mailing of marked copies of my newspaper advertisements—and I believe that I shall get very good returns from the money expended in this way.

In the first place, I try to have something to say in my ad. that will appeal to the prospect, then I try to have the ad. set in a way that will of itself attract attention. Every ad. is set in heavy type and can be read quickly.

Of course the man who receives a marked copy has his attention drawn to my ad. at once.

So far I have mailed copies to only two sets of men, but the results are such that I shall continue to follow the plan.

I find that the men who have received the marked copies have their minds open on the subject of insurance. They know why I am there to see them, and almost without exception they want to hear what I have to say. They have been thinking about insurance as applied to themselves.

Postal Changes.

The following new post offices have been opened: Carlin, Collingwood West, North Vancouver sub-office No. 1, and Pinanton. Falkland will be reopened November 1, and will be known as Riske Creek. Kualt and Point Cowan have been closed.

G. T. P. Delayed for Two Years.

Upon his return to London Mr.. A. W. Smithers, chairman of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway system, gave out a long interview commenting on his Canadian tour Dealing more particularly with British Columbia, he said: 'To my mind the most pressing need in Canada today is to encourage immigration by every possible means. It is a great mistake to suppose that the admission of more laborers would injure labor conditions. On the contrary, it would improve them. Looking back, I realize that if we had sufficient labor the transcontinental line to Prince Rupert could have been opened two years ago. Trade could have made a start, towns would have sprung up along the line in as yet unexploited places. The demand for labor which would thus have appeared, and the capital thus brought in to the country, would have prevented additional labor having any detrimental effect on the present conditions of labor in Canada."

Found Dead in Ditch.

PRINCE RUPERT, Oct. 24.—Miss Casterton, a young Englishwoman employed at the Haysport Hotel, about 20 miles from here, was drowned in a few inches of water in a ditch a short distance from the hotel. The young woman had left the hotel shortly after dark to visit friends in the neighborhood. She was not missed until she failed to appear for work the next morning. A search was made, with the result that she was found face down in the ditch. Apparently it was a case of drowning, as a narrow unprotected sidewalk led past the ditch and the young woman is supposed to have fallen from this into the water.

Misleading Statements Corrected.

That an interview given by Mr. R. F. Hicks of Nelson, B. C., to a local newspaper Wednesday in which Mr. Hicks practically stated that the fruit industry of British Columbia was "going to the dogs," is absolutely incorrect and misleading, is the statement of Mr. Wm. E. Scott, Deputy Minister of Agriculture for that province, and Mr. R. M. Winslow, Provincial Horticulturist for British Columbia and secretary of the British Columbia Fruit Growers' Association, who are in the city today.

"The article is a gross libel and absolutely incorrect," said Mr. Scott on Friday morning, "and if Mr. Hicks is correctly quoted, and I have no reason to believe otherwise, he shows that he is absolutely ignorant of conditions. His statement will do great damage to the fruit industry, if it is allowed to go uncontradicted, and I may say that we will use every effort to prevent this malicious statement from being cried abroad."

Bigamist is Sentenced.

Winnipeg, Oct. 24.—Justice tempered with mercy was handed down by Judge Dawson today in the bigamy case of Walter Sellers. Yesterday, when the case came up for trial and the two parties pleaded guilty, the girl, Agnes Slater, was let go on suspended sentence, but Sellers' sentence was held over until this morning, when Judge Dawson imposed a sentence of thirty days. The light sentence was because Sellers had been advised to go to the United States, where he could get separation from his wife if he could prove that his wife's insanity was incurable.

Mr. Rogers to replace Mr. Monk as Minister of Public Works, Dr. Roche to succeed Mr. Rogers as Minister of the Interior, and Mr. Coderre as Secretary of State to replace Dr. Roche. Mr. Coderre will be sworn as a Privy Councillor and as Secretary of State, and the other ministers will take but one oath as administrators of their departments. Pure Food Law More Strict.

OTTAWA, Oct. 25.—New standards of quality for honey and fruit products, for canned peas and flavoring extracts are promulgated under the provisions of the pure food act in the Canada Gazette this week. It is specified that honey must not contain more than 25 per cent. of water, not more than 8 per cent. of cane sugar and not less than 60 per cent. of invert sugar.

It is further specified that when jams, marmalades, fruit butter or jelly contains other fruit or fruit juices than that which gives its special name to the article, the fact of the presence of such other fruit shall be stated upon the label in lettering as large and distinct as that used in naming the fruit principally present.

When the sugar is preserved, jam, marmalade, fruit butter or jelly is wholly or partially replaced by glucose or by other substitute for sugar, the fact of such substitute shall be stated upon the label in plain letters.

Canned peas, unless specially designated as below, shall be prepared from the harvest of the year in which they are canned and shall be the unripe peas of the crop of that year. Ripe peas may be canned, provided that the label shows quite clearly that they are such.

Mixtures of the ripe and unripe (or green) peas shall be plainly labeled in such a way to show that they are mixed.

FOREIGN

Summary of War News.

SOFIA, Oct. 28.—Bulgarian forces, according to advices received late tonight, have captured the towns of Luleburgas and emotica. It is reported that the Turks are constructing earthworks along the river Erkens, west of Eski-Baba.

It is stated that Bulgarian cavalry has succeeded in cutting communications between Arianople and Constantinople and between Adrianople and Macedonia. The bridge over the Tchorlu river at Cherkesskoi has been blown up. It is understood that citizens leaving Adrianople are permitted to pass through the lines to the south.

The Turkish commander at Adrianople has been formally summoned to surrender the town. A second military train from Constantinople loaded with flour has fallen into the hands of the Bulgarians at Eski-Baba.

Hundred Villages Surrender.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—The Servian legation announces that hundred Arnaut villages in the vicinity of Uskup have surrendered. Great festivities are being held throughout the conquered country, Uskup fell.

Reported Surrender.

BELGRADE, Oct. 28.—Semi-official advices report that the Turkish army which retired from Uskup towards Veles surrendered today to the Servian cavalry and delivered up their arms. The Servians later seized 123 guns.

That section of the Turkish army which was defeated at Kumanova, appears tohave been entirely broken up. The Turks from Istip are making Veles the objective points of their retreat. Prior to the occupation of Istip by the Servians, the inhabitants arose against the Turks and seized their arms. Scutari has surrendered to the Montengrin army.

Salvation Wrought by Balkan People.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—Commenting on the Balkan situation, the Times says that the small impoverished nations of the Balkans have greatly dared, and have wrought salvation for their kinsmen on the peninsula.

The work they have done, the article continues, will never be undone, and the powers will, at the right time, assist in the solution which should satisfy the aspirations of the Balkan nations, and be in ample accord with the now fully aroused conscience of Europe.

"Don't Feel a Bit as Though Shot" Says Roosevelt.

OYSTER BAY, Oct. 28.—"I don't feel a bit as though I had been shot," Col. Roosevelt said today.

The colonel was so much better that his physicians gave him permission to re-establish communication, through the correspondents at Oyster Bay, with the outside world. It was the first interview he had given since his return to Sagamore Hill and he talked for twenty minutes without a sign of fatigue.

"This sounds like being alive again," said the colonel as he entered his library. "It seems god to get back into the old channels once more." He walked with a brisk, vigorous step and his face had lost none of its color.

When he shook hands, however, he gave the first indication that he was feeling the effects of the wound. Instinctively he held out his right hand. His face twitched with pain which he sought to conceal, and he thrust his hand into the pocket of his riding coat and put out his left.

Col. Roosevelt said he felt well enough to make his speech in New York on Wednesday night and that if he suffers no serious effects he might make a few other speeches before election day.

Becker Found Guilty.

The verdict read: "Murder in the first degree."

Becker was remanded for sentence to the Tombs by Justice Goff until October 30.

Mrs. Becker, sitting outside the court room, swooned when the verdict was announced.

Mrs. Geo. P. Carr, 1219 Fifteenth Avenue East, has just returned from an extended trip East.

Mr. and Mrs. John Douglas, of 26 Tenth Ave. East, returned from a trip to the East on Friday last. Mr. Douglas is financially interested in a new patent of much promise which is being perfected and tested in Toronto.

Mr. W. Gaskell returned Tuesday from a two months' trip to Bristol, England, where he has been visiting his parents and enjoying the holiday season. Mr. Gaskell reports a splendid trip both going and coming, and would willingly have the experience repeated.

Mr. W. H. Owen, of 122 Fifth Ave. East, brother of Park Commissioner Owen, our well known Mount Pleasant hardware merchant, and who was operated upon at the hospital for a serious case of gall stones, is still critically ill. Mr. Owen made favorable advancement till Tuesday, when his condition took a turn for the worse, and a telegram was sent to his brother, who was on a trip to Portland, reaching him at Tacoma, and causing his hasty return. The operation was performed by Dr. Seldon, and while a difficult one, was very successful. The doctors can not account for his sudden relpase. Mr. Owen keeps a store on Granville Street.

A Thanksgiving supper was given in the banqueting room of the Mount Pleasant Methodist Church Wednesday evening, which was a huge success. The Ladies' Aid members worked with characteristic energy, generosity, and geniality, and supplied the large number with a splendid repast. Intellectual and aesthetic needs ere also supplied after supper in the auditorum of the church, when an excellent programme was rendered, under the direction of Madame Yulissie. The artistes deserve the highest praise—the young master of the violin, Mr Frank Ward, newly arrived from Germany; the gifted reader, Miss Helen Badgley, and her promising pupil, Miss Eva Bruce; the sweet soloist, Mrs. Kerfoot; the fine voiced Messrs. Coupse and Cocksedge, to the cultured artiste, Madam Yulissie, whose exquisite and marvellous rendering of the "Swallow" thrilled the appreciative audience. The National Anthem brought a most delightful evening to a close.—Yours Truly,

(Mrs) F. S. HALL.

Orange Hall Building.

A meeting of the directors of the Orange Hall Association was held on Saturday in the old Holy Trinity Church building, corner of Pine and Eighth streets, Fairview. The object was to plan alterations to the building so that it will serve as a meeting hall while the new Orange hall is in course of construction. It was decided that it can be converted into a suitable temporary hall, but that it will have to be moved so that work on the new building, which is to have its frontage on Eighth avenue, will not be interfered with.

The plans for the new building are such that a part of it can be erected at once, and when that is completed and ready for occupation, the old structure may be torn down, and the section of the new building facing Pine street constructed, thus making a complete corner building on symmetrical lines.

A New Bakery.

G. E. Pierrot, the well-known real estate broker of Mt. Pleasant, is about to add to his business responsibilities the conducting of a first-class bakery and confectionery. The new establishment will be located at 150 Broadway east, near Main, and will be known as Pero's Bakery.

This will not be a store stocked with all sorts of notions, but will specialize along the lines designated—the very best of bread and pastry and a fine assortment of the choicest confectionery. Saturday of this week has been selected for opening day. Everybody is invited to inspect the new bakery. See "ad."

BUGHOUSE.

A travelling man lately wandered into a remote hotel that doesn't keep a dictionary, and on coming down in the morning was asked by the landlord how he rested.

"Oh, replied the gentleman, 'I suffered nearly all night from insomnia."

The landlord was mad in a minute, and roared: "I'll bet you two dollars there ain't one in my house."

WEDDING BELLS

Miss Minnie Donaghy was married to Mr. J. Russell McKinley, Monday afternoon, in Mount Pleasant Presbyterian Church; Rev. John W. Wood-side officiated.

A pretty romance, begun six months ago in Southern California, culminated in a Thanksgiving wedding day morning, when Mrs. Evangeline McDurmit was married to Mr. Allan Sharp. The wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kilpin, of 2146 Semlin Drive.

A very pretty house wedding took place at the residence of Mr. William Harman, 2417 Clark Drive, when his only son, William Arundell Harman, was married to Miss Dorothy Agnes Williams, formerly of Shrewsbury, England, in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends on Saturday evening, the 19th of October. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. George D. Ireland of Westminster Church. The bride looked very charming in a pretty gown of net over pink. The guests sat down to a wedding supper after the ceremony was over. Mrs. Herman will be at home to her friends in her new home at 1245 Twenty-first avenue east, after the first of November.

A wedding of wide interest was solemnized in All Saints' Church, Windsor, Ont., on Tuesday morning, October 22, when Rev. F. A. P. Chadwick, rector of St. Paul's Church in this city, was married to Miss Creina Russell Henderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Henderson of Windsor. Rev. Arthur Carlisle, rector of All Sainsts' Church, and successor to Rev. Mr. Chadwick, performed the ceremony. He was assisted by Right Rev. A. U. de Pencier, Bishop of New Westminster, who consecrated the ring used in the ceremony. As a compliment to Rev. Mr. Chadwick, who was formerly rural dean of Essex, the clergymen formed an aisle through which the wedding party passed. The clergy in attendance were Rev. W. F. Snelgrove, Rev. H. Batterby, Rev. A. E. Farney and Rev. P. C. Harding.

Clark Drive Widening.

The civic court of revision held last week passed the recommendations for the widening of Clark Drive to a width of 80 feet from Powell street to Fifteenth avenue, at the estimated cost of $164,240, the charge to be borne by the property owners, some of whom objected to the project. Other proposals passed were the paving of Campbell avenue, between Powell and Hastings streets, and the concrete curbs on Napier street, from Victoria to Lakewood Drives.

The details of the interchange will be announced later by the association. No other business except of a routine nature was transacted at the meeting.

Vice-President Sherman's Death.

Utica, N.Y., Oct. 30.—After a long illness, Vice-President James S. Sherman died at his home in this city at 9:42 o'clock tonight of uraemic poison, caused by Bright's disease.

He had been sinking since early morning, and it was realized that death was a question of only a few hours.

The Crooked Way.

District Attorney Whitman of New York was talking about the sad case of a western banker who had stolen a great sum from the depositors.

"The man," said Mr. Whitman, "lived beyond his means—motor cars, a house with eleven baths, son at college, daughter coming out, wife hungry for diamonds. The inevitable result followed."

Mr. Whitman smiled and ended:

"The unfortunate fellow got straitened, so he became crooked."—Washington Star.

Date of Becker's Execution Fixed.

New York, Oct. 30.—Charles Becker, the former police lieutenant, convicted of procuring the murder of the gambler, Herman Rosenthal, was sentenced today to die in the electric chair at Sing Sing during the week of December 9. The sentence was pronounced by Justice Goff.

Fell 70 Feet to Death.

Plunging headlong off a steel girder to the ground, 70 feet below, George Hess, aged 28, a structural steel worker, residing at the Palace Hotel, was instantly killed late on Tuesday afternoon, when he lost his balance while working on the new Orpheum Theatre building, Granville street, near Georgia.

Highwayman May Be Here.

Believing that the highwayman who held up and robbed their office in Skagway, Alaska, on October 8, and obtained $4,500 in cash, is now in Vancouver, the Wells Fargo & Company's express office in Seattle wired the Vancouver police Wednesday morning and asked them to make a search for the bandit.

Two Men Shot Down.

Shooting down two men of a city street improvement crew at the corner of Balsam and York streets, Kitsilano, at 8:45 a. m. Wednesday, a tire gang running for shelter till some of the men realized that his murderous mania only concerned the men he had wounded. Robertshaw was then seized, and held till the police arrived and removed him to the Kitsilano police station.

Caught Cold at Station.

Toronto, Oct. 30.—An odd case was decided at Osgoode Hall yesterday, when Mr. Justice Britton awarded George M. Morrison, of Essex County, $1,500 damages against the Pere Marquette Railway for medical expenses and loss of salary, resulting from a cold contracted while waiting at the Pere Marquette crossing at Marshfield, where there is no station building. The train was late, and Morrison's cold resulted in an illness of six months.

Vancouver Old-Timer Dies.

On Saturday one of Vancouver's respected pioneers died in the person of Mr. William Lougheed, aged 70. Mr. Lougheed, who came to British Columbia about nineteen years ago, lived for some time in New Westminster. In recent years he had been in municipal employmenrt in the city. He died in the home of Mrs. F. L. Ballard, one of his daughters, of 446 Fifth Avenue East. He leaves also another daughter in the city, Mrs. E. G. Parnell. The funeral service was conducted by Mr. David Scott, and was held in the Gospel Hall, 1181 Seymour Street. Interment was made in the Mountain View cemetery.

Building Permits.

The building permits for the month up to Wednesday amounted to $2,515,405. Amongst the permits issued on Wednesday were the following: Vancouver Club, $275,000, concrete, stone, brick and terra-cotta building at 901 Hastings Street, for which Messrs. Sharp and Thompson are the architects, and the Norton-Griffiths Construction Company the contractors; B.C. Sugar Refining Co., $25,000, for steel and concrete machine shop; Finnish Society, $12,000, for a two-storey public hall at 2665 Pender Street East; and $5,000, in the name of Messrs. Currie and Wallace, for a dwelling house at 2495 Sixth Avenue West.

Rev. Dr. Chown Welcomed.

Vancouver's welcome to Dr. S. D. Chown, general superintendent of the Methodist church in the west, and new head of Ryerson college, who has arrived to reside in this city instead of in Winnipeg, formed the motive of a rousing banquet held Tuesday night in the spacious hall of David Spencer, Ltd., on Hastings street. An assemblage nearly seven hundred strong, and representing Methodists and citizens of Vancouver, thronged the great apartment, their arrival keeping the whole battery of elevators busy.

Covers were laid for all, and the tables were prettily appointed. The scene formed a magnificent picture from the rich red of Dr. Chown's D.D. hood at the seat of honour, to the tawny petals of the nearest chrysanthemum of the decoration.

Brilliant lighting and as brilliant speaaking characterised the banquet. The traditions of Methodism, and the reputation of Vancouver were well upheld. Dr. Chown's welcome will be long remembered as a superb success.

Property Owners Object to Assessment.

Three strenuous protests from property owners on Clark Drive marked the proceedings at the court of revision last week, when three schemes of local improvement were brought up for consideration and passed.

It was with respect to the widening of the thoroughfare to a width of 80 feet from the south side of Powell St. to Fifteenth avenue, by the acquisition of a seven foot strip of land on each side of the street, at an estimated cost of $164,240, that the protests were raised.

Mr. J. Brooks stated that instead of taking seven feet from him the city was taking 8 feet 10 inches, and the extra strip would cost him more

Ald. Hepburn said the city would have to pay him for it, and Mr. Brooks said that would make a difference. He was told he could oppose the scheme, but it did not seem to be of much use.

Mr. J. McDowell argued that if the city was going to bring trunk sewers, water mains and gas mains along the street the city should pay for it, as it would be a trunk road. Taxes would be excessive, and this seemed to be only the beginning. It was simply ruinous; people who petitioned for the widening did not know what they were going to obtain. They thought the city was purchasing the property from them and was to pay for the improvements.

Mr. Scovill thereupon said he would have to pay back $245.15 more than he received for his property. Owners at the Powell street end received much more than did those at the other end, and yet all had to pay back the same amount. Thus the man with the cheap property had to pay for the man with the rich property, and that seemed to him to be unfair.

Ald. Hepburn said that this did seem to be unfair, but that was true of any local improvement on any street.

Mr. Scovill said not one man in ten expected such a thing. They thought they were giving a little strip of land to pay the expenses, but men on Powell, Hastings and Venables streets were getting fancy prices, but those in other parts were not. A plan of that kind would not be sanctioned by any court if the matter were taken there.

I fully decided that I would call on my friend today, but my friend died yesterday.

The Diamond Cipher

Knew mighty well that if he sent any fake wires to me I'd do a little investigating before I acted any, and so he makes up his own law forces. Gets Tom Tarbrow, a fellow we ran out of here two years ago—must have been living in Chicago ever since—to play my part. Sends 'deputy sheriffs' down to help bluff the conductor and you youngsters. Good scheme, all right. Would have worked if you hadn't been handy with your fists and lively on your legs. What gets me, though, is his nerve in hiring Pod Morgan's pack of hounds to trail you. Pod's all heated up. Says he don't blame you boys none for peppering your tracks, but he'll get satisfaction out of the German or out of Tom Tarbrow. Says his dawgs won't be no good again for six months, maybe never."

"How would they have handled us?" questioned Solano. "They couldn't very well put us in any lockup with no authority except their nerve."

"Wouldn't have needed to," laughed the sheriff. "Their scheme was plain enough. All they wanted was the papers and letters you boys are carrying. They'd have took those away from you and then turned you loose, figuring that you were too completely bluffed to make any kick, or to do anything excepting to go straight home. Good ideas, sons—but you sure did sting 'em this time."

"What will you do with Baron Zollern and his hired men?" asked Brockett with natural curiosity. The sheriff knitted his brows, thoughtfully.

"That's something of a poser," admitted the official. "If you lads would stay over and testify we could give them plenty of chances to work out a nice long sentence—'specially Tom Tarbrow. Impersonating an officer isn't a healthy trick 'round these parts, and we'd fix Tom proper. You say, though, that you have to be on your way right sudden, and I won't detain you. Reckon I can send Tom and his fellows up for a little while without your help—the testimony of the conductor and of Pod Morgan will just about settle them. I'll be cussed if I know what to do with the Dutchman, though."

"The baron? He's a spy of the German government, and one of the kaiser's most valuable agents," Solano remarked.

"That's a certain cinch," said the sheriff "but that won't get us much right now. We know who he is; we've got some goods on him, and we've taken a lot of choice credentials away from him. Wish it was wartime—we'd soon settle a polecat like him. In the war-time we used to catch Yankee spies 'round these woods now and then—and there was no formality at all. Not a bit of formality. Just a tree-limb and a halter. If we only had a nice excuse, like those times, son, we'd tend to your German. As it is, I'm afraid we can't do much. Might print the story on him, but that would tip off any other spies or secret agents as to where you boys were traveling, and cause you more trouble than it would be worth."

"Why not have all his credentials photographed," suggested Brockett, "and keep one set of copies here, while sending another set to the secret service at Washington?"

"Good idea, boy. Good idea," chuckled the sheriff. "I'll do it. Do it right away."

And a few hours later, various highly valued documents, papers that would cause tremendous stirrings in the land of the Black Eagle, were en route to Washington. The sheriff, by way of good measure and variety, presented the boys with a set of the photographic duplicates, kept a set himself, and sent still another set to official friends in Chicago. As to the baron: He raved. He called heaven and the infernal regions alike to witness that dire calamities would descend upon the United States, the state of Arkansas, the city of Little Rock, and the hardy sheriff, unless his papers were returned and all duplicates destroyed.

. Whereupon the sheriff, apparently but little frightened, had the baron photographed while at the height of his oratory, and presented the boys with souvenir copies of the proofs.

Late in the evening, somewhat refreshed by the hospitality of the sheriff, the boys resumed their journey. The sheriff himself escorted them to the train, and with him came Pod Morgan, owner of the bloodhounds baffled by the pepper trick a few short hours before. Mr. Morgan showed no resentment against the youngsters, and even insisted on sending a young hound to the home address of each one—"a dawg," as Mr. Morgan stated it, "that'll be a real comfort to yore fambly, an' will be mighty useful when it comes tuh keepin' foreign snakes from traipsin' 'roun' yo' premises." Several of Mr. Morgan's famous bloodhounds were with him and the boys learned, with astonishment, that the dreaded man-trackers were rather small, measly-looking creatures, not large enough or powerful enough to make a good fight against a bull-terrier, and answering in no description the stories or the pictures which pass current in all literature.

"Real bloodhounds," explained Mr. Morgan, grinningly, "has come tuh be nothin' but show dawgs, with long ears that'd git cotched in the brambles in a minnit. Yuh turn a pack of real bloodhounds loose atter a man, an' they'd all sit down on their tails an' yell right helpless. Real, genuwine, man-cotchin' dawgs is a wuss mixture than Injun an' nigger—but they can foller, an' they can find."

"They don't look," ventured Solano, "as if they would tear a man to pieces when they caught him."

Mr. Morgan and the sheriff hawhawed long and loud.

"No, son, they don't look that way, and they ain't," gurgled the delighted Mr. Morgan. "What's more, there never was no man-eatin' dawgs used ter chase nobody, not even niggers. In the old slavery days, when a nigger run away, the thing to do was tuh catch him, but not tuh kill him. Kill a $1,000 nigger? Son, that would be plumb idiotic, wouldn't it? The hounds was simply used tuh foller him, locate him, an' make a racket till the hunters could come up an' get the man."

"In Cuba," put in Solano, "the Spaniards used real bloodhounds, and fierce ones too, to run down and kill the Indians."

"Well," assented Mr. Morgan, "that would be plumb diffrunt. An Injun is a diffrunt beast from a nigger. Your nigger was mighty valuable—you had to look out fer his hide. Your Injun was mighty dangerous, an' better dead than livin'. See the diffrunce, sonny? Tell me, whar did you pick up that pepper trick?"

"Cuban scheme," explained Solano. "In the Ten Years' war, my father and his friends threw the Spaniards off the trail a dozen times that way."

"Great idee," quoth Mr. Morgan, "I don't bear you boys the least ill-will fer it—but somebody's got tuh make good fer them dawgs, an' I reckon it'll have tuh be the German."

"AN' HE'S 'BOUT RODE A HAWSS TO DEATH TO FETCH YOU GENNER."

The travelers were accustomed to receiving notes by now and they were hardly surprised when Brockett, as the train moved out, received a small white envelope from the hand of the friendly sheriff.

"Came by mail this afternoon," cried the sheriff as the station receded into distance. "Note to me with it. Note said to give it to you as the train started. Good-bye, boys, and good luck go with you!"

And the note bore, in the same mysterious code, simply these directions:

"3BH Fin W W WP Pos PO TC E 2BH PB PO TC TC BA TC Fin TO SB TC W TO W TC Fin AB PO SH."

"Hurry along and look out for trouble," Brockett translated. "I'd risk something that there's plenty of that article still ahead of us."

CHAPTER XXIV.

There isn't much that can be said about certain stretches along the Rio Grande, except that they are undoubtedly those portions of Texas which made a great general declare that if he had that state and the infernal regions at his disposal he'd live in hell and rent out Texas. Mesquite and prickly brush; jungles bisected here and there with thorny trails; habitations almost as scattered and as seldom visible as in the days when the Comanche and the Lipan rode abroad in the land—that is the Rio Grande border. It is an ideal country for smugglers, cattle-thieves and revolutionists, just as it was once the happy hunting ground of the most pernicious red men.

Still, it doesn't much matter what the section of the land may be, or what the scenery may amount to. If it is in these United States—and there is a patch of fairly level ground discernable—there will be a ball game in progress any pleasant afternoon, and the crack of the bat will rouse the echoes where once the Indian war-whoop scared the birds. Hence it can hardly be considered startling or even remarkable to find good games in full blast upon the Rio Grande—games which may not be played with big league skill, but which are filled with liveliness and pepper, loud outcries and troubles for the umpire.

The British Navy and the Coast.

Sir Richard McBride has lost no opportunity of supporting the proposition that Canada ought to participate in naval defence of the Empire. He was one of the strongest advocates of this course before the Conservative party took it up at Ottawa, and has persistently given that proposition the benefit of his influence. The Premier insists that the Pacifc Coast of Canada ought to be protected with an effective squadron, and he does not expect the people of Great Britain to pay for this service while Canada gets the benefit of it. At present the strategic policy of the admiralty calls for a concentration of the navy in or near European waters. The reason for this is that a European Power whose ships are not scattered is the one which Britain considers most formidable at sea. This is a recent phase and it may pass. An Asiatic power may be a menace of the future, in which case there would be a new distribution of British ships. In any case, the ships of the Empire make the defence of the Empire, and Canada may expect that all British shores will be protected as well as the British Empire is able to do it. But as the British Empire, which is to be proteced, is not confined to the Brtish Islands, so that navy which is to do the work should not be a charge on the British Islands alone.

CEDAR COTTAGE

Westminster Road Work.

SOUTH VANCOUVER, Oct. 26—The contracts for paving Westminster road will not be awarded till the return of Reeve Kerr and Councillor Third from Edmonton next week, according to a statement made by acting-Reeve Elliot today. Councillor Elliot said that as far as he could tell at present there was no reason for calling a special meeting of the council for a week.

As far as the acting-reeve knew the exact figures of the tenders opened by the council in committee last week were not known. The contractors themselves could compare figures if they wanted to or estimate at some of them when the amount of a few of the cheques were read out, but the results arrived at could not be anything more than mere guesswork.

BODY MAY BE THAT OF GEORGE SAUNDERS

Man Found Dead at Burnaby Believed to be Former City Employee—Date on Revenue Tax Receipt is Clue.

By means of a provincial revenue tax signed by Mr. T. Allardyce, collector for the district of Vancouver City, and dated March 14, it was established this week that the body found in Burnaby on Thursday is that of George Saunders, a man who was formerly in the employ of the city of Vancouver. The receipt was found in the man's pocket and last night Messrs. H. Beasley and Walter Fletcher, friends of Saunders, called at the local police station and said that when last seen Saunders had a tax receipt of the above date.

The condition of the body indicated that the man had been dead about three months. Beasley last night said that Saunders had been missing from the city about twelve weeks. He had been working at the Coquitlam dam for a few weeks before his disappearance, and when last seen said he intended going to that place to draw his wages. He seemed ill and depressed at the time.

The municipal police of Burnaby yesterday morning found portion of a pair of braces hanging to the tree under which the body was found on Douglas road. Yesterday afternoon they stated that there were other evidences of the man having hanged himself. They did not believe an inquest would be held.

Last night the body was removed to an undertaking establishment at New Westminster, and to that city Saunders' friends went to view the body.

DRY FARMING CONGRESS ENDS.

Greatest Gathering of Agricultural Authorities, Both Scientific and Practical, Ever Held Passes Into History.

Lethbridge, Alta., Oct. 24.—With a total of 2,594 delegates in attendance, representing every phase and grade of agriculture, from the humble Raymond farmer, who could grow the world's best wheat with ordinary implements, to a coterie of the greatest agrarian authorities of the world today, the 1912 assemblage of the International Dry Farming Congress tonight closed its seventh annual session. The far-reaching results of the just closed convention are practically impossible to summarize. Each of the 2,594 delegates present was the fully accredited representative of some national, provincial, state or district agricultural body, and the deliberations of the congress will be borne into every part of their respective home places.

John T. Burns, speaking to the Western Associated Press, declared that it was the greatest gathering of agricultural authorities, both scientific and practical, he had ever known. Representatives of the Dominion Government, four Western provinces, the United States Government, numerous individual state representatives, delegates from Great Britain, Australia, India, South Africa, China, Russia, Palestine and numerous other foreign countries were present, each of whom was a direct government official, charged with the gathering of agricultural data for his home government. Each of these also brought information about farm conditions in his own country, and the wide interchange of ideas thus brought about was invaluable. Tonight the congress adjourned to meet again in 1913 in the State of Oklahoma, U. S. A., which delegation today secured the convention in preference to Regina and Salt Lake City.

PELICAN SHOT ON COAST.

Specimen of Bird Which is Rarely Fund in These Waters Shot By Fishermen.

Prince Rupert, Oct. 21.—On exhibition in the big window at P. Burns' market on Third avenue is a stuffed pelican, the property of Mr. W. H. Sherman. In addition to it being a particularly handsome bird, it has the unique record of being the only bird of its species ever killed in British Columbia.

It was shot within 20 miles of Prince Rupert by a fisherman who sold it to Mr. Sherman and he sent it to Vancouver to be stuffed.

The natural habitation of the white and brown pelican is along the coast of Florida, but they breed in the lakes in the Rocky Mountains and are supposed to come as far north even as Canada, although very few specimens have ever been found here.

Spenard's Brother Coming.

Relatives living in Eastern Canada are interesting themselves in the case of Ernest Spenard, the young man who died two weeks ago following an exchange of blows between himself and Harold A. McNaughton. Alexander Spenard, a real estate broker of Winnipeg, is a brother of the deceased. According to a dispatch received he left for Vancouver on Saturday to look after the affairs of his late brother.

Spenard lost his life because an umbrella, admittedly in the hands of McNaughton, came in contact with his head.

The unfortunate man was a son of A. Spenard, of Ottawa, for fifteen years inspector of roofs of the parliament buildings. Ernest was educated at Ottawa College, and spent a season or two in Valdez, Alaska. About a year ago he went to Seattle, where he married the 16-year-old girl who is one of the chief witnesses in the present case.

HEN PHEASANT SHOT.

Fine Imposed on Point Grey Man—Speeders Mulcted in $25 Each.

Kerrisdale, Point Grey, Oct. 25.—Mr. B. Parker of Eburne was yesterday afternoon fined $50 and costs for shooting a hen pheasant in Point Grey and $5 and costs for discharging firearms without a license. Magistrate Proctor, who presided over the session of the police court, also fined the Western Canada Flour Mills Co., J. H. Baird, Victoria, the Vancouver and Victoria Taxicab Co., and E. M. N. Woods $25 and costs, each on speeding charges. M. P. Cotton and Co., were fined $5 and costs on no rear light charges. Fred Blenkinsoff was sentenced to ten days in gaol on a charge of theft of an overcoat from Mr Joseph Wheatcroft.

CITY

$5,575 a Front Foot.

For five lots on the northeast corner of Hastings and Granville streets the Royal Bank of Canada has paid a sum that amounts to $5,575 a front foot, said to be the highest amount ever paid per front foot for Vancouver property. The deal, which has just been consummated, has been made with Mr. Harvey Hadden of London, who sold the property to the Royal Bank for $725,000. It is the intention of the Royal Bank to erect a modern office building at least ten storeys in height on the property, the work of construction to be started in 1914. The main office of the bank will occupy the ground floor. The delay in starting construction is necessitated by the fact that part of the property is now occupied by Henry Birks & Sans, Ltd., who have a lease that does not expire until May, 1914. Mr. C. A. Crosbie, general superintendent of British Columbia for the Royal Bank of Canada, said yesterday that the increased business has made the present quarters, corner of Homer and Hastings, too small.

Y. M. C. A. Secretary Back.

After six years' service in the Orient as an international Y. M. C. A. secretary, Mr. James H. Wallace has returned to Canada for a furlough, but is kept busy visiting the home associations. Mr. Wallace is a graduate in political science of Victoria College, where he was a prominent leader in sport and other activities. During the last two years his work has been amongst the Chinese students in Tokio, who supplied 70 per cent. of the leaders of the recent revolution.

Vital Statistics.

During the month of September the deaths in the city numbered 79, one-quarter being infants under the age of twelve months. Of the adults, heart-failure claimed eight and typhoid fever six, the remainder of the deaths was due to a variety of causes. The mortality list included 47 males and 32 females. Forty-two were Canadians. There were 2691 rats killed during the month. These deaths were due chiefly to the activity of the expert rat catcher.

Another Two Months

and Port Moody will be incorporated as a city. Attorney-General Bowser has given his promise that the granting of a charter to Port Moody will be one of the first items of business dispatched on the assembling of the Legislature.

Have you realized what that means? It means that Port Moody will have the handling of its own municipal funds and will devote this money to Port Moody improvements. Large developments are now taking place at Port Moody and many more are to follow. The Dominion Government wharf is nearly finished. The official announcement of the exact location of the C. P. R. grain elevators is now only a matter of time. Plans for the spanning of the Second Narrows and the construction of a canal between Port Moody and the Pitt River have already been drawn up. Our property, known as is waterfront property, immediately adjacent to the site for the elevators and abutting the Port Moody end of the proposed canal.

We should like you to see our property for yourselves and we cordially invite you to join us tomorrow afternoon on our free excursion to Port Moody, starting at 1:30. If this is not convenient, why not drop into our office and study the official map of Port Moody, prepared under the personal supervision of the incorporation committee?

We have a limited number of choice high level lots for

$175 EACH

Terms, one-fifth cash, balance half yearly over 30 months; or one-tenth cash, balance monthly over 30 months.

An Auto Accident.

Judge Grant in the County Court awarded damages to the amount of $300 to the parents of Joseph Martinich, a lad who was run over by an automobile near Clinton Avenue, June 9. In giving judgment his honor said there was far too much carecless driving of automobiles in Vancouver.

Stop Reckless Driving.

The large number of very serious automobile accidents which have taken place in this city in the past few months has apparently made a deep impression on the members of the executive committee of the Vancouver Automobile Club, and at the next general meeting of that body this matter will be discussed and steps taken to endeavor to stamp out all reckless driving on the streets of Vancouver.

Vancouver Pioneer Dies.

Mrs. Isabella Hosker, one of Vancouver's earliest citizens, died on Sunday morning in her home in the city. She was 75 years of age. She was born in Ontario, and came to Vancouver nineteen years ago. The funeral service will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at her late home, 967 Homer street. Interment will be made in the Mountain View cemetery.

Cheer Roosevelt for 42 Minutes.

New York, Oct. 30.—Showing no physical evidence of the shock of his attempted assassination in Milwaukee, October 14, Col. Theodore Roosevelt faced tonight for an hour and twenty minutes a Progressive political rally, which gave many thousands of his fellow New Yorkers a chance to accord him an uproarious welcome.

For forty-two minutes after his entrance into crowded Madison Square Garden, Colonel Roosevelt stood at the edge of the high perched speaker's platform, unable to make himself heard above the din of cheers, songs and band music.

The immense garden was crowded to its doors, and many persons were turned away. Governor Hiram W. Johnson, Progressive candidate for vice-president, and Mr. Oscar S. Strauss, candidate for governor of New York, preceded Coonel Roosevelt.

PURE WATER ASSOCIATION.

Americans and Canadians Hold Convention in Cleveland—Pollution of Great Lakes.

Cleveland, Oct. 24.—Americans and Canadians attending the convention of the Great Lakes International Pure Water Association found themselves divided on the question of sewage disposal.

Dr. Allan McLaughlin, of the government health service, discussing sewage pollution of the Great Lakes, declared for a guarded and regulated discharge of the refuse into the lakes. His scheme was opposed by the Canadians, who favored a general law in both countries that would provide for discharge of sewage into the lakes. As between purification of the water supply of a city and the purification of the sewage discharging into the source of that supply, Dr. McLaughlin sanctioned water purification, holding that it is the cheaper and more effective. A controversy arose during the discussion of Cleveland's water supply, taken from Lake Erie through an intake four miles off shore.
